Italian Battleship Awarded U. S. In Peace Pact Refused

ALL WAR VESSELS AWARDED AMERICA TO BE SCRAPPED

Move Reported As Part Of Current Efforts To Aid Anti-Red Government

OTHER BIG ALLIED POWERS ARE SILENT ON INTENTIONS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The United States is renouncing an Italian battleship and other war vessels awarded it under the peace treaty as a part of current efforts to aid Italy's non-Communist government.

American officials reported this today after Foreign Minister Sforza disclosed the action without details in the constituent assembly in Rome.

The battleship and other combat craft must be scrapped and cannot be added to the post war Italian navy as its composition is fixed in the peace treaty. Italy, however, may keep any auxiliary vessels such as tugs and tankers which are returned. Also she will be saved the cost of putting the combat ships into operating condition before handing them over—a treaty requirement.

Officials here said they don't know whether the other Allied powers—Britain, France and Russia—will follow the United States' lead.

The renounced vessels are part of a pool of 19 warships and several score minor craft and auxiliaries which under the treaty were "placed at the disposal of" the big four. Included were three battleships, the Giulio Cesare, Italia, and Vittorio Veneto.

The division among the powers, made by an allied naval commission, has not been disclosed. The powers agreed that any of the vessels could be renounced if not desired. It was stipulated that any combat ships returned to Italy must be scrapped, but the auxiliaries might be put back into service.

The naval commission was due to meet in Rome immediately after the treaty went into effect Sept. 15, and

PEIPING-MUKDEN RAIL LINES CUT

Communists Score Sharp Advantages In Opening Phases Of New Campaign

PEIPING, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Communists smashed the all-important Peiping-Mukden Railway at many points and skirmished within 10 miles of Changchun today, gaining sharp advantages in the opening phases of the new campaign for Manchuria.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek flew to Peiping to give personal directions to the defense. Accompanied by his wife and personal guard commander, Lt. Gen. Yu Chi-Shih, he was expected to stay two or three days.

Mukden, south Manchurian metropolis, was cut off from China proper except by air. Mukden dispatches said panicky civilians were bidding astronomical prices for plane tickets to the south.

Press reports quoting government officers conceded that there was no early prospect of restoring train service and that the seaports of Hulutao and Yingkow were virtually immobilized by the close approach of Communists.

The Communist radio said the Peiping-Mukden line was "thoroughly destroyed" for 30 miles in the vicinity of the great wall.

The government's Central News Agency said Communist column, sup-

ROBBER GETS QUICK SERVICE AT BEANERY

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A robber early today poked a slender arm through a rear window of a St. Charles street hamburger stand and, pointing a pistol at the proprietor, Abel Guidry, demanded money in a "clear low voice."

"When he pointed that pistol he didn't have to say it twice," Guidry declared, adding that he could see only the robber's forearm.

The robbery occurred while Guidry was making up the payroll and had the weekly receipts spread on a table.

Russian Trainees Disappear In U. S.

Senator Says Reds Taking Technical Training In American Plants Have Vanished; Search Demanded

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Senator Ferguson (R.-Mich.) said today an unknown number of Russians who have taken technical training in American plants "have disappeared."

He protested the lack of information on them and government officials acknowledged they have no idea how many such Russian trainees still are in this country, or what they are doing.

Ferguson told a reporter:

"An unknown number of Soviet Russian steel technicians, admitted to this country under state department visas, have disappeared."

Both Immigration Commissioner Watson Miller and Assistant Secretary of State John E. Peurifoy wrote the senator they have no records on how many Russians have been admitted for training or are here now.

Miller said he would try to find out. But so long as entry visas remain good, there are no rules or laws requiring the government to keep tab on trainees once they get into the country. They enter as government officials.

"This thing must stop," Ferguson

LUNATICS BACKED DOMINICAN PLOT

Captured General Denies Expedition Had Thought Of Attacking Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Gen. Juan Rodriguez Garcia, who organized the abortive expedition against the Dominican Republic, said today it failed because it was formed by "99 3/4 per cent of lunatics against 1/4 per cent of sane people."

The 60-year-old Rodriguez, said failure could also be attributed to the preparations taking too long. He related his views in an interview at the military hospital, where he is being held prisoner with his son, Horacio, 28, who accompanied him in the expedition.

He denied that the expedition had at any time thought of turning against the Cuban government.

The commander of the so-called "American liberation army" said he had invested all his money in the attempt to overthrow the regime of Dominican President Rafael Trujillo by creating an expeditionary force on Cuban soil to attack the Dominican Republic.

"Naturally," he added, "many Cuban friends and those of other nations also contributed money for the expedition's expenses, but it is not the truth that any government had officially financed the movement." He said the attitude of some high Cuban authorities toward his expedition could be described at best as "tolerant."

The Cuban supreme court is deliberating what action to take against members of the 1,097-man expedition. Magistrate Evelio Tabio said today only top leaders would be held, and that all but 176 were already set free.

Rodriguez said that a few days be-

BREWING INDUSTRY TO ASK REDUCTION IN USE OF GRAIN

450 Beer Makers To Be Asked To Join Program To Provide Europe Food

RECOMMENDATION HAILED AS FOOD APPEAL ANSWER

WASHINGTON, Oct 4.—(AP)—Leaders of the brewing industry indicated today they will "recommend" to the nation's 450 beer makers that they make some reduction in their consumption of grain, in order to provide food for Europe.

They conferred three and one half hours with Charles Luckman, chairman of President Truman's citizens food committee. Afterward, Frank Mason, executive director of the United States Brewers Foundation, told reporters he believed the recommendation would be the industry's answer to the presidential appeal for a voluntary aid-to-Europe food conservation effort.

Mason said the industry representatives, who included James A. Berghoff of Fort Wayne, Ind., as spokesman for the small brewers committee, could not go beyond a "recommendation" for fear of running afoul of the anti-trust laws. Any agreement to restrict production, he noted, might tend to increase prices and subject the brewers to anti-trust action.

"Something definite" from the brewers is expected later, said Luckman.

But Secretary of Agriculture Anderson advised reporters not to expect any curtailment as great as the 50 per cent cut in use of corn, barley and rye announced by the Distilled Spirits Institute last night.

The whiskey distillers' organization, representing more than half the industry, agreed to halt the use of

RABBI OUT ON BOND IN AIR 'BOMB' PLOT

PARIS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Rabbi Baruch Korff, 33, who has been held in jail since Sept. 7, by French authorities in connection with a plan to "bomb" London with propaganda leaflets, was released under bond of 400,000 Francs ($3,333) today.

The New York Rabbi, co-chairman of the American Political Action committee for Palestine, faces trial on charges of "illegal possession of explosive and war weapons," and "possession of foreign-inspired tracts prejudicial to the (French) national interest." No date has been fixed.

5,600 AMERICAN DEAD SAIL FOR HOME 'ON LAST VOYAGE'

ANTWERP, Belgium, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Thousands of Belgians joined with high American officials today in reverent tribute to 5,600 American soldier dead who sailed for home aboard the U. S. army transport Joseph V. Connolly.

The crowds massed in the 400-year-old Grand Plaza of this ancient city to honor the first homing contingent of soldier dead from the last war whose return was requested by their families. he transport is scheduled to arrive in New York harbor about Oct. 25.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, stood before a coffin of one of the soldiers anonymously chosen and declared "We have not yet found the lasting peace for which these men died in their youth."

He said "we must determine that free men everywhere should stand together in solid front to ensure a world in which there is a lasting peace, in which the dignity of the individual is recognized and maintained. Only then will we have fulfilled our debt to these men."

Robert Grillon, president of the Belgian senate and official representative of his government, said farewell to "those who sacrificed themselves for the triumph of liberty" and pledged that his country would care for the graves of those who remain "as if their tombs were our children's."

Brig. Gen. Howard L. Peckham of the American graves registration command introduced the speakers.

ROME ASSEMBLY REJECTS MOTION TO OUST PREMIER

Council Cheers News Of U. S. Renouncing Its Share Of Italian Fleet

DE GASPERI GOVERNMENT FACES TWO MORE TESTS

ROME, Sunday, Oct. 5.—(AP)—The Italian constituent assembly early today rejected by 93 votes the first of three Leftist motions of no confidence in Premier Alicide de Gasperi's Christian Democratic government.

The vote—on a motion presented by the pro-Communist Socialist party led by former foreign minister Peitro Nenni—was 178 for and 271 against.

Before the voting started the present Foreign Minister, Garlo Sforza, brought the assembly to its feet cheering by announcing that the United States had renounced its share of the Italian fleet.

Even the Communists reluctantly joined in the cheering. The prospective distribution of the fleet has been one of the bitterest pills of the peace treaty for Italians.

(American officials in Washington said the United States is renouncing title to an Italian battleship and other war vessels awarded under the Italian peace treaty. The Italians must scrap the warships which the U. S. renounces, although they can keep and use auxiliaries such as tugs and tankers.)

Bitterly Pietro Nenni, Left-Wing Socialist who himself was foreign minister up to last January, upbraided Sforza, saying it was "very curious that Sforza makes this announcement today appealing to our patriotic sentiments, when the United States and Great Britain informed us of this four or five months ago."

Palmiro Togliatto, Communist chief, attacked the United States as a "warmongering nation" ,and was interrupted by a Christian Democrat who shouted, "you have rubles."

A dozen Communsts rushed forward

VALLEY FAIR'S OPENING NEAR

Big Exhibition Will Be Thrown Open On Tuesday

Preliminary preparations for the opening of the Ouachita Valley Fair to the public on Tuesday, are heading toward a finish with the fair buildings in readiness for the influx of exhibitors with their entries scheduled for Monday.

Radio station KNOE has secured a booth and a sound truck will be set up on the grounds on the opening day for broadcasts at daily intervals for the duration of the fair.

In the main exhibition building, the spotlight will be held by booths devoted to 4-H Club, Home Demonstration club and Future Farmer of America exhibitions. Themes of the booths which will demonstrate various phases of the organizations' work and will be of an instructive nature are: "How Do You Get Your Vitamins?" "Stretch Your Household Dollars By Using Barnyard Linen", "Variety Is the Spice Of The Lunch Box", "A Model Orchard For Average Farm Family", "Home Industry Develops Beauty, Pleasure, Profit", "Do You Want To Give Your Child A Precious Gift", "Accurate Guess Work Takes Guess Work Out Of Baking", "Live At Home", "Be Penny Wise", "Diversified Farming Pays", "Hybrids Are Far Superior To Natural Types", "To

CHURCHILL DEMANDS ELECTION IN BRITAIN

BRIGHTON, England, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Winston Churchill today demanded an early national election which he said would destroy the labor government.

Addressing a conservative party convention, the war-time Prime Minister delivered a sharp attack on the labor government, declaring "the machinery for the totalitarian grip on British society is being built up and perfected."

He advised the conservatives to be ready for an election contest "at any time this year or next," adding that Prime Minister Attlee "has no moral right to deny the electorate a free expression of their will at an early date."

Community Chest Sets $49,000 Goal

Twin Cities To Open 'Nine-In-One' Campaign For Funds Monday; Support Of 'Red Feather' Services Urged

The Twin City Community Chest will hold its nine-in-one campaign from October 6 through October 18, it was announced yesterday by J. S. Cage, general chairman. This year's goal is $49,000.

Monroe and West Monroe will be joining the rest of America in holding the annual Community Chest campaign for the support of Red Feather services during the fall, Mr. Cage pointed out. Nearly one thousand other similar campaigns will be held in as many cities during the next month or six weeks. Together they raise more than $170,000,000.

In Monroe and West Monroe the Community Chest campaign is held on behalf of nine Red Feather Services. These are: Boy Scouts of America, Colored Community Welfare, Ouachita Parish Girl Scouts, Monroe Maternity Clinic, Red Shield Boys' Club, Salvation Army, Y. W. C. A.,

Jes' Ramblin'

Jes' Ramblin' was importuned yesterday to settle an argument as to the age of the world's famous Dionne quintuplets. One person was sure they were 10 years of age and another 15. A story in the press gives the correct answer. The Dionne girls are now 13 and they are in the eighth grade in their own private school in Callendar, Ont. Ten carefully selected classmates will also attend the school so that for the first time in their lives they can mix with other boys and girls. Their classmates were "hand picked" and were forced to possess a satisfactory family background. One New England girl was expected to enroll but her name was kept secret. The ages of the classmates ranges from 11 to 14 years. Hope this settles the local argument.

E. C. Sholars, Wiley Mosely and Oscar Womack, all connected with the Monroe Municipal Bus lines, took their vacations last week and started to go gunning for squirrels. They carefully inspected the Boeuf river area for four days and got exactly a dozen squirrels in four days hunting. They declared that there were no acorns and that the drouth has starved out many squirrels so that hunting is off right now. They made no allowance for poor marksmanship.

Those who see the fireworks display put on by professionals at Neville stadium Tuesday night will have a real treat. CLERGYMEN BELIEVE WORLD WAR ON WAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—One of a group of American clergymen just back from a European inspection trip said today a "third world war" may be in the making.

It was also reported that chaos in Germany has ditched all sex morality with resultant evil effect on young American occupation soldiers.

The clergymen generally deplored the moral temptations to which immature American troops are exposed in Europe.

Dr. Beers said that "the extent of the use of alcohol as liquor is appalling" and that the rate of venereal disease "is fraught with evil consequences for the future of America."

Dr. Ockenga, deploring the "moral debacle of the German people," said that in order to get food, clothing and shelter "the German will sell his soul." He asserted:

"Sex morality does not exist. For a few candy bars, a can of coffee or some cigarettes, most women are ready to sell their bodies. Soldiers, white and colored, have whom they please. In Giessen alone there are 253 colored babies of white mothers. 'Shacking up' is general."

MARSHALL PLAN ASSURANCE GIVEN

European Nations Told To Stop 'Kidding Themselves,' Work Hard

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 4.—(AP)—European nations were advised today by an American Congressman to work as hard as they could and stop "kidding themselves" that financial assistance from the United States under the Marshall proposal was a sure thing.

Completing a 25-day fact-finding tour of Britain and the continent, Rep. Francis Case (R-SD) told newsmen that Secretary of State Marshall never had been authorized by Congress to make any offer of American financial aid to Europe. He added:

"There is no use in them kidding themselves on this matter. * * * Tthese countries which are looking for aid would be well advised if they were to do all they could for themselves and not count too much on too much aid from elsewhere."

EX-WIFE OF HOTEL MAGNATE ROBBED OF $750,000 JEWELS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A bandit who threatened to shoot Mrs. Sari Gabor Hilton and her infant daughter today robbed the beautiful red-haired former "Miss Hungary," divorced wife of Hotel Magnate Conrad Hilton, of nearly three-quarters of a million dollars worth of jewels.

The holdup man, who forced his way into Mrs. Hilton's penthouse apartment at 8 East 83rd street, just off Fifth avenue, made off with 25 pieces of jewelry in what police said was one of the greatest jewel thefts in New York history.

Mrs. Hilton, who wore a dazzling display of diamond-studded jewels on a round of exclusive night spots last night, lost a diamond necklace, two diamond bracelets, a diamond engagement ring and a diamond wedding ring among the stolen jewels.

The bandit tied Mrs. Hilton, sister of Hungarian Actress Eva Gabor, to a love seat and also trussed up her maid, Mrs. Lulu Barth, before fleeing.

Chief of Detectives George P. Mitchell who said the jewels were valued at between $600,000 and $700,000, said Mrs. Hilton was in her bedroom with her six-month-old daughter, Constance, when the robber forced his way into the apartment.

Police gave this story of the robbery:

As the maid answered the doorbell, a tall, grey-suited man told her "I'm here to fix the wiring."

When Mrs. Barth told the man "there's no wiring to be fixed," he drew a gun, pushed his way into the

Excuse Jury Until Today

Foreman Informs Court Vote Stands At 11 To 1 After Debating For 26 Hours On Fate Of Heiress, Fiance

SANTA ANA, Calif., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The jury trying Louise Overell and George (Bud) Gollum for the murder of her parents advised Judge Kenneth Morrison tonight that it stood numerically 11 to 1, without disclosing whether the vote was for conviction or acquittal.

Jay Porter, Orange, Calif., foreman of the jury, informed the court he believed the jury could reach a verdict.

The jury was summoned to the courtroom at 6:30 p. m. (PST) (8:30 p. m. CST) by Judge Morrison after it had been deliberating for 26 hours.

Porter said the vote was 11 to 1.

Judge Morrison then excused the jury until 9:30 a. m. (PST) (11:30 p. m. CST) Sunday when it will resume deliberations.

The jury then retired to the hotel where it was locked up for the night.

Gollum grinned all over his large face when the jury made its announcement and told newsmen:

"It looks like an acquittal."

Louise, 18 year old heiress, was emotionally upset and turned away when newsmen attempted to interview her.

Defense Counsel Otto Jacobs expressed highest optimism over the standing of the jury and said he was confident both defendants would be acquitted when the jury reconvenes tomorrow.

The jury poll marked a climax in the trial of the college sweethearts in the yacht explosion deaths of her parents, Financier and Mrs. Walter E. Overell. The 19-week murder trial

GERMAN ATOMIC SCIENTIST DIES

Originator Of Quantum Theory On Atom Splitting Succumbs In Berlin

BERLIN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Max Planck, 89, originator of the quantum theory which provided one of the basic propositions underlying the splitting of the atom, died last night, Goettingen university clinic announced today.

A Nobel prize winner in 1918 and an honored member of learned societies on both sides of the Atlantic, the German physicist had ranked with Albert Einstein as one of the world's foremost scientists.

The quantum theory which he gave to the world in 1900 was evolved from researches into the atomic structure of radiaton. It modified Newton's theory of light which had been held unassailable for 250 years and produced revolutionary changes in physics and chemistry.

In non-technical language, the quantum theory held that each wavelength of light and of all other forms of radiation, such as heat, radio, x-

4-POWER CONFERENCE POSTPONEMENT SEEN

LONDON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—An authoritative source reported tonight Russia had agreed to postponement of the Four-Power Foreign Ministers conference until Nov. 25.

U. S. TO EXPLORE FRENCH PROPOSAL ON BALKAN CRISIS

Compromise Seeks To Refrain From Placing Blame On Three Red Satellites

FIRST AMERICAN INTEREST IN CONCILIATORY PLANS

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The United States rested its case in the controversal Balkans question today by telling the United Nations it would "explore" a French proposal of conciliation in the hotly-debated Balkan problem.

Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, made the closing American statement on this case before the 57-nation general assembly political committee. He declared that the U. S. would "explore" the French compromise which seeks to refrain from placing blame on Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria.

The American government has accused the three Soviet satellite nations of threatening the political integrity of Greece and has recommended that a special Balkan commission be established to settle the problem.

Johnson told the committee that the U. S. is interested in the proposal made yesterday by Premier Paul-Henri Spaak, of Belgium, who asked Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria whether they would accept such a commission provided that the U. N.

ACTION AWAITED IN BUS CRISIS

Miss. Guardsmen Report No New Developments; Await Governor's Orders

JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Action to place armed national guardsmen on strike-defying buses in Mississippi remained in status quo today as trip schedules were completed a second day without violence.

The national guard headquarters reported no new developments in its preparations ordered by the governor yesterday. These consisted of selecting the most suitable men for guard duty, but did not constitute an "alert" of the troops.

Governor Fielding L. Wright told a reporter last night that he had "not ordered out the guard," and that he "would not do so until a complete study of the situation is made."

The governor was enroute this afternoon from his home in Rolling Fork to Jackson, and could not be reached for comment.

2 PISTOL SHOTS HIT BUS NEAR COUSHATTA

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Two pistol shots were fired at a Southern Trailways bus en route from Shreveport to Alexandria 10 miles north of Coushatta this afternoon, only three miles from the point on highway 71 where another Alexandria-bound bus was fired upon less than a month ago.

Sheriff Ray Adcock of Red River parish said tonight that two pistol bullets struck the bus, which was carrying 12 passengers, but that no one was injured.

Almost simultaneously another act of violence occurred in Coushatta when a man identified as "Duke" Morgan of Shreveport struck the driver of the northbound Trailways bus while it was parked at the Coushatta station discharging passengers.

Morgan, who told officers he was a Union steel worker, was arrested on battery charges by Coushatta Marshal Dave Thomas. He was released on $50 bond. The driver of the bus was identified only as Kenneth Beck, of Alexandria.

WASHINGTON-LEE SEEKING FUNDS

F. F. Millsaps And J. D. Sparks Named Locally To Solicit

Fred F. Millsaps, president of the Ouachita National Bank in Monroe, and James D. Sparks, local attorney, have recently been appointed by Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., as chairman and co-chairman for Monroe and vicinity of a nation-wide fund campaign drive to raise $3,000,000 for endowment purposes, John W. Davis, former ambassador to Great Britain, is national chairman of the committee, which includes Arthur W. McCain, president of Chase National Bank, New York City; C. T. Chenery, chairman of the board of directors of Southern Natural Gas Company, and many other prominent alumni.

The university is one of the oldest in the United States, having been established in 1749, and the drive is built around the bicentennial celebration of its founding, which will take place in 1949. While the national committee has set this date for the formal termination of the drive, it is expected that the desired goal will be obtained prior to this date. The campaign officially opens this month, and over a half million dollars have been received as pre-campaign gifts.

In connection with his appointment, Mr. Millsaps announced that the university's first large endowment was received from George Washington in 1796. He gave the university $50,000 in stock in a canal company, and the principal of this endowment fund is today still intact. It was made by General Washington largely because of the democratic tradition and background of the institution. As a result of the income from this gift, many young Americans were enabled to receive scholarships and thereby obtain an education, which would have otherwise been denied them. "Washington and Lee University is a small, nonsectarian school, and its only source of income is from tuition fees and endowment funds."

The chairman and co-chairman announced, "It receives no state or federal aid. Faced with rising costs and the small income from the invested dollar, it must either raise its tuition fees or increase its endowment.

"The whole background of this school has been built around the finest traditions of the South," they continued. "We believe this is nowhere better exemplified than by the example of General Robert E. Lee, who, in the aftermath of the Civil War turned down many lucrative offers from business interests in the North to spend the last five years of his life as the president of the university.

"Over one-third of all alumni served in uniform in World War II, and of this number 132 were killed. Two were from Louisiana. One of the main goals of this drive is to establish a memorial scholarship for each alumni who lost his life in the war, so that some worthy boy, who has every qualification but the necessary funds, can obtain an education. With the present world conflict in ideology between communism and democracy, we can think of no finer investment than in one of these scholarships."

There are 43 alumni in Monroe and adjoining parishes. Mr. Millsaps announced that an alumni dinner would be held sometime this month for the purpose of organizing the drive.

Other chairmen in Louisiana are Mr. William B. Wisdom, New Orleans, Colonel John H. Tucker, Jr., Shreveport, and Mr. Lamar Polk, Alexandria.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO OBSERVE WEEK

The present week has been set aside as "National Business Women's Week" in which the Monroe Business and Professional Women's Club will participate.

This morning at 9:30 o'clock members here will have breakfast at the La Casa and will then attend the First Presbyterian Church where the rector, Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway, will deliver a message suited to them.

On Wednesday, the members will hold the annual banquet on Hotel Frances terrace. At this time the local club will observe its 25th anniversary.

BETTER CITIZENS' COUNCIL TO MEET

The Better Citizens' Council, recently organized here by members of a large number of local unions, both affiliated and unaffiliated with the American Federation of Labor, and others who are interested in the purposes of the group, is holding weekly meetings in the courtroom of the City Hall. The next session is slated for Tuesday night.

The principal aim of the council, a spokesman said Saturday, is to seek the registration of all members of unions and their friends in northeast Louisiana in order that they may cast their ballots in the forthcoming elections.

Tuesday's meeting will begin at 7:30. The council extends a cordial invitation to all who subscribe to its purposes to attend and affiliate.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

CONFERENCE OF YOUTHS SLATED

Young Minister, War Veteran, Of Nashville, To Lead Meetings

The Monroe district will have the first of six state-wide conferences of the Methodist Church, devoted to youth. They will be led by Rev. Richard Whitworth, of Nashville, Tenn., a young World War veteran and member of the Tennessee conference. The meetings to be held in Monroe will be conducted at Gordon Avenue Methodist Church Monday at 7 p.m. and also on Tuesday. All young people of the entire Monroe area are cordially invited.

There will be a social hour and sandwiches will be served. The other meetings held by Rev. Whitworth in the state will be as follows: Alexandria district, October 8, 9; Ruston district, October 10, 12; Shreveport district, October 13, 14; Lake Charles district, October 15, 16; New Orleans district, October 17, 18; Baton Rouge district, October 19, 20.

Rev. Whitworth was one of a group recently trained for that purpose by the general board of education, Nashville, Tenn., in cooperation with the Crusade for Christ. His work in the conference will consist of training subdistrict officers, local church leaders and fellowship teams for carrying forward young adult work in their particular units. He will also lend assistance in any other phase of young adult work that may be needed.

A former president of the Tennessee Conference Young Adult Fellowship, Rev. Whitworth got such a thrill out of helping his officers get young adult work started in rural churches that he decided to enter ministry. He has attended Peabody College and Scarritt College for Christian Workers, both located in Nashville.

CUB PACK NO. 31 ROUNDUP WINNER

Although only scattered reports are yet available on the outcome of the Ouachita Valley Council's second annual Boy Scout and Cub Scout roundup, Scout Executive Floyd D. Huddleston announced today that Cub Pack No. 31, sponsored by Georgia Tucker Parent-Teacher Association was the first to qualify as a "roundup winner."

R. M. Troy is the cubmaster of pack 31. The Cub Pack qualified as a "roundup winner" by bringing in 15 new members.

"Forty-niners," on their way to California's gold fields, had to pay 12 1/2 cents each for horseshoe nails.

Mackenzie's Column

By DeWitt Mackenzie
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The British conservative party's sensational concession to socialism, in pledging to retain some form of nationalized industry if returned to power, means that England's daring experiment with this political creed has passed beyond the trial stage and that it has become an important part of the country's life.

Only 3 out of 3,000 delegates attending the annual meeting of the conservatives voted against a resolution which pledged the party to retain nationalization of coal mines and the bank of England, and to keep some sort of public ownership of railroads. This promise challenged by conservative opponents as "milk and water socialism") would of course be implemented if and when the public ousted the socialists and gave the "tories" another chance. The latter are wistfully hopeful, if not exuberantly optimistic.

But striking as is this moderate swing to the left by the conservatives, it's only part of an intensely interesting development. The Conservative Daily Telegraph said the other day that the socialist government had been forced by the economic crisis to drop plans for further nationalization of industry for at least a year. The paper added that there might not be any more nationalization until the socialists had a fresh mandate from the country. This report must be coupled with the fact that the socialist party platform calls for nationalization of only twenty percent of industry in any event.

Thus we find the conservative move to the left apparently being accompanied by a corresponding socialist concession to the right. In short, the indications are that England is maneuvering into a middle-of-the-road position politically—a compromise which would seem to suit present-day ideas and ideals of Britons exceedingly well.

This lessening of the gap between the great political parties of course isn't an over-night development. The two world wars, in both of which England had to battle for her life, have been an enormous leveling-off force, not only politically but socially.

The political changes have been accompanied by a social metamorphosis in which the classes have been drawn closer together. The aristocracy of money has few notable representatives left, and they are on their way out by the taxation route. The aristocracy of birth also has been sweeping changes, though it would be foolish to imagine that class barriers have been eliminated, or anything like it.

A generation ago the controversial idea prevailed that gentlemen were born and not made. The son of nobility was ipso facto a gentleman, no matter how much of a ruffian he might be, whereas the son of a tradesman never could become a gentleman under any circumstances. The old school tie played a big part in life—so much so that a product of one of the great public schools (America calls them private) almost invariably was given preference over the graduate of an ordinary school, no matter what the relative capabilities might be.

However, this is a new era. Just as England appears to be taking a middle-of-the-road course politically, so we see a similar—though naturally much slower—tendency socially.

The School Survey

The long-awaited report of the survey of our city and parish school systems, conducted by the State Department of Education some months ago, has been received and there's little in it that those who have been interested in advancement of our educational facilities didn't already know.

Undoubtedly reorganization of the systems, as recommended in the report, is a "must" if we are to keep abreast of the times in a field which moulds the lives of our future citizens. Perhaps the general public doesn't know it, but certain credits from our local schools will not be accepted by some institutions of higher learning. And most certainly a junior-senior high school should be established in West Monroe.

But as to DEFINITE recommendation concerning consolidation of the city and parish systems, there just isn't any. Presumably the men who conducted the survey are experts in their line. They should have some concrete plan for accomplishing what has been the subject of much controversy for a number of years. They state, in their report, that there are "glaring contrasts between conditions in city schools and widespread inadequacies in the parish system," and then point out three methods by which needed improvements in school organization plants could be achieved. These are:

1. Merging of the two systems into one.
2. Independent operation of the two school systems.
3. Cooperative planning and activity between the two systems.

That, of course, is no recommendation at all. The decision naturally is left to the respective parish and city boards, and if past procedure is followed, No. 2 would be adopted, which would leave us just where we are now.

The survey did go so far as to state that continued operation of the two systems as they presently function will constitute a serious detriment to educational advancement in both the city and parish, but it made no comment on which of the three proposals it considers most practical and efficient, yet one of its proposals is that the two systems operate independently.

We believe that a vast majority of our citizens agree that the two systems should not be permitted to operate as they are presently constituted. Thus we have two alternatives: Merge the two, or get together on cooperative planning and activity.

The report recommended an overall expenditure of $5,000,000 for expansion and improvement of the parish system. This includes cost of new buildings, such as the West Monroe high school, and consolidation and enlargement of other schools. This money, of course, is not immediately available and whether the parish system can undertake such a program is a debatable point. However, at its meeting Friday, the parish school board voted to appoint a special citizens' committee to study the report and implement its recommendations.

It is hoped that this committee will not confine itself to physical improvements of the parish system alone. We believe that the paramount issue and one that is most pressing at this time is to plan to eliminate the serious hinderance to our educational program which has developed because of the completely independent operation of our two school systems.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Without anticipating the attention she would arouse, Mrs. Arly Marble of Detroit sat down and wrote a letter to the editor of a local paper. She felt impelled to speak her mind about the high cost of living.

Explaining she had a husband and four daughters to feed and clothe and that her husband was a white-collar worker with a modest salary, Mrs. Marble decried all the excitement about the cost of food and other items such as clothing. She said she dressed the entire family on a yearly outlay of $160, and that total living costs for the family of six were never more than $75 a month.

Ink was hardly dry on the paper which printed the story before Mrs. Marble was subjected to a barrage of telephone calls. Most of them were critical.

She was accused of being a penny-pincher and with failing to give her family sufficient nourishing food, while union leaders declared she was trying to defeat their demands for higher wages based on increased living costs. A few were interested in obtaining details of her budget.

Mrs. Marble stood her ground and sent the newspaper complete grocery lists and menus for every day in the week. She explained how she made clothing for the girls and shirts for her husband from materials purchased as remnants. Members of the Marble family, as the menus show, eat well and regularly, although there was no boiled ham at $1.70 a pound on the grocery list.

High food costs have no terror for Mrs. Marble, who offsets high prices by practicing ingenuity and industry.

WEAK IN THE AIR

General H. H. Arnold's charge that the U. S. Air Forces are so weak they could barely defend isolated sections of the American frontier, to say nothing of Alaska, raises the question of why this is so when the federal government is spending $37,000,000,000 a year.

Declaring any surprise attack on the United States will come by air, General Arnold says bluntly that the nation is in no position to meet such a crisis. This is incomprehensible, in view of the huge sums of money the administration is collecting in taxes and distributing to the four winds in the form of government expenditures.

Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., director of public information for the Army Air Force, declares the United States broke up the largest air force in history before the last war had actually ended, and long before peace negotiations had begun.

Spurred by the Russian threat, and with the memory of Pearl Harbor fresh in the national mind, this situation will not be permitted to continue indefinitely. But the need is not for production of more planes of present types, but development of new and more powerful craft, to meet advancements in other nations known to be under way.

So long as another war is a possibility this nation will be forced to meet the challenge. If the nation is as unprepared as the generals insist it is, Congress should call the administration to account. Certainly $37,000,000,000 a year should be sufficient to pay for preparedness.

Skiing was a popular sport 4,000 years ago and would be popular today in many parts of the country.

TIME magazine reported the other day that Rita Hayworth, on her return from Europe, spoke kind and charitable words about her estranged spouse, Orson Welles. What seemed to impress the magazine's editors most was her statement that "Orson is really just like anyone else." Kind? Well, I'm afraid that Time's editors are being naive. A man with Orson's gigantic ego is quite apt to regard Rita's statement as the prime insult.

With due pomp and ceremony, Jerry Colonna last week became the Honorary President of Pasadena City College. It was a funny gag, no doubt, and the students were probably amused by the investment of "Professor" Colonna, clad in cap and gown. But I can't help thinking that where education is concerned, it might be more fitting to give young Americans some idea of its dignity and importance, instead of cooking up gags for their entertainment.

I was amazed by Hedy Lamarr's public statement, following the reconciliation of her recent boyfriend, Mark Stevens, and his wife. Unless she was misquoted, it seems that the fair Hedy is actually trying to take credit or bringing the estranged couple back together. She said: "I told Mark I thought he and Mrs. Stevens should try to make a go of their marriage. I talked with Mrs. Stevens on the phone and she seems like a nice person." Well, that was good advice, no doubt about that—but I wonder why Hedy didn't try to sell it several weeks ago, before her romance with Mark made headlines that must have caused Mrs. Stevens many a heartache.

According to one of my rival columnists, it is Van Johnson's "friendship and admiration" for Spencer Tracy that induced him to humble himself by accepting a supporting role in "State Of The Union," in which Spencer and Claudette Colbert will play the leads. Inherent in that report is one of the chief troubles with Hollywood movies. It implies that anyone, great actor or not, who happens to have star rating, is "humbled" by accepting a secondary role. What bosh! Van Johnson, for all his stardom and his bobby-sox admirers, is still a babe in the woods as a dramatic actor. Spencer Tracy and Claudette Colbert happen to be two of the finest artists in the business. I think Van would be displaying a healthier attitude if instead of attributing his second fiddler's role to friendship, he were to attribute it to a real desire to learn.

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The study of U. S. resources which President Truman asked Interior Secretary J. A. Krug to make three months ago is now nearing completion. This is the first of three investigations to see how much aid the U. S. can furnish Europe without going broke.

First draft of the Krug report is a typewritten document about three inches thick. When finally approved by all government agencies that have had a hand in its preparation, the report goes to the president. It's up to him to decide whether the report will be made public. It should be.

There has been a tremendous amount of conflicting information put out about America's dwindling resources and its inability to produce more. Value of the Krug report is that it will be a complete postwar appraisal of U. S. surpluses and shortages. As such, it should have as much bearing on future domestic policies as on the European aid program.

Main thing the Krug report may point up is the need for greater U. S. imports, particularly of the raw materials it lacks. U. S. imports have not come close to balancing exports since '36 and '37. Today, exports are running at the rate of $17.1 billion while imports are $5.7 billion—a 3-to-1 ratio. Last year it was 2-to-1. And, while the U. S. is now exporting about eight per cent of its gross national product of $225 billion, it imports only three per cent of that.

Shortage Of World Goods, Not U. S. Dollars

To the rest of the world this unbalance of trade is looked upon as a shortage of dollars with which to buy American products. Properly viewed, it is not a shortage of dollars but a shortage of goods, which the U. S. needs to buy from the rest of the world to bring its economy into balance.

U. S. supp[illegible] f things like tin—of which this [illegible] y has none at all—must, of co[illegible] be imported before they can be exported in manufactured goods. In a slightly different category, the U. S. doesn't produce enough copper, lead or zinc for its own needs. Any exports containing such metals must necessarily reduce American stockpiles, unless traders can be made for increased imports of these strategic materials.

On materials like high-grade iron ore and petroleum the story is still different. U. S. reserves may be exhausted within a generation, though they are more than ample now. Here it may be shown there is need of sound conservation practices and the development of new processes to refine low-grade ores and shale.

There is enough American coal to last for centuries. With any kind of co-operation from the weatherman the U. S. can produce all the food that's needed. The drain on top soil to grow these extra supplies is insignificant, if good farming methods of normal soil conservation are followed.

Any idea that the U. S. can't turn out enough manufactured goods for its own needs and Europe's is, of course, fantastic. With the U. S. index of industrial production down from its peak of 239, in 1943, to 170, in 1946, and a rate of around 185 today, there is plenty of capacity to turn out more goods for wherever they may be needed.

A Report, An Appraisal, and A Recommendation

In final analysis, however, these things aren't going to be settled on any economic basis. The play is for the Krug report to go to Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, who will appraise the impact of the aid program on the U. S.—whether it will cause prices to rise still higher and things like that.

Both reports then go to Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman and his committee of 19—10 big business men, six college professors and two labor leaders, seasoned with one representative of the public, ex-Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Wisconsin. They'll balance these two reports against the requirements for the Marshall plan drawn up at Paris, and make recommendations to the president on what he ought to do about the whole thing.

The president will then send a message to Congress. Congress will appropriate the billions it considers necessary, and that will complete the daisy chain.

That means this whole involved business will be settled on a political basis. The factors will be how much more burden the American taxpayer will stand, the effect of the aid program on U. S. price levels, and the degree to which European governments will cooperate with the U. S. in return for aid received. In short, how much is America willing to pay to keep Europe from going Communist?

DOWN SOUTH

By Thurman Sensing
Director of Research, Southern States Industrial Council

It is perhaps unfortunate sometimes that measures passed by Congress should bear the names of their sponsors. Such practice tends to place too much emphasis on the personalities and politics of the sponsors and too little emphasis on the fundamental aims and purposes of the bills.

Such is the case with the Taft-Hartley Bill passed by the last Congress. This is particularly true at the present time, since one of the sponsors, Senator Taft, is an active candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. This situation inclines many people to put a political emphasis on the bill.

As a matter of fact, this measure, which might much better be known as the Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947, was anything but a political measure. It was vetoed by the President, but his veto was overwhelmingly over-ridden in both Houses of Congress, including the votes of practically all the Democratic Congressmen from the South. It was perhaps as nearly a non-partisan vote as we need ever expect to get on such a measure.

The Taft-Hartley Act has been called by labor union leaders a "Slave Labor Bill," and has been publicized as such by the propaganda departments of the labor unions. That this propaganda has been quite effective, as is all propaganda assiduously devoted to unthinking people, is well illustrated by a number of polls and surveys made since the bill was passed. These surveys indicated that, on the average, about 64 percent of the union members and about 54 per cent of all employes questioned disapproved of the Taft-Hartley Act. That this opinion is the direct result of the labeling given the Act by the labor leaders, however, is proven by the fact that these same people, when questioned concerning their opinion of the ten main provisions of the Act, approved them overwhelmingly. In only one case did even the union members fail to give majority approval to these main provisions, and that was when only 48 percent of the union members voted approval of outlawing the closed shop.

In other words, in the minds of employes and workers in general the Taft-Hartley Act was disassociated from the provisions of the measure. In actual fact, this bill was more nearly a "Worker's Bill of Rights" than anything ever passed by the national Congress. Its predecessor, the Wagner Act, gave all authority to the unions and ignored the rights of the individual worker. In so doing, of course, it also ignored the rights of the employer. But the Taft-Hartley Act is devoted in the main to the protection of the rights of the worker, rather than conferring power on either unions or management. The bill well recognizes the fact that the worker subjugated by union leadership is no better off than the worker subjugated by management.

It can be easily understood, of course, why union leaders so bitterly oppose this Act: they can no longer assert dictatorial power over their members. No longer can a man be forced to join a union before he can get a job. Furthermore, no longer can a union member himself, who is in any way critical of the union or its leaders, be forced out of the union and, since he must consequently have been discharged by his employer, deprived of making a living for himself and his family. No longer must a worker with a grievance go through his union; he can go direct to the boss about it if he wants to. No longer can union leaders call illegal strikes or make political assessments or keep secret from the members the manner in which they use union funds or hold their jobs indefinitely simply by refusing to call an election.

All such powers granted the union leaders by the Wagner Act have been repealed by the Taft-Hartley Act. These are facts that should be impressed upon all the people of this nation. The Taft-Hartley Act gives dignity to the individual workers of America. No longer can they be shoved around like pawns on a chess board—by unions, management, or anyone else. They can now be assured more nearly than ever before in history of their rights as free men.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture: Hebrews 4:14-16; 7:26-27; 9:23-26; 10:11-4.

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The topic of this lesson for young people and adults is "The Sufficient Christ"; and that phrase accurately characterizes both the letter and spirit of the Epistle to the Hebrews.

The writer of the Epistle has a deep sense of the spiritual heritage of Israel. "God," he writes, "at sundry times and in divers manners spake in times past unto the fathers by the prophets"; and in the 11th chapter he records the story of the men and women of faith in a way that only a lover of Israel and of Israel's religion could have done. He is convinced of God's promise, and of His covenant with His people.

But his faith and outlook as an earnest Israelite is dominated by the supreme conviction that God, who spoke formerly through the prophets, has spoken "in these last days" through His Son, Jesus Christ, "the brightness of His glory," and "the express image of His person."

Holding, thus strongly, a belief in the divinity of Jesus, what is remarkable about his Epistle is the clarity and insistency with which he presents and expounds the fact of Christ's humanity. There is no inconsistency in this, for the doctrine of the Incarnation implies both divinity and humanity. It is the doctrine set forth in the opening of the Gospel of John, of the word made flesh, and dwelling among men (John 1:14).

With all the greatness of the past religion of Israel, it is the writer's contention that there was something incomplete, and a promise unfulfilled. Saints and prophets "obtained a good report through faith, but received not the promise: God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect" (Hebrews 11:39-40).

Though it is not known, with any certainty, to whom the Epistle was addressed, it seems evident that it was written to Jewish Christians, subject to the same sort of persecution that Saul had carried on against the Christians before he became Paul, the convert. To the charge that they were untrue to the religion of their fathers, the writer asserts the realities of the new covenant, and the nature and mission of Christ as the minister of better things.

The key passage, of which all the rest might be regarded as exposition, is in the second chapter, and especially in 2:17. Though greater than angels, the Son of God made himself lower than the angels, taking upon Himself human nature, and being made "like unto His brethren that He might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people."

But what of priestliness and sacrifice in the Jewish religion? The writer's answer is that Jesus is a superior high priest, inasmuch as He has offered Himself a sacrifice, once for all. An insistent question, I think, concerns how much of religious faith and practice of today is in the realm of unfulfilled promise, awaiting the supreme experience of Christ Himself as "the Minister of better things."

Our Children

PAYMENT FOR CHORES

There is an idea among groups of children especially those who live in homes that carry on a business like farming, dairy work, gardening and the like, that they should be paid for their work. Even some boys and girls who live in apartments and whose sole duty is to bring in the morning milk and the newspapers are putting a money value on their services. I vote No.

Would these children pay their mothers for what they do for them? Or pay Father for what he does for them? They make no mention of it. Home is not a commercial undertaking. It is an emotional situation involving a group of people who love each other and who delight in serving each other.

It is Mother's pleasure to make a beautiful hat, gloves and scarf for Daughter, to cook doughnuts for Son, to knit him a scarf and a cap, to sit by his bedside in sickness. It is her pleasure to stay home in order to save the money the entertainment would cost to allow Son and Daughter to attend their school party in full regalia. How about that? No money could begin to pay for it.

The boy and girl who attends high school, even those who are in the junior schools, need some money and their parents would be wise to give them an allowance in accordance with the family income and the children's needs. The children should explain their requirements, and the parents then should come to an agreement as to how and when they are to be met.

If children are granted a small allowance in the beginning, when they ask for pennies for their precious odds and ends, if somebody takes the time and trouble to show them how to get the most for their money, how to plan ahead, how to save for specific things, the children begin to learn how to use money. This is a valuable department of their education and one that lies wholly within the home circle. If this training is well handled through the early years, by the time the children are high school students they are responsible people and can handle their own funds intelligently.

There is a time when children can be paid in some degree for their services. When boys and girls in their later teens do work at home that would cost a bit of money to have somebody hired to do it, they should be paid at least a share of the labor cost. Usually such boys and girls are saving for some object like education, or a business of their own. They are old enough to be partners in the family concern and should be treated accordingly.

But there should be no idea in any child's head that his parents owe him wages because he helps a bit around the house. Home is not a commercial enterprise. Father and Mother are making no money rearing children and supporting a home.

Putting a monetary value on his good deeds may develop an annoying habit in a child. Such habits do not develop without reason, says Dr. Patri, who urges patents to search for the cause. Dr. Patri's booklet, No. 302, "Annoying Habits," is obtainable by sending 10 cents (coin preferred) and a 3-cent stamp to him, c/o News-Star, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

Billy Rose

"There's a fellow in the waiting room who wants to talk to you about baskets," said the phone operator.

"Tell him to get lost," I said. "I got a basket."

Two hours later the girl rang again. "The basket fellow is still up here. Says he has to see you."

"All right," I sighed. "Send him down, and have someone with a fielder's glove ready to catch him on the first bounce."

The young man who came in started talking before he had the door closed behind him. "I'm a press agent," he said. "I want you to write a piece about my client."

"I try to write columns," I snapped. "Not ads. In four hundred pieces I've never once mentioned my cabaret by name."

"This is different," he began.

"They're all different," I cut in. "But they all wind up as the story of the actress who is never so happy as when she's at home among her pots."

"I think you ought to listen," said the young man quietly.

"What's so special about these baskets you're publicizing?" I asked.

"These baskets," said the press agent, "happen to be guys without arms and legs. Then there are others whose arms and legs are paralyzed. And still others with partial disabilities."

"You mean disabled veterans?"

"Yep."

"Aren't they being taken care of by General Bradley and the VA?"

"This is something extra. It's called the Authors Workshop for Veterans. A group of fellows around town figured that a guy without arms and legs has a lot of time to think. And if he can think, maybe he can write. Or at least dictate. We figured if we got such a guy interested in writing, he might open his eyes in the morning and have a reason to keep them open. Everybody working on this project is working for free."

"How are you making out?"

"Fine," said the young man. "About two hundred fifty vets in the New York area are sending us manuscripts regularly. We have an office at 136 West 42nd Street. A lot of top-flight authors, editors and publishers are giving us a hand. They read the stuff and make criticisms and suggestions. If it's any good, they help sell it."

"Any results so far?" I asked.

"Nothing spectacular," said the press agent. "Unless you count what it's doing for the veterans. We want you to write a piece about this because were anxious for veterans all over the country—disabled or otherwise—to know about the Authors Workshop. If they'll send us their manuscripts, we'll do whatever we can to help. Who knows—we may turn up some good writers."

"I can't write such a column," I said. "It's too grim. My readers expect popcorn and palaver from me."

PROBE OF HUGHES CONTRACTS SECRETLY RESUMED IN SENATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Senate investigators secretly resumed today an inquiry into $40,000,000 worth of wartime airplane contracts awarded to Howard Hughes, Hollywood millionaire.

Two closed-door sessions were held today, it was learned, to question witnesses who may testify publicly at a hearing scheduled to reopen Nov. 17.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) and attorneys and investigators for a War Investigating subcommittee, made special efforts to avoid attention. They borrowed a room from the Senate Judiciary committee and instructed employes there to keep quiet. And there was no leak on names of persons they quizzed.

Senators Cain (R-Wash) and McGrath (DRI) sat in on the sessions along with William Rogers, chief committee counsel and Francis Flanagan, counsel specializing on the Hughes inquiry.

These quiet meetings were in strong contrast to the dramatic hearings Ferguson abruptly recessed last Aug. 11 after partial questioning of Hughes and his heavy-spending public relations man, John W. Meyer.

It was during these hearings that:

1. Hughes testified that Chairman Brewster (R-ME) of the full War Investigating committee offered to call off the inquiry if Hughes would merge Transworld Airlines, which he controls, with Pan-American Airways and would support a single overseas American airline.

2. Brewster denied it under oath.

3. Meyer was questioned about spending thousands on Washington officials and prominent figures, including Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President and an air force general during the war.

4. Roosevelt testified he was overseas when some of the entertainment items under his name were listed on the Meyer expenses account.

5. Hughes predicted the hearings never would be resumed.

At the time Ferguson stopped them, Meyer had disappeared. The subpoena under which he had appeared had expired. A new one since has been served on him. He and Hughes have been instructed to turn up here Nov. 17.

uA spec-. oidly oily oi oi

Additional preliminary meetings may be held next week before Ferguson leaves with other members of the Senate Appropriations committee on an inspection trip to Europe.

The Hughes probes deals with an $18,000,000 contract to produce the world's largest airplane, a plywood flying boat which has not yet been in the air, and a $22,000,000 contract for models of a speedy photographic reconnaissance plane.

FIREWORKS WILL BE DISPLAYED

Unusual Pyrotechnic Show Will Be Shown Here Tuesday Night

With the arrival of Ralph Rhoades, of Kansas City, Mo., who paints pictures in fireworks, like any artist who paints in oil, only he does not use a brush, but his hands, is now on the job, building special set pieces that will be used in his large fireworks masterpiece, "The Sweet Land Of Liberty," to be shown for one night, Tuesday, October 7, at the Neville High School stadium.

The many pictures in fireworks will be the scenes of early America with George Washington, Statue of Liberty, The Liberty Bell, then the late World War General Eisenhower, and our President Harry S. Truman, and many other pictures and also comedy displays.

Several large illuminated aerial displays of shells and rockets, to cover the skies with beautiful colors of every discription, will be on the program. It requires several days to build special, such illumination in pieces that amaze those attending, and a force of experts are on hand for this construction.

A special concert will be rendered by the Neville High School band. Also Ed Miller and his Louisiana Play Boys will be presented in their musical program.

The gates will open at 7 p.m. and tickets can be purchased at the stadium that night or in advance at Walgreen's.

Walter S. Savage, Jr., post of the American Veterans of World War II, are the sponsors to raise funds towards a new home.

The poisonous toadstool and the edible mushroom are of the same family.

Oil And Gas News

UNION OIL PRICE AVERAGE $1.78 BBL.

Based On Gravity Of About 30; Ora Continues State's Busiest Field

Based on the price list published by the owner of the first pipe line to operate from the new Ora field, Union parish oil will bring the producers about $1.78 per barrel, the Monroe district conservation office estimated yesterday.

The list was posted by the Root Petroleum Company as effective October 1. Starting at a top of $1.98 for 40-or-over gravity crude oil, the price drops off 2 cents for each decreasing degree of gravity until it reaches the minimum of $1.51 for oil below 20 gravity. The average for Ora field oil is about 30 gravity—10 degrees and 20 cents per barrel below the top.

Root Petroleum has a direct outlet for the field in a new 6-inch line, completed several weeks ago, which connects with the company's service in south Arkansas, transporting crude to the refinery at El Dorado, Ark.

Eight of the ten oil completions and four of the five new locations in the district during the week were in booming Union parish which continues to lead all Louisiana fields in activity. The eight completions, previously published, brought the total of Ora field producers to 44.

The only abandonment listed in the district office's weekly report was the Skelly Oil company's M. L. Kennedy No. 1 in section 30-17-10E in Richland parish, on the west bank of Bayou Macon, one mile south of Delhi. It was given up as dry at 3,612 feet.

A new Richland parish location is the Gulf Refining company's Mrs. D. V. Cooper et al., A-6 in section 19-17-9E at the north edge of the Delhi field, six miles west of Delhi.

About ready for completion and official gauging in the Ora field were the Guy Mabee drilling company's S. L. Smith No. 3 in section 34-22-1W, which was reported as waiting on cement at 2,174 feet, and the Sellars-Ewing interests' J. R. Price Nos. 2 and 5 in section 4-21-1W, which were continuing to await installation of pumps. Not counting the two untested Price units, Sellars and Ewing now have 10 producers in the Ora field, being topped only by Shell, which has 18 successful wells in operation.

A stuck drill pipe at 650 feet was still holding up operations on Sharp and Kemp's Ivy Thompson No. 1, a wildcat test in section 4-22-1W, three miles northwest of the main Ora field.

After what was said to have been encouraging tests earlier in the week, the Pan-American company's Union parish deep well, the Elva Rugg No. 1 in section 31-20-1W, near the Lincoln parish line, was reported yesterday as drilling on below 8,500 feet.

Following a few days' suspension of operations at 2,500 feet, the Taylor-Kirby company's Dr. E. N. Clark No. 1 in section 10-20-7E in Morehouse parish, near Mer Rouge, has resumed drilling and was listed in the weekly report as nearing 3,000 feet.

The California Company's Breece Lumber Co. No. 2 in the Lafource swamp, eight miles southeast of Monroe was below 6,000 feet Saturday. It's contract depth is 9,000 feet.

The Peterson Petroleum corporation's Maude E. Wooten No. 1, a Richland parish wildcat in section 25-15-5E, fifteen miles southeast of Monroe, was reported at 1,150 feet. Drilling was begun there on Sept. 28.

Drilling for gas in it's Engle-Laub No. 1 in the Holly Ridge field, section 31-11-10E in Concordia parish, 15 miles west of St. Joseph, the Southern Production company struck oil in the Wilcox sand at 3,046-47. To eliminate salt water, the well was squeezed off at that depth and reperforated, and it was reported yesterday to be flowing oil into the pits. In the same field, in section 29-11-10E, Stanolind Oil and Gas company's Ada Smith Glover No. 1 has been completed as a gas well and was waiting on gauge.

Three deep wildcats in LaSalle parish were reported drilling ahead yesterday. They were C. H. Murphy, Jr.'s Delta No. 1, in section 36-6-4E, which was at 8,879 feet; the Placid Oil company's LaCent No. 126 in section 15-10-4E, 8,659 feet, and the H. L. Hunt company's Nebo Oil Co. F-137 in section 20-9-4E, 7,239 feet.

The General American Oil company's wildcat, the Sam Calvert et al., Fee No. 1 in section 35-7-6E in Catahoula parish was at 9,255 feet. Another, the Hunt Oil company's Delta Lumber Co., No. 1 in section 6-4-5E was down 5,308 feet. The H. L. Hunt Nebo Oil Co. F-138 in section 29-9-2E in Grant parish was reported at 4,638 feet.

Asthma Spasms Liberal Supply Free

The development by French Chemists of a palliative formula for easing the difficulty in coughing and breathing caused by spasms of Bronchial Asthma brought such striking results that its fame quickly spread over Europe. Now introduced in the United States as Bel-Din. This preparation contains the same active ingredients and aids as a palliative to ease gasping, choking and the feeling of suffocation that oftentimes accompanies Bronchial Asthma. Caution: use only as directed. The Montrose Sales Co., Inc., Dept. T-133, Montrose, Calif., is anxious that all sufferers from Bronchial Asthma Spasms try this preparation. They will send a liberal supply free to anyone who writes them. If you wish, you may send 10c to cover mailing and handling. Send for it today. (Adv.)

MAYOR'S AUTO STOLEN AS 'HIS HONOR' WAITS TURN IN BARBER SHOP

LAKE PROVIDENCE, Oct. 4.—(Special)—Arkansas police today were asked to join in the search for a young soldier who stole Mayor J. L. Johnson's car Friday in downtown Lake Providence.

Deputy Sheriff Leon Harbin said the car was seen speeding out of Lake Providence toward Arkansas on highway 65, with a soldier between 19 and 22 years old and wearing a full dress army uniform, at the wheel. Later reports, Harbin said, indicated that the car had crossed into Arkansas.

Harbin said the automobile, bearing license number 209-396 was stolen from its parking place the side of the Providence Drug company in the heart of the business district. Mayor Johnson at the time was in a barber shop across the street, Harbin said.

NIGHT CLASSES ARE ORGANIZED

Extension Studies At Northeast Junior College In Progress

General extension classes taught in the night school at Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. have been organized to meet the needs of adults who cannot attend school during the daytime. Many of these classes have started and the final day for registration is set for the next regular meeting of the class.

A graduate course in history of education is being taught at the college for the benefit of teachers in the northeast Louisiana area. The class will meet Tuesday night at 6:30 in T. O. Brown Hall. Everyone interested in the course is urged to register at this meeting.

Courses in physical education, educational psychology, and general psychology are being offered at the college. The final night for enrolling in the physical education course will be Tuesday. Students are urged to complete registration Monday and Tuesday nights in all courses.

The additional class organizations have been completed in the following courses; General biology, English 2, voice, piano, organ and mathematics 1. Students will be admitted to these classes Monday and Tuesday nights.

Because of the desire for large classes the following courses will be open for registration Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week: Chemistry 5, trigonometry, business machines, accounting 1, 2 and 3, shorthand (beginning), typewriting, history 1 and 2, English 1, public speaking, music appreciation and Spanish. Persons who want to enroll for one or more of the above courses should do so on one of the nights mentioned. Service men and women are welcome to any night classes at the college.

A special request has been made for students qualified to register for calculus and mechanical drawing. Five persons in each case have registered and want at least three more persons to start the classes. Students who have completed algebra, trigonometry and analytical geometry would be qualified to take a calculus course.

For additional information call 4200. The night school office will be open from 7 to 9 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

PROCLAMATION LAUDS OPTIMISTS

Mayors Of Twin Cities Declare Group Is 'Friend Of Boys'

Final preparations were completed for the observance of Optimist Week, commencing October 5, according to W. L. Howard, president of the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe. "Optimist Week this year should prove to be an outstanding success, for we have put more time and care into the planning of this annual celebration than ever before," he said.

Highlighted by proclamations by Mayor H. H. Benoit, of Monroe, and Mayor C. C. Bell, of West Monroe, of Optimist Week, the efforts of the members of the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe have been directed toward making this year's celebration the most carefully-planned and most widely observed yet. Linking their plans with those of over 500 Optimist Clubs throughout the world, with a total membership of 30,000, the local club has been preparing for the commemoration for months in advance.

"This has been Optimism's greatest year from the standpoint of growth," said Mr. Howard. "This celebration should go far toward informing the public of the work that we have been doing, and plan to do, and also reveal to everyone the standards and aims of the Optimist movement.

"Its the smile that counts," is the slogan of the Optimists as the National Optimist Week opens. "Grin and bear it," said Mr. Howard. "Complaining about the weather, high prices, business troubles and the high cost of government only serves to skyrocket your blood pressure, turn your hair grey and subtract from your normal life span—so why do it?"

"Seriously," he continued, "worrying about the present and future is just as ridiculous as bewailing a dead and buried past." The solution of many of the world's problems, he pointed out, lies in the ability and willingness of the people to examine these problems objectively, and to plan constructively for the future.

"Our attempts to improve the present should be an effort to carry out plans that reflect a sincere interest in 'the other fellow'—a consideration of his position in the scheme of things, as well as our own," asserted Mr. Howard. "As for the world of tomorrow," he concluded, "that will depend on how ably and willingly we shoulder our constant and important obligations to the youth of today."

The proclamation is as follows:

"Whereas, The Optimist Club of Greater Monroe is celebrating the period from October 5 to 11, 1947, as Optimist Week; and

"Whereas, the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe is an organization functioning in the public interest, serving this community through their activities as 'Friends of the Boy,' thereby performing an important service in curbing juvenile delinquency; and,

"Whereas, it is of civic importance that such good works continue and expand and that all members of this community recognize the achievements of the Optimist Club of Greater Monroe, We as mayors of Monroe and West Monroe, exercising our authority so to do

"Do hereby proclaim that the week beginning on October 5, 1947, and ending on October 11, 1947, shall be designated as Optimist Week for the cities of Monroe and West Monroe and that all citizens of these communities shall be called upon in observance thereof.

"Done and signed this 4th day of October, 1947."

MANY STRANGE LETTERS ARE RECEIVED BY CONGRESSMEN

Solons Know Better Than To Laugh Publicly At Any Missive

By James Free

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(Special)—Even Superman—and whatever happened to him anyway?—could not do all the things requested of a congressman.

A member of Congress soon learns to keep his chin off his chest no matter how amazed he may be at the nature of a favor sought. He finds out quickly, too, that it is hazardous to laugh publicly at any letter from a constituent, regardless of how unintentionally humorous it may be.

For this reason, the name of the representative whose recent mail is about to be sampled must be withheld. Likewise, the names and home addresses of most of the letter writers. This much can be said: if these letters were not mailed to your own congressman, a lot of others very much like them have been.

Here is a short short story, with a moral lesson. Many a professional writer will envy the direct, simple way in which this farmer tells his story:

"They came threw this section sum thirty days ago," he wrote his congressman, "a man calling him self Dr. Brown selling medicines. He were one sharper, and sold his medicine on a garentee if not thirly satisfied every cent would be refunded. The full treatment cost 25 dollars.

"My self and wife bought a full treatment and paid the 24 dollars and one dollar for two boxes of tonic, paying 25 dollars in all. So we used one of the boxes and we grew much worse. Had to quit the use of it.

". . . I wish you advise me if any way I can proceed to get my money back, or the Dr. Brown, stopped selling and beating poor folks out of their hard earned money."

This one comes from a small town. It was typewritten apparently dictated, on a sheet having the writer's name and home town address comprising the letterhead. The writer seems to be a man who doesn't like to take "no" for an answer.

"I have an old certificate on the bank in the amount of $175, which was to be paid in gold coin and so specifies on the face of it.

"The bank officials say the Government will not allow them to pay this in gold even though they have obligated themselves to do so.

"Will you please advise me if you know any way in which we can get this gold coin?"

In his reply, the congressman carefully refrained from asking the writer what was meant by that "we" in the final paragraph. Neither did he make any tart remarks about how many years the United States has been burying its gold at Fort Knox.

There was no positive clue as to the age of the feminine writer of this note, but it is suspected she is a school girl.

"I hear you have free booklets of information. Please send me some."

Hundreds of letters offer something for sale or seek an outright handout. In the former classification is this offer of self-styled song-writer Rufus Jesse Clarc (Clarc is the proper spelling, for it appears that the gentleman insists that his words are "riten in puer langaej, spelled az spocen in the U. S. A.)

From a Campo, Calif., address, Clarc expresses willingness to send "bi mail" prepaid a dozen copies of the following song for $1:

"United States of America"
"U-nit-ed States of A-mer-i-ca,
Huar al the ras-es meet;
Huar the huites and reds and the blac
And tans are peesful at her feet.
"But no for-in prins, nor a dic-ta-tor
Shall ev-er ruel iur sho-er;
For ve plej iur faith to A-mer-i-ca
E-ven niu and for-ev-er moer."
Thaz not al uv the songue, but e-nuf for a sam-pul.

With 1948 political winds already whirling, it is fitting to close this congressional letter sampling with a communication from a forthright citizen who has a firm, not to say somewhat arbitrary notion as to who should be the next president of the United States.

He writes as follows:

"You are hereby notified that I require you to do all you can in every possible way to elect Dr. A. Herbert Marshall, M. C., of Charleston, Mo., president of these United States of America. But, whatever you do, it must be done in an honorable and in a peaceful manner.

"I am a political prophet. I will reason, teach, warn and rule.

". . . I come to stir the dreaming, stagnant nation."

And who is sending out the notice. One guess is enough. It is signed by Dr. A. Herbert Marshall. He signs off with an anticipatory "thank you."

Thank YOU, Dr. Marshall.

CHURCH PROGRAM TO AID EUROPE

Clothing, School Kits For War Victims To Be Dedicated Nov. 7

Preparatory to observance of World Community Day November 7, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, president of the Monroe Council of Church Women yesterday called upon all church organizations and schools to redouble their efforts in behalf of Europe's war victims.

Mrs. Gibson, who represents Monroe women of all denominations, specifically urged members of the church council to complete school outfits for more than a half million European children between the ages of six and 12. Each kit, she described, will contain clothing, classroom supplies, and some toys.

The bundles and boxes, Mrs. Gibson said, will be packed at local churches and will be dedicated on World Community Day before being sent overseas by the World Church Service, the cooperative Protestant relief and reconstruction agency. An offering, to be collected the same day, will provide noon lunches of hot soup for many of the undernourished children, she added.

A report from Mrs. Ruth M. Worrell, national president of the council, who has just returned from a tour of England and nine continental countries, attests to the need for food and clothing abroad, Mrs. Gibson asserted.

Quoting from the report, Mrs. Gibson continued:

"Last winter was the worst Europe has seen. The next winter will be even worse because of a poor harvest and there will be an even greater lack of fuel. Caring for 500,000 children on World Community Day becomes a 'must.'"

In the fall of 1945, Mrs. Gibson reported, the U. C. C. W. dispatched more than a million diapers and thousands of layettes through the Church World Service which, she said, has administered aid in 30 Asiatic and European countries.

RENDEZVOUS WILL BE HOST

Restaurant Made Last Word In Elegance; Capacity 220

Throwing open its doors formally to the public of Northeast Louisiana, the Rendezvous, 1400 Louisville avenue, through its owners, Tom Johnson and Bobby Pappas, will act as hosts, Monday from 5 to 9 p. m.

This opening will mark the completion of large additions to the former restaurant now making it by far the most expansive of the its kind in this area. Two large dining rooms will seat 175 and the cocktail lounge 45 more, making the total 220.

In order to accommodate the ever increasing clientele a beautiful "Fireside" dining room has been added. This room, finished in Oregon sugar pine, displays natural knots in the wood which is most artistic. The floor, like all in the building, is of tile and the room is air conditioned and heated from a central plant as are all rooms in the building. The crowning feature of this room is the massive rock fireplace that is about 15 feet in width, the stones of which extend from floor to ceiling. The rocks were brought from Oklahoma and are of lava rock. An entire carload was brought by freight to provide for this innovation. This room has dimensions of 21 by 40 feet. It has a beamed ceiling and is sound-proof.

The cocktail lounge in an adjacent room presents a terraced garden effect. Walls are of brick, painted white. Wrought iron divides the planted shrubbery of the terrace, and bar front and back, has tile construction. The cocktail lounge, unique in detail for Monroe, is in a room by itself which is 18 by 40 feet in dimensions. Rest rooms for men and women are of tile and with latest design.

A complete sound system is installed so that music, games talks can be heard by the diners at their convenience. Parking is extensive and all paved with concrete.

Mr. Pappas is a member of the board of directors of the Louisiana Restaurant Association, and the Rendezvous is recognized by "Gourmet's Guide," "Life of Rolley," the Illinois club, The Allied Travel service, the Triple A, and by the state and national restaurant associations.

NATION TO FOCUS ATTENTION ON 'FIRE PREVENTION WEEK'

Monroe Fire Chief Says In View Of Losses, Week Should Be One Of Mourning

Fire Chief H. L. Hales disclosed yesterday that Fire Prevention Week will be observed in the twin cities, as in the entire nation, from October 5 to 11. Chief Hales pointed out that this was the second step taken by President Truman this year to focus attention on the tragically high fire loss in the United States.

While commending the president for proclaiming the week of fire prevention, a week which is dedicated to the elimination of a handful of hazards that cause the great majority of fires, Chief Hales asserted, "that if in view of the frightening statistics we might better set aside this week as one of national mourning."

While the dollar loss is tremendous, the toll of dead and injured compares favorably with the casualties in the battles of the recent war. Fire is burning nearly 40,000 people this year, 11,000 fatally. Every day, about 30 people die, and 80 more are seriously injured.

"The real tragedy of this loss is brought into sharp focus," Chief Hales added, "when it is realized that 90 per cent of all fires in which Americans are dying and suffering, and in which their homes, factories and stores are burning, can easily be prevented. What is the cause? Carelessness and indifference of the consequences until it is too late? A mistaken feeling that it can't happen to me?"

The National Fire Protection Association, sponsor of Fire Prevention week, knowing that millions of people are planning to build new homes and to remodel their present homes during the next few years, is calling upon everyone to build fire-safe homes. The NFPA asserts the number of home fires would be cut in half immediately if four structural hazards were eliminated. In view of this information, Chief Hales said, "I can personally testify to the accuracy of this statement, based upon my experience over the years in fighting residential fires."

Four safe-guards against the four structural hazards which account for 50 per cent of all home fires, may be obtained by adhering to the following advice when you build, buy or remodel your home.

(1) Make sure the roof is of a fire-resistent material instead of wood shingles. When remodeling use a fire-resistent material to recover the roof if the shingles are curled and split.

(2) Be sure cook stoves and heating units are properly installed with adequate safeguards.

(3) Do not allow the opening between your walls to extend into the attic. Have them properly fire-stopped.

(4) Make the wiring system adequate of sufficient capacity to take care of present and future electrical servants. Have plenty of outlets properly located to eliminate long extension cords.

"By following the above suggestions for safeguarding your home," Chief Hale concluded, "and the application of common sense to our daily living habits, will save lives, property and will quickly put the constantly rising curve of fire losses into a tailspin."

A destructive fire breaks out in the United States on the average of every 38 seconds.

NOMINATE FOR N. J. C. OFFICES

Student Council Names Will Be Voted On By Ballot Tuesday

Candidates for freshman and sophomore representatives on the Student Council of Northeast Junior College were nominated at a special assembly of students last week. The election will be conducted by secret ballot Tuesday in the foyer of Brown Hall auditorium with members now serving in charge. The polls will be open from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m.

Vacancies in the organization are to be filled by two freshman girls, two freshman boys and one sophomore girl.

The list of freshman coed nominees comprises: Neola Guthrie, Banny Sue Kirk, Carolyn Bagwell, Kathryn Norwood, Maxine McKenzie, Janet Voorhees, Sara Ellen Bruno, Elsie Pipes and Loraine Eubanks. Freshman boy candidates include: Hillery Sanders, Robert Hennenburg, Richard Wright, Dan Christman, Milburn Calhoun, Thomas Bearden, Fred Hunefeldt, Donald Barnes, Graham Hughes and Al Carter.

The six sophomore coed candidates are: Dorothy Younse, Betty Richardson, Ruth Horton, Joyce Toler, Ruth Martin and Barbara Finlay.

Sophomore members elected from the freshman group in the spring last year who will serve with the newcomers to the council are: Olga Tefas and Doyle Parker, both of Monroe, and Billy Cooksey of Delhi.

Following Tuesday's election, the five chosen, together with the three from last year's class, will select a ninth member from the student body at large. The organization will then elect its officers for the current school year.

The purposes of the organization include: Promoting school spirit through various activities; promoting cooperation between faculty and students; fostering honorable conduct and ideals among students; regulating and assisting in the promotion of student activities with the exception of regulating dates for events, which is left in the hands of the committee on student affairs.

A. L. Tatum, assistant professor of social sciences, is sponsor of the organization.

ROME

and blows were exchanged with a Christian Democrat before order was restored.

De Gasperi concluded the debate by excluding any possibility of returning to a coalition government with Communists and Socialists, whom he threw out of his cabinet last May.

"I have lost all faith in the possibility of getting along with the Leftists in the government," he declared.

He charged the Communists with waging a continuous campaign of strike against his rule, asserting there had been 2,617 strikes in Italy since June.

A United States embassy official said it was not correct that the United States and Britain had decided to refuse their share of the ships "three or four months ago."

The official pointed out that the protocol setting up a four-power commission to execute the naval clause of the treaty permits any power to refuse its share.

Under the treaty ratified less than a month ago, Italy was allowed to keep two old 1912 battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers and a number of minor units, and was compelled to surrender 19 warships and several score smaller craft to a pool controlled by Britain, the United States, Russia and France.

The four powers never have carried out the division of the pool, however, because of failure of the Soviet representative to show up as yet to a meeting of the naval commission in Rome.

U. S. renunciation of its share of the Italian war fleet was a second major concession to hit Italy in recent months. On Aug. 14 the United States announced the cancellation of a $1.-000,000,000 debt owed by Italy, including $523,000,000 for relief supplies furnished by the army, and the return of 23 merchant ships or their equivalent seized from Italy during the war.

Sforza spoke with difficulty amidst Communist interruption. He said he hoped the U. S. action would be "an example to other states" allotted warships by the treaty.

"The Italian people appreciate justice above all—more than liberty and more than Democracy," he said, and alluding to Italian naval service in the cause of the Allies in the last years of the war, he added:

"The Italian sense of justice would have been wounded bitterly by hitting our navy which serves our cause and also that of the Allies."

Meanwhile, a threat of a general strike that had hovered over Rome province since groups of peasants had demanded the distribution of uncultivated estates was temporarily dispelled. Peasant and landowner representatives agreed to turn settlement of their differences over to four special committees which are to work out decisions within eight days.

ITALIAN

allocations among the allies were to be announced then. The meeting has been delayed by failure of the Soviet representative to appear, officials said.

Italian merchant ships were not involved in the treaty split. By the terms of the armistice they were put under control of the allied supreme commander for use in the war. The United States has now returned to Italy those this country used. Altogether 23 Italian merchant vessels were returned by the United States last month in a $1,000,000,000 gesture of aid which included cancellation of various war claims.

The peace treaty limits Italy's postwar navy to two battleships, four cruisers, four destroyers, and a larger number of torpedo boats and corvettes, aside from various auxiliaries.

FEDERAL AID PROGRAM OUTLINED TO TEACHERS

The prospect of increased federal aid for teachers was outlined to classroom teachers of the Fifth district at its meeting Saturday by a representative of the National Educational Association.

The speaker, Miss Hilda Maehling, executive secretary of the department of classroom teachers, also presented a report on the recent N. E. A. national convention.

In other business, the teachers association elected annual officers and considered plans for the Louisiana classroom teachers' convention scheduled for November 24-26 at Alexandria.

RUSSIAN

stormed, "Nobody, so far as I know, keeps track of them after entry.

"Nobody knows where these people are or what they are doing. We should close down on this kind of thing unless our representatives are permitted to examine Russian production and industries."

State department officials said Russian technicians have been coming over for some time to study American manufacturing processes and become familiar with machinery Russia is buying here.

What stirred Ferguson up was a protest from Local 468 of the CIO-Auto Workers' Union that the Clark Equipment Company at Buchanan, Mich., had agreed with the Soviet Purchasing Commission to train Russians in the manufacture of steel axle housings.

The Union said in a telegram to Ferguson Sept. 21 that the Russian trainees were displacing union members and were learning "American manufacturing processes which are so necessary for the welfare and security of this nation." The Union asked for a congressional investigation.

The Senator asked the Justice department's immigration service to look into the complaint and tell him how many Russian trainees have been admitted to this country and on what basis. He also took the matter up with the State department. And he gave out the replies today.

Miller reported eight Russians now are training at the Buchanan plant. There is no question where they are. Miller gave names and ages and said they came in under diplomatic visas granted by the U. S. consulate in Moscow. He said the company paid its regular employes during the time Russians ran their machines.

In Detroit, Immigration Director E. E. Adcock said the Clark Company has been training Soviet technicians since June in groups of 4 to 20. He said some of the first have gone back to Russia and been replaced by others.

Some kind of procedure is needed, Miller wrote Ferguson, by which immigration officers can check up on aliens of all countries who are admitted for training or study.

"This is emphasized somewhat," Miller said, "by our lack of knowledge as to where the Russians legally admitted and formerly employed by the Clark Equipment Company may be now or where they have gone."

Peurifoy sent Ferguson a memorandum saying that Soviet nationals admitted for training obtain visas as officials of the Russian government. They do not enter as immigrants.

"Figures are not available," the memo said, "to show the number of Soviet government official trainees in U. S."

But Peurifoy reported that of the 1,511 non-immigrant visas for Soviet nations that were good as of last June 30, 412 were of the "official" type. There was no way of telling how many of the 412 were for trainees.

Ferguson's suggestion that the United States "close down" on Russian trainees unless Americans are allowed to examine Russian production and industries followed calls for restrictions from other lawmakers.

Russia refused last July to let a House Labor subcommittee make a visit. Lack of housing was given as the reason. Then in September members of the Senate Appropriations committee and five American officials, including Peurifoy, were turned down when they asked to go to Moscow to inspect the U. S. Embassy. The Russians objected to American inspections in Russia.

Both Senator Knowland (R-Calif. and Rep. Kersten (R-Wis), as a result of the rejections of committee visits, proposed that the United States limit the entry of Russians to the number of Americans allowed in the Soviet Union.

The latest State department tabulation on July 1 put the number of Russian citizens in the United States at 750 and the number of Americans in Russia at 166.

In charge of the parish agricultural club exhibits are Mrs. Mildred Swift, associate agent, Mrs. Jewel I. McQuiller, home demonstration agent, Mrs. Audrey H. Dawson, associate agent, J. J. Joyce, county agent ,and T. D. Stewart, Jr., assistant agent.

Also prominently displayed will be entries in various competitive contests with cash awards. Judges furnished by the extension division of Louisiana State University will be on hand to judge the exhibits.

Booths taken by the various Twin City organizations will occupy visitors as well as the array of interesting commercial exhibitions being put on by merchants of the two cities.

Adding a gala air to the grounds will be the carnival imported for the occasion which will be in readiness for the public opening.

Tom Hicks, president of the fair association, declared yesterday that advance preparations indicated one of the best fairs ever to be held here. Other directors of the non-profit sponsoring association are John H. Birdsong, secretary-manager; Bruce Brooks, first vice president; John McCormick, second vice-president; M. A. Petrus, treasurer, E. E. Pritchett, G. E. Tyner, Lee Hawkins, Oscar McDonald, Albert Strozier, and George Welch.

BREWING

wheat entirely, but very little wheat is used by hard liquor producers.

Senator Brewster (R.-Me.) proposed today that liquor producers stop using grain entirely for 60 days to provide more food for Europe and to help reduce food costs at home.

Declaring that grain used to produce a quart of whiskey "is the equivalent of three loaves of bread," Brewster said in a letter to Luckman:

"For every day's delay in discussing how to curtail the distilleries, we are losing the equivalent of more than 30,000,000 loaves of bread."

President Truman meanwhile worked on Sunday night's broadcast to the nation (10:30 p. m., E. S. T.). This will be the first ever to be televised at the White House. The half hour program on all four major networks is intended to enlist the country's householders and food industries in the voluntary drive to meet Western Europe's projected deficit of 100,000,000 bushels of grain this winter.

Mr. Truman will disclose "the first phase of a specific program," a spokesman for the food committee reported. White House officials also indicated the president will give the nation a more specific goal of saving than the "buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing" slogan of the food committee.

The broadcast will include addresses by Secretary of State Marshall, Secretary of Commerce Harriman, Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, and Luckman, and will include overseas "pick-ups" if reception permits. Television equipment is being installed in the Oval Room at the White House, to send the president's image over a New York-Philadelphia-Washington-Schnectady television hook-up.

While the White House thus prepared to launch what may be the biggest promotion campaign since the war, some opposition to heavy spending for European aid began to manifest itself in the ranks of congress. This was especially so among the numerous legislators now returning from visits to Europe.

Rep. Francis Case (R.-S. Dak.), at South Hampton, England, advised European nations to "stop kidding themselves" that American financial help under the long-range Marshall plan is a certainty.

Rep. Vursell (R.-Ill.), who sailed today on the Queen Mary along with Case and 16 other members of a special House committee on foreign aid, told reporters he did not find conditions "serious enough" in Germany and Austria to necessitate a special session of congress.

Mr. Truman has asked key committees of the House and Senate to convene as soon as possible on his estimate that $580,000,000 in emergency aid is needed for France, Italy and Austria.

Rep. Taber (R.-N. Y.) told newsmen in Berlin he saw no underfed people on his tour of Europe and does not favor a special session this fall. Taber heads the House appropriations committee, one of the key groups in the situation.

On the other hand, Rep. Dirksen (R.-Ill.) reported he saw "definite undernourishment all over the country" during four weeks in Germany.

Senator Flanders (R.-Vt.) told a reporter that it would be well to explore the possibility of food price ceilings and rationing, with prices spurting up.

The question of restoring ceilings and rationing control on grains and other farm products should get top consideration in any study of the feasibility of government controls over living costs, Flanders said. He said he hadn't made up his mind as to whether they should be restored.

Secretary Anderson told reporters that a voluntary reduction in the use of wheat by brewers might accomplish a greater saving of that grain—particularly wanted in Europe—than the agreement reached by whiskey distillers last night.

Nevertheless, he said, there can not be as great a saving of all grains as the distillers' agreement indicates, because beer is considered a "working man's drink" and has nutritional value. In addition, grain used in beer and ale has a substantial by-product residue which is useful in livestock feeding. The brewery industry uses wheat, barley, rice and a little corn, and consumes upwards of 60,000,000 bushels annually.

Anderson indicated that the government and the citizens food committee was encouraging the brewers to make as great as possible a saving in wheat, without appreciably reducing the total of other grains used. Anderson sat in on the meeting with the brewers for an hour.

apartment, and pointing the gun at the maid, said, "give me the jewelry."

Frightened, Mrs. Barth screamed, and was knocked down by the intruder who threatened her again with the gun and said "now stay there."

He crossed the apartment to the bedroom, grabbed Mrs. Hilton by the arm, pulled her into the foyer, and said:

"If you don't keep quiet, I'll shoot you and the baby."

Mrs. Hilton later told police "I was so afraid for the baby I sat down."

After tying Mrs. Hilton and the maid to a love seat in the foyer, he bandit went back to the bedroom where he ransacked a jewel box on a dresser and then took other pieces from closets and a box in the bedroom floor under an upholstered chair.

He stuffed the jewels in his pocket and left the building in the self-service elevator. After he left, the two women wiggled free of their bonds. Police said the building is owned by Mrs. Hilton.

Police who made a minute examination of the apartment said the bandit, who wore kid gloves, left one behind in his haste to escape with his haul.

One police official declared "it's the biggest jewelry robbery by one man I ever heard of."

Mrs. Hilton, who separated from the hotel magnate in 1944 and signed a separation and property agreement at that time, received her divorce at Los Angeles Sept. 17, 1946.

Motor trucks and tractors replaced 9,000,000 horses and mules on American farms between 1918 and 1932.

DEATHS

JOHN R. CHAPMAN

Funeral services for John R. Chapman, 69, a well known farmer of Calhoun, who died Tuesday morning, September 30, at his home, after a week's illness, were held Wednesday morning, October 1, at Beulah Methodist Church, of which he was a member, by the Methodist minister assisted by the Baptist minister of Jonesboro. Interment was in the Beulah Cemetery.

Mr. Chapman came to Calhoun from Alabama at a early age. He married Daisy E. Averett in January, 1901. He made his home here where he had resided for the past 45 years, engaging in farming. He was a member of the Woodmen lodge.

Mr. Chapman is survived by his wife, Mrs. Daisy Averett Chapman; a daughter, Mrs. C. K. Emory, Choudrant; two sons, J. D. Chapman, Hodge; and Ralph Chapman, Jonesboro; two brothers, Oscar Chapman, Calhoun, and Phew Chapman, Alabama; 11 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers, all nephews, were: Benson Averett, Nalda Averett, Orlan Chapman, W. W. Chapman, Walter L. Lacey, and Billy Wyrick. Honorary pallbearers were all friends of the family.

MRS. IVA MAE HAMMONS

Funeral services for Miss Iva Mae Hammons, 30, of 213 Morris street, West Monroe, who died in a local hospital at 8 a.m. yesterday after several weeks illness, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Ridge Avenue Baptist Church with the Rev. H. A. Johnson, former pastor, assisted by Rev. A. T. Mitchell and the Rev. F. D. Backman, officiating. Interment will be made in the Hasley Cemetery under the direction of the Davis-Lawhead Funeral Home.

She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hammons, of West Monroe; three sisters, Mrs. C. F. Edminton, Mrs. J. T. Holtzslaw and Mrs. C. D. Brooks; three brothers, T. B., L. C. and D. T. Hammons, and several aunts and uncles.

Pallbearers will be Tom Monk, R. L. Jacobs, Albert Gregory, E. W. Camp, Bill Gammill and Frank Howard.

JOSEPH G. VANMETER

OAK GROVE, Oct. 4.—(Special)—Funeral services for Joseph G. VanMeter, 65, who died at his home at Oak Grove Saturday morning, will be held 10 a.m. Sunday at the Red Wing Cemetery with the Rev. Murel Kennedy officiating.

Survivors include five daughters, Mrs. Mabel Nett, of Marthaville, Miss Magalene VanMeter, of West Monroe, Mrs. L. A. Fowler, Mrs. Lee Wheeler, and Mrs. H. L. Porter, all of Oak Grove, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Catron-Gay Funeral Home of Oak Grove.

J. F. JONES

OAK GROVE, Oct. 4.—(Special)—J. F. Jones, of Route 3, Oak Grove, died in a Shreveport hospital this afternoon.

Funeral arrangements, under the direction of the Catron-Gay Funeral Home, are not yet complete.

would render no verdict against them.

Johnson suggested that the committee ask the three Balkan nations to express their opinion on the French proposal.

It was the first indication in the long-debated case that the U. S. was interested in the French coniliatory proposal.

The committee adjourned at 1:21 p. m. (EST) until 3 p. m. Monday when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky is expected to close Russia's case. Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian deputy prime minister foreign minister, is listed as Monday's second speaker. Ten other nations are to be heard from before the committee starts detailed work on opposing U. S. and Russian proposals on the Balkans.

A trend toward adopting a conciliatory attitude in the Greek case rather than to place blame on any given party also was embodied in statements made today by delegates from Egypt and Colombia.

But Dr. T. F. Tsiang, of China, told the committee there was no justification for the "border violations that have taken place in recent months in Greece" and aligned his government solidly behind the U. S.

Ricardo Fournier of Costa Rica, also supported the American resolution.

Dr. Alfonso Lopez of Colombia, appealed to the committee to recommend a Big Four conference among the U. S., Russia, Britain and France in hopes of solving the Balkan issue. Lopez urged the four powers to confer over the negotiation of a peaceful settlement. He also recommended that a general Balkan convention be called to guarantee peace and security.

When debate opened today, Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, described the intervention of Britain and the U. S. into the Greek question as "the original sin" of the Balkan problem. He blamed the foreign intervention on America and Britain rather than on Greece's three northern neighbors.

Johnson replied to Lange by claiming that the primary concern of the U. S. is "peace and tranquility in Greece."

"Our concern is with the future, not with the past."

ported by cavalry, had attacked a point 16 miles south of Changchun, the Manchurian capital, and had advanced six miles.

Despite the flurry of developments unfavorable to themselves, government officers insisted their optimism of holding the big Manchurian cities was undimmed.

Experienced neutral observers of the Chinese war were inclined to agree, saying the Communists were unlikely to try frontal assaults on the large places but would give them "a most uncomfortable winter."

COMMUNITY

Twin Cities P.-T. A. Schools Lunch Program and the West Monroe Recreation Council.

"The Community Chest brings together nine potential campaigns in one annual effort," Mr. Cage said. "It makes for greater efficiency and economy of operation. It conserves the time of the unpaid volunteers who work in the campaign to raise the funds. It spares the citizens of Monroe and West Monroe from being importuned for funds by each of these Red Feather services separately, which is what would happen if they were not federated for fund raising in the Community Chest."

The goal of Twin City Community Chest this year is the minimum on which the Red Feather services can operate during 1947-48, Mr. Cage pointed out. The budgets of these services are carefully scrutinized by committees of representative citizens, he said. Not even in business in such painstaking care exercised in the expenditure of funds," he said.

Community service made possible through the annual Chest campaign are of benefit to everybody, Mr. Cage declared.

"Studies indicate that four out of 10 families benefit directly each year from Red Feather services," he said. "Everybody in the community benefits when families are held together, sickness is cured or prevented, young people are kept from being delinquent and the aged are given care.

"Since everybody does benefit, then everybody has a responsibility to contribute to the support of Red Feather services. I hope that the response to the Community Chest campaign appeal this year will be so great and spontaneous that there never will be any doubt that we will surpass our goal."

Mayors H. H. Benoit of Monroe and C. C. Bell, Jr., of West Monroe yesterday issued the following joint proclamation:

"Monroe and West Monroe are now engaged in the organization of civic resources and the mobilization of the best in community interests and emotions to make our annual Community Chest appeal the outstanding success it merits.

"The success will be two-fold in its demonstration. It will evidence our generosity as individuals and at the same time the good business sense which is always a part of community cooperation motivated by high ideals.

"Pride in our community and concern for its future and the welfare of ourselves and of our families will prompt not only adequate financial support to the cause of the Community Chest, but will make us enthusiastic advocates of the basic democracy which this federation of interests so vividly proves.

"As mayors of Monroe and West Monroe and as individuals who appreciate the fine privileges of citizenship, we hereby proclaim the period of October 6 to October 18-1947 as Community Chest time and bespeak for our programs of health, welfare and constructive citizenship the active interest and generous support which is richly deserved and we commend to all fellowtownsmen the volunteer campaign solicitors as worthy of cordial reception and tangible appreciation.

"In witness whereof we have pledged our signatures and have ordered that the seal of our two cities be affixed."

guard headquarters to select men best suited for guarding the buses followed his personal investigation Thursday of the firing on and stoning of buses which were making an initial run with new drivers. They were replacing ones who went on strike four months ago.

The strike was called May 20 by the Amalgamated Association of Street Car, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes of America (A. F. of L.) against the Southern Bus Lines, Inc.

It followed unsuccessful negotiations for a new contract, over which there were wage disagreements. Subsequently the company began training new drivers, who are being used to re-open its routes.

Several acts of violence against the company were reported in recent weeks. Last Wednesday Governor Wright threatened to place national guardsmen on the buses with orders to "shoot to kill" if violence continued. On the next day a bus approaching Hattiesburg was fired on and another was hit with rocks in town.

A spokesman for the bus company today said that the company would cooperate with any plan put into operation by the governor, and that it was confident that the governor would take steps to preserve law and order.

The spokesman said the company was not in the position of asking for armed protection.

rays and cosmic rays, carried its own "packet" of energy and that each "packet" was different for the countless millions of different wave lengths of radiation.

Scientists first regarded the theory as a curiosity but subsequently the fact that light consists of several thousand waves of varying length was verified in laboratories.

A devotee of music Planck found relaxation from the laboratory at the keyboard of a piano. He also enjoyed mountain climbing.

Born in Kiel April 23, 1858 in a family of theologians and jurists, Planck studied mathematics and natural sciences at Munich and Berlin, gaining his first degree at the former university when he was 21 with a thesis on the mechanical theory of heat. He was professor of physics at Kiel university in 1885 and for most of his career after 1889 at the University of Berlin.

Planck was married twice. His first wife, the former Marie Merck, died after 20 years of married life. Four years later he married Margarethe von Hoesslin. He was the father of three sons and twin daughters.

ODDITIES FEATURED IN N. O. PET SHOW

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A pet show held here today featured the following oddities:

A cat with one yellow eye and one blue eye

A one-legged pigeon.

A nanny goat wearing a blue straw hat.

OVERELL

was the longest on record in American court annals.

Chief Prosecutor Eugene Williams said of the vote: "the majority must be for conviction. I can see no other interpretation."

Defense counsel said it felt certain the stand for acquittal because jury members were smiling as they filed back into the box.

During the trial, the defense capitalized on the fact that a prosecution witness, Dr. John J. Montanus, who conducted the original autopsy on the bodies of the victims, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, admitted he gave false testimony before the grand jury.

But, as the hours passed today, and there was no sign that the jurors had reached a verdict, defense lawyers stated privately that they felt the state had lost its hope for conviction.

"The worst we may expect is a hung jury," William Beirne, Gollum's counsel, told newsmen. Louise's lawyer, Otto Jacobs, said he still though there was a possibility the jury would come in with an acquittal verdict.

Special Prosecutor Eugene Williams declined comment except to say "we must have slipped somewhere if the jury doesn't convict on the first ballot."

There was no indication whether the jurors had taken an official vote. The defense has not asked that the jury be polled.

The 21 year old Gollum played chess in his jail quarters for several hours while his sweetheart, whose ardor seems to have chilled since the jury was allowed to read the passionate love letters they exchanged in jail, spent her time pressing clothes.

One juror had to summon a doctor for a cold serum injection today, another fell and injured her left leg last night while enroute to the hotel where the jury is quartered, and the relatives of another woman member said she would enter a hospital for a complete physical checkup as soon as the deliberation ends.

Several times during the trial she was in delicate health.

Two alternate jurors were under special guard ready for service if necessary. They have not participated in the deliberations.

Judge Morrison said he would receive a verdict until as late as midnight and would be available if the jury comes in tomorrow or tomorrow night.

The State charged that Louise, heiress to her parents' half million dollar estate, plotted with Gollum to kill her parents and get their money. It alleged that they beat the Overells to death and then dynamited their yacht in Newport Harbor March 15.

fore the expedition's failure he had left Confites Key aboard a Cuban navy launch for Havana with officials who "came to the island to talk and find out what was going on." He said these talks were with "high authorities" whose names he refused to divulge.

He said he was concerned that "high Cuban authorities who helped us because they sympathized with our cause be made to suffer. I wish that all responsibility should be left to fall upon my shoulders.

The expeditionary force was frustrated in its attempt to start a Dominican revolution by Cuban authorities who seized the ships Aurora and Maximo Gomez as they sailed for the Dominican Republic to launch the attack.

Rodriguez blamed Orlando Masferrer, a Cuban with the rank of lieutenant colonel in the expedition, with responsibility for letting the Aurora fall into the hands of the Cuban navy.

"I had already given orders to depart for the Dominican Republic with the ships Aurora and Maximo Gomez," he said. "I was leading the way on the Aurora with 400 men and enough arms and ammunition to equip another 1.-000 men, but then we received a call from the Maximo Gomez in which Masferrer informed he was in a tough spot.

"I thought his ship went aground and ordered the Aurora to turn around and go to his help. Suddenly we found ourselves surrounded by Cuban warships."

Rodriguez said that if Masferrer considered himself lost "the thing for him to do was to let me go ahead."

FOOD COSTS BEGIN NEW UPWARD SPIRAL

(By Associated Press)

The high cost of food, forced down somewhat in a wave of stiff consumer resistance after reaching record peaks in mid-afternoon, has started its upward spiral again.

Butter and eggs were the principal exceptions at both wholesale and retail levels. A survey of representative cities Saturday showed that retail butter prices were considerably below two and three weeks ago and in some places were still falling.

Wholesale prices—A usually accurate barometer of how much the housewife will have to pay for the food she buys—reversed a two weeks decline and moved up in the Associated Press index of 35 commodities.

The index advanced to 192.60 per cent of the 1926 average, compared with 190.13 a week earlier, 192.38 two weeks ago, 194.35 three weeks ago and the record high of 195.31 on September 16.

Food and livestock prices scored the greatest gains during the week. The food index jumped from 159.21 to 162.15 and livestock from 233.71 to 241.79.

BUILDING PERMITS

Permission was given Thomas J. Johnson for additions to residence at 213 Pecan street. Cost will be $70 and owner will be contractor.

Permits for the State Furniture Company, Inc., to erect ten dwellings in the Fairview addition were issued as follows:

Residence at 1008 Park avenue costing $4,990, at 1002 Emerson street costing $4,950, at 1014 Emerson street costing $4,800, at 1010 Emerson costing $4,800, at 1006 Emerson treet costing $4,800, at 1015 Emerson costing $4,800, at 1011 Emerson costing $4,800, at 1007 Emerson costing $4,800, at 1003 Emerson costing $4,800, and a brick veneer residence at 1012 Park avenue costing $5,000. All work will be done with day labor with Johnnie Usrey as superintendent.

H. T. Poulan will erect a building at 501 Morris avenue to be used as a work shop. Total cost will be $700 and day labor will be used.

A permit was issued to George R. Delay to erect a one-story frame dwelling at 111 Vernon street. Cost will not exceed $4,000 and day labor will be used.

often given at big world's fairs. There will be 11 pictures portrayed in fire and will include those of George Washington, President Truman and Niagara Falls as well as a number of others that will represent real art such as many have perhaps never before witnessed.

C. W. Moffett, for many years a local resident, but who now lives in Baton Rouge and is vice-president of traffic for the Louisiana Midland Railway company, "The Natchez Route", visited Monroe Saturday on business. Incidentally he greeted many old time friends. He states that his daughter, Miss Mary Moffett, is instructor in art at Louisiana Tech, while her sister, who formerly conducted a large dancing class here, and who is now Mrs. T. B. Dowling, resides in Washington State. Mr. Moffett said it seemed good to see old friends again.

We are in for a big week ahead. First of all we must recognize that this period is devoted nation-wide to the Optimist Clubs of America and also the Business and Professional Women have taken it over as their very own. Don't know whether this will hinder the Optimists or not. There may be room for both. Last week was national newspaper week, but it passed off satisfactorily with no member of the press in the Twin Cities being called upon for an address before any Monroe or West Monroe service club. Last Saturday night saw the close of two drives, those of the Monroe Little Theatre and the Monroe Civic Music association. This week starts the campaign of the Community Chest which should receive hearty support for it is a real civic cause.

A man who endeared himself to people of Monroe and who was an ardent booster and civic worker when he lived here, died in St. Louis, Mo. He was Dennis L. Carter, 50, who when in Monroe was division freight and passenger agent for the Missouri Pacific with offices in Hotel Virginia. He was promoted and taken away from Monroe to become assistant to the chief traffic officer of the Missouri Pacific with offices in the Missouri metropolis.

C. E. Faulk and Mrs. Faulk, returned to Monroe from New York City Thursday. Mr. Faulk was greatly delighted to return after a rather long stay in order to undergo a serious operation to restore his eyesight. The operation, performed by one of the nation's most skillful surgeons, was a complete success and he is now fast recovering his normal sight.

Rep. John Taber (R-NY) said in Berlin that he did "not think people in Europe generally work as hard as they should." Taber, who is chairman of the House Appropriations committee, said he had seen "no seriously underfed" persons during his tour of Europe.

The Russian licensed Berlin newspaper Nacht-Express today referred to Taber as an "American Babbit" and said:

"Mr. Taber holds a high congressional office but even so he does not have to decide over the destiny of Europe. We assume that wise Americans will bring a different view to the United States about hard working people."

In Rome Rep. Dewey Short (R-Mo), chairman of another touring congressional group, told newsmen his committee had found "a sad sick world." Declaring that European recovery was impossible without Germany, he said the Germans were dejected and discouraged by the appalling destruction of their country and were "making no effort to rebuild."

Case sailed on the liner Queen Mary with 18 other members of a special House committee on foreign aid headed by Rep. Christian A. Herter (R-Mass). Most of the members said they would withhold comment until the committee's report is complete.

100 PER CENT FINANCING URGED IN VET HOUSING

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Louis F. Guerre, regional manager for the Veterans Administration in New Orleans, said today that former servicemen buying homes under the G. I. Bill of Rights are required in some cases to make "down payments."

Guerre said in an interview:

"There is a growing tendency on the part of the mortgage lenders arbitrarily to require veterans buying homes to make down payments, despite the fact the government guarantees the lender against loss for 50 percent of the purchase price up to a maximum of $4,400."

Guerre added that he wanted to direct the attention of mortgage lenders to the fact that the fundamental purpose of the G. I. Act was to allow veterans "100 per cent financing" covering construction or purchase of homes.

STATE PATROLMEN MAKE 23 ARRESTS

Safety Law Violators Lead List; Three Nabbed For Drunk Driving

Violations of various safety laws again last week comprised the major category of 23 arrests by members of state police Troop "F," with two persons charged with passing a school bus, 14 with driving with improper lights, and three with drunk driving.

Arrested for passing a school bus while stopped to load children were G. C. Brooks, 48, of Delhi, and John A. Blanchard, 54, of Jackson, Miss.

Those charged with operating a vehicle with improper lights include Jake Martin, 28, of Newellton; E. N. Newman, 37, of Wisner; Clifton Gill, 27, and R. L. Fergurson, 45, of Winnsboro; Alton Stevens 24, and Albert E. Browning, of Gilbert; Alfred Busby, 19, of Clarks, also charged with driving without brakes: M. D. Wilkinson, 35, of Ferriday; B. A. Stevens, 29, of Monroe, and the following Negroes: Vlester Jackson, 21, of Winnsboro; John Wilson, 48, of Gilbert; Bennie Adams, 65, of Wisner; B. V. Payne, 23, and Dorries Mack, 33, of Monroe.

Ernest Wheeler, 38, Luna Star route, West Monroe, Walter Beal, 39, of Monroe, and I. N. Wallingsford, 38, of Calhoun, were all arrested for drunk driving. Wallingsford was also charged with obstructing traffic on a highway.

Other offenses were Teddy J. Johnson, 29, of Ruston, carrying a concealed weapon; V. E. Mauldin, 39, Route 1, West Monroe, reckless driving; George C. Tisdale, 36, of Bastrop, parking on a highway without lights; C. W. Duncan, 21, of Calhoun, driving without brakes; and Walter Willis, 36, Negro, West Monroe, reckless driving.

After prayers by army chaplains of the Jewish, Protestant and Roman Catholic faiths the speakers laid wreaths at the foot of a catafalque in the center of the flag-adorned square.

In the nearby Tower Cathedral all the bells were set pealing. An infantry squad fired the traditional three volleys and army buglers sounded taps.

Then military pall bearers lifted the single casket from the catafalque to a caisson. Flanked by a Belgian and American guard of honor, and with officials of the two countries forming a funeral cortege, the coffin was borne to the transport, which was decked with floral wreaths and garlands.

Above 24 thunderbolts from the army air forces in Germany circled the city. National anthems of the United States and Belgium sounded on the quays. While thousands stood silent the Thunderbolts skimmed the Scheldt river in a final tribute, and the transport moved out under escort of Belgian tugs and the U. S. navy destroyer Vesole.

The transport will stop in Argentia, Newfoundland, where an additional 600 American dead will be taken aboard, on its homeward trip.

Memorial services for the soldier dead were held elsewhere in Western Europe coincident with the sailing.

In Italy the American forces staged retreat ceremonies and flags were flown at half staff in Trieste and Leghorn.

At Frankfurt, Germany, U. S. troops lined up on the grounds of European command headquarters of Gen. Clay for "taps" and a moment of silence. A similar ceremony was conducted at American constabulary headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany.

The majority of the caskets will go to Philadelphia, New York, Columbus and Chicago, graves registration officials said. The body of one American nurse—Lt. Frances Y. Slanger of Roxbury, Mass., killed three years ago in a front line hospital near Liege, is among them. Names of the others have not been publicly announced.

LEATHERNECK LEAGUE TO MEET TUESDAY

In fulfillment of one of its main purposes, support of the Marine Corps, the Northeast Louisiana Detachment of the Marine Corps League will devote its meeting Tuesday night at the Ouachita Parish Courthouse to furthering organization of the Leatherneck organized reserve unit allotted to Monroe.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock at the court house.

The unit assigned to Monroe, with membership open to residents of nearby communities, is a rifle outfit, Company D, 10th Battalion. Captain A. M. Newburn, retiring commandant of the local detachment of the Marine Corps League, has been designated commanding officer of the company. Captain W. E. Antley, Jr., who has four Pacific campaigns to his credit as a member of the Fourth Marine Division, has been named executive officer.

Members of the unit, which has an authorized strength of approximately 250, will receive the pay of their grades for one night of instruction each week and a two weeks' encampment each year. Two enlisted instructors will be stationed here to assist in training the company.

Enlistments are now being received for Company D by Staff Sergeant Chester Mathis at the Marine recruiting office in the postoffice.

FIRE ALARMS

Company 3 extinguished a grass blaze at 703 Alexander avenue at 12:41 p. m. yesterday.

Firemen of company 4, after extinguishing a grass fire on the corner of Alabama and Winnsboro streets at 12:56 p. m. yesterday, answered an alarm on the 1700 block of South Grand street where a automobile was reported ablaze. Firemen, answering the alarm at 3:30 p. m., said the fire was out when they arrived.

Between 1900 and 1930 the U. S. Patent Office issued an average of more than 40,000 patents a year.

YANKS NIP DODGERS, 2-1, IN 5TH SERIES TILT

SHEA'S FOUR-HIT PITCHING SENDS BOMBERS AHEAD

Lavagetto Misses 9th Inning Chance To Repeat Friday's Performance

By Gayle Talbot

BROOKLYN, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Frank (Spec) Shea, brilliant freshman pitcher, and the great Joe DiMaggio combined their talents today to give the Yankees a tense 2-to-1 triumph over the Dodgers in the fifth game of the World Series at Ebbets Field and move the Bronx Bombers within one victory of their 11th world championship.

Frank Shea

Cookie Lavagetto, the Dodger pinchhitter who bounced a game-winning double off the fence in the ninth inning to win yesterday's thriller for the Flatbushers, went down swinging for the final out today with the tying run on second base. It was too much to expect Cookie to do it twice in a row.

Shea, in racking up his second victory of the playoffs, pitched a superb four-hitter and knocked across the Yankees' first run off young Rex Barney, the losing Brooklyn flinger. DiMaggio smashed his second home run of the series into the left field upperdeck in the fifth frame to provide Shea with all the margin he needed.

Brooklyn scored its lone run off the Naugatuck, Conn., righthander in the sixth when he issued two walks and Jackie Robinson, Dodger first baseman, drove a single off Shea's glove into center field for a single. Shea's dramatic strikeout of Lavagetto as Dodger fans prayer for another miracle was his seventh of the contest.

Although Brooklyn threw four pitchers into the fray, including the ever-ready Hugh Casey for the third time in as many days, it was not necessarily as a tribute to Yankee power. Outside of the two vital blows by Shea and DiMaggio, the only other hits the winners collected were a single and a double by Tommy Henrich and a double to the fence by Shea after two were out in the eighth.

DiMaggio's circuit blow, in fact, possibly saved the clipper from going down as the official goat of the game. In three other attempts the Yankee star rapped feebly into two double plays and struck out, each time with runners on base.

It was a tight, well-played game, the second in a row in a series which had threatened to go into the books as possibly the worst ever. For the second straight day the interborough rivals left their funny faces at home and played it straight, and the crowd of 34,379 was appreciative.

Barney, 22-year-old surprise starter for the Dodgers, gave up both Yankee scores before he had to be lifted soon after DiMaggio's blow, but he did surprisingly well, considering everything. It was the first game the kid from Omaha had started since July 4, and he was as wild as the northern winds, but the American Leaguers had a tough time getting him out of there.

In the four and two-thirds innings he worked the young fireballer issued nine walks, within one of the new World Series record set only yesterday by the ill-starred Bill Bevins of the Yanks, yet only one of them figured in the scoring against him.

Shea's control, on the other hand, was immaculate through the early part of the game, and he didn't let a Dodger reach first until Pee Wee Reese worked him for a walk with one out in the fourth. Thereafter the Yankee star gave up two passes in each of two following innings, and one of them, opening the sixth, led to Brooklyn's only run.

For four frames Shea had a no-hitter working. Only two balls had been knocked out of the infield on him in that time, and people were beginning to look at one another. But Shea was spared any further strain on that score when Gene Hermanski opened the fifth with a clean single between first and second and into right field.

Hermanski's hit, as a matter of curiousity, was only the second made by the Dodgers in 13 full innings of swinging at the Yankee elbowers. The other was, of course, Lavagetto's unforgettable punch that broke up yesterday's struggle.

BERNSTEIN HOBBY CENTER ASSURED

City Grants Site To Miniature Auto, Airplane, And Boat Racers

With the assurance of a site for a hobby center at Bernstein Park, miniature and model enthusiasts of Monroe and West Monroe started work yesterday preparing to get their park site in condition for the presentation of miniature automobile races, model airplane races, and miniature boat events.

C. R. Tidwell, commissioner of streets and parks of Monroe, advised the Miniature Car Model Association here the past week that the city council, also including Mayor H. H. Benoit and Commissioner W. D. Rodriquez, had concurred with a proposal by the hobbyist that they be granted a part of Bernstein Park for their recreation program.

The new recreation site at Bernstein will be known as the Bernstein Hobby Center, and the program will be sponsored by the Monroe Recreation department under Director Jack Hesketh.

The model boat builders of the Twin Cities have never had a site to show their talent, and the model airplane racers have been trying for over a year to get a permanent place to race their ships.

The miniature automobile racers built their own track at Lakeside Country Club a little over a year ago, and then lost out when the country club site was sold for residential purposes. Then the auto racers, airplane builders, and model boat boys got together to consolidate their efforts in obtaining a permanent site for the pursuit of their hobbies. The Bernstein Hobby Center is the result.

According to present plans, the center will front on Buck Jones road with an auto track, boat pond, two flying strips, and an archery range in the present plans. A spokesman for the group said last night that it was also hoped that a miniature train, capable of hauling small children, would be built later on to provide additional recreation.

YALE BLANKS CORNELL

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Yale, paced by Ferd Nedhearny and Jim Fuchs, a talented rookie, today blanked scrappy Cornell, 14 to 0, in a rough Ivy league football battle in the bowl before 50,000.

LUJACK PUSHES IRISH THROUGH FOR 40-6 WIN

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Notre Dame gridiron express ran late today but Engineer Johnny Lujack's adroitness generated enough steam to bring the Fighting Irish home on schedule with a 40-6 victory over a surprisingly tough band of Pitt Panthers.

It was Notre Dame's first start and the 64,333 fans on hand blinked in disbelief as the Panthers made things hot for almost a full half.

DEADLINE TODAY FOR CITY EVENT

Entry List Mounts To 24 For Golf Tourney At Municipal Club

The list of entries for the City Championship Golf Tournament opening here next week mounted to 24 yesterday as three more Monroe golfers posted their qualifying scores, Pro Gene Shirah of Municipal Golf Club announced last night.

Henry Gilliland, C. I. Morrow, and H. D. Holmes came in with their qualifying scores yesterday, but they failed to overhaul Everett E. Lawson, leader for medalist honors with a two-over-par 74.

Gilliland came in with an 87 yesterday, Morrow posted a 99, and Holmes qualified with 95.

"If the rest of the high handicap golfers come in we will have a good field for the event," Pro Shirah declared last night. "However, the high handicappers seem a bit bashful about entering although its fellows like them that help to make tournaments."

The deadline for posting qualifying scores is today, and the event will get started with contestants being allowed a full week in which to play each match.

The high 16 qualifiers will be put in the championship flight, and all other flights will be arranged for eight players each. Awards await winners in all flights.

TULANE ALUMNI PREPARE PLANS FOR HOMECOMING

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Tulane Alumni Association announced today its plans for a homecoming celebration at the university here October 17-18.

A homecoming queen will be crowned during halftime ceremonies at the Tulane-Ole Miss football game.

The ole grads will tour Tulane's campus, inspect fraternity houses, elect new officers, and even get in a little dancing with the current crop of collegians.

MIGHTY BULLDOG OFFENSIVE HITS IN LAST QUARTER

Tigers Grab Early Lead Of 12-0 Before Props Knocked From Under Them

By Chick Hosch

ATHENS, Ga. Oct. 4.—(AP)—Georgia tied a knot in the tail of the mighty Tiger from Louisiana State here today and then kicked him all over Sanford Field for a surprise 35-19 victory—the first in eight attempts—before 40,000 fans.

The Tigers, rated as the Southeastern Conference's most powerful outfit, got away to a 12-0 lead in the opening five minutes, and looked geared for a terrific rout. But Georgia knocked the props from under the visitors in a roaring comeback and kept belting them until the final whistle.

Johnny Rausch, Georgia quarterback, was directly responsible for the first two Tiger scores with erratic ball-handling, but he redeemed himself after that to toss three scoring passes.

The Bulldog line, which last week played gallantly in losing to North Carolina, was superb today and rushed the Tiger backs so furiously that they netted only 24 yards on the ground. By forward passes the Tigers picked up 78, but Georgia made 143 through the air by completing 12 out of 18 tosses. The Tigers made good on six of ten heaves.

The Bulldogs had a 19-9 edge on first downs and piled up 203 yards rushing as they mastered the crew of Coach Bernie Moore in every department. The victory for Wally Butts was as sweet as it was surprising, for the verdict was at the expence of his one-time coach.

Stan Nestorak, who has played little since he figured prominently in Georgia's 1944 win over Alabama, came back today to spark the Bulldog running attack with Floyd Reid. Nestorak gained 52 yards in eight tries while Reid picked up 56 in seven attempts.

Dan Edwards, Bulldog captain, took two of Rauch's scoring passes and the other was pulled in by Lukie Brunson. Reid scored the other two tallies on the ground. The Bulldogs cashed in on drives of 63 yards, 45 yards, 65 yards, 69 yards and then 21 yards after a 50 yard pass interception runback by Ken McCall. The Tigers went 34 yards on one drive and 52 on their last with a 18-yard pass interception by Abner Wimberly accounting for the second score.

The Tigers grabbed their 12-0 lead in the opening minutes, going 34 yards for the first score after recovering a Georgia fumble. The second was an outright gift from Rauch as he practically handed the ball to Abner Wimberly, LSU end, on the Georgia 18 while trying to make a flat pass.

Y. A. Tittle missed both placement attempts.

Wimberly had scored the first touchdown on an 18-yard pass from Tittle, which was preceded by a 15-yard run by Bill Schroll.

The Bulldogs charged back 63 yards for their first tally and then went 45 for the second with Rauch's passes highlighting both attacks. Bill Henderson and Floyd Reid led the ground assault into L. S. U. territory, on the first drive but it stalled at the Tiger 30. Rauch then hit Weyman Sellers and Dan Edwards with short passes to make it first down on the 10. Reid bulled over on fourth.

The Tigers drove back to midfield but two savage rushes by the Bulldog line set them back on their own 20 and Rip Collins kicked out of his own 45. The Bulldogs never let up from that point, scoring on a 15-yard pass, Rauch to Edwards. Joe Geri's placements made it 14-12 for Georgia at intermission.

The Tigers drove 52 yards early in the third period to again take the lead, 19-14, as Tittle, who had kept the drive alive with short passes to Don Hemphill and Al Heroman,

NO GRID BATTLES HERE THIS WEEK; TWO TEAMS IDLE, NEVILLE ON ROAD

There will be no football in Monroe next week-end as the Northeast Junior College Indians and the Ouachita Parish High School Lions rest through open dates while the Neville High School Tigers go to Jonesboro for a Class A conference scrap with Jonesboro-Hodge High's Bengals Friday night.

N. J. C. will be using the next two weeks getting ready for Arkansas College here October 17. The undefeated Ouachita Lions can well use the open date to prepare for the Haynesville Golden Tornado which right now is considered the team to beat in the north Louisiana double A title chase. Coach Jim Hodgins' Lions face the Tornado at Haynesville on October 17.

The Neville Tigers, already winning attention as a possible Class A title contender and beaten only by the Bogalusa Lumberjacks by the bare margin of 13-12, will be making their second showing in conference competition against Jonesboro. The Tigers showed a world of offensive power in beating Rayville the past week, and the fact that they held the Class AA powerhouse Bogalusa to a one-point victory margin in their opener has the Neville aggregation rating pretty high.

BASTROP RAMS GAIN TIE WITH JONESBORO-HODGE

BASTROP, La., Oct. 4.—(Special)—An inexperienced Bastrop High School football team held the Jonesboro-Hodge Tigers to a scoreless tie here last night and shaded the Bengals in the first down department, 12 to 5.

Chief ground-gainers for the Rams were Lawrence Fragala, Dan Todd and big Pierce Lindsey, the latter really picking up yards when they were most needed. The Bastrop backfield averages 145 pounds without Lindsey who tips the scales at 170.

Bobby Lamb also stood out at guard for the locals.

Jonesboro-Hodge quick kicking was the bright feature of the invaders' performance, and the kicks really pulled the Tigers out of holes and kept the Ram offense bogged down at times.

Coach Charles Thomas takes his Rams to Tallulah next week-end for a scrap with Coach Devon Payne's Tallulah Trojans. In two Class A conference scraps to date, the Rams have came up with scoreless ties against Winnfield in addition to Jonesboro-Hodge.

After reaching maturity, trees lose vigor and eventually, subject to diseases and pests, die.

PRO GRID RIVALS PLAY IMPORTANT CONTESTS TODAY

Los Angeles, Green Bay Scrap Today Tops National Circuit

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—(Special)—With five games, all of which will have a bearing on the pace-setter of the week in both the eastern and western divisions, scheduled for tomorrow, the National Football League moves into its second week of what promises to be one of the most interesting championship races in years.

Los Angeles and Green Bay currently sharing first place with the vastly improved Chicago Cardinals, will meet in Milwaukee in what is expected to be one of the thrillers of the day.

The Cardinals will meet their town rivals, Chicago Bears, in a contest that will have a direct bearing on the ultimate western division title holder. For the Halasmen, defeated by the Packers in the season's inaugural, the result of the game is highly important. A defeat and the Bears will have a long uphill climb if it is to repeat its divisional triumph of last season. A victory for Jimmy Conzelman's eleven will make it a strong favorite in the western division race.

Detroit, the other western division team, which lost a heartbreaker to Boston and then succumbed to the Cardinals, will meet Boston's potent team in the Hub.

In the east, Philadelphia, which displayed a powerful offense in defeating Washington, will engage the New York Giants in Shibe Park. The Giants, tied by Boston last week, will go into action after only four days' rest meeting a team that has its strongest line in years and a passing and running attack that rolled up 45 points against Washington, the largest score in the 20-year history of the series.

Pittsburgh, which won its opener over Detroit and lost to Bob Waterfield and his mates last Monday, will meet Washington and Sammy Baugh in the Capitol. The brilliant Redskin passer last week scored hits on 21 of his 34 passes and brought his all-time mark of successful completions to 1,013. The yardage gained on his passes was 364.

Washington, anxious to get back on contention, may prove a tartar to Jock Sutherland's hard-hitting team, which many followers of the league believe to be a dark horse in the east despite its defeat by Los Angeles.

In the series between the teams, New York leads Philadelphia 19 to 6,

CITATION SPRINTS HOME 1ST TO TAKE BELMONT VICTORY

Whirling Fox Finishes 2nd In Futurity; Bewitch In Third

By Fred Hayden

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Warren Wright's Citation, latest of the Calumet colts to bid for a championship, today won the famed Belmont Futurity like a future Whirlaway or Armed—and his filly partner, Bewitch was third.

Splitting the pair was William Woodward's Whirlaway colt, Whirlaway Fox, which trailed Citation by three lengths while barely heading Bewitch for the place. Robert J. Kleberg's Better Self was fourth in the field of 14 blue-blooded juveniles stepping a straight six and a half furlongs, another length and a half away.

This 58th Futurity grossed $106,030 and netted the victor $78,430. Whirlaway Fox earned $11,600 and Bewitch, $6,800. Better Self drew down $2,000.

The Calumet entry ruled favored at $3.70 for two. They paid $2.40 for place and more for show—$2.90. Citation was teletimed in a swift 1:15 4/5 with Al Snider in the saddle.

Calumet Farm's already unprecedented earnings for a stable in one season zoomed to $1,239,021, including today's $85,230 futurity gleanings. Citation, whose record now stands at seven wins in eight tries—his lone loss was behind Bewitch in the Washington Park Futurity—has earned $119,005. It was his second stakes triumph, he having captured the Elementary Stakes at Washington Park.

Bewitch, had she won, would have beaten Top Flight's 16-year-old record for a two-year old filly's earnings. That junior miss in 1931 earned $219,000. Bewitch, which won eight straight prior to two setbacks at the current meeting, now has $213,675. A week ago, the Miss America of the country's equines was disqualified after finishing first in the Matron Stakes.

The 28th Jockey Club Gold Cup of two miles brought a major upset when Mrs. E. D. Jacobs' Stymie, the world money-winning champ, finished a distant last in the three-horse field as C. V. Whitney's Phalanx nosed out Richard N. Ryan's Talon for the $17,850 first money and the cup.

Phalanx, the second choice, paid $5 for two and ran the distance in 3:21 3/5 under Ruperto Donoso.

ARMY CRUSHES TO 47-0 VICTORY

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Army's 1947 football team, with a horde of fast backs operating behind two big lines, smothered Colorado 47 to 0 today for its second victory of the season. The Cadets scored in every period with Rip Rowan making two of the Army touchdowns.

AUBURN SUBDUES PLUCKY TECHMEN IN 14-0 SETBACK

Final Effort By Crippled Tiger Star Proves Game's Highlight

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Auburn Tigers gladdened the hearts of some 12,000 homecoming ay fans here today with two touchdowns in the second half for a 14-0 victory over lucky Louisiana Tech.

The first Tiger score, on a 60-yard drive, was set up by a brilliant 45-yard run by little Billy Ball, junior halfback from Winston-Salem, N. C. Russell Inman, quarterback from Birmingham, took the final yard on a smash at center.

Although the game was won, the last play of the contest provided the most spectacular moment. Travis Tidwell, the crippled Tiger star, dropped back for a fourth down pass from the Auburn 40 with two seconds left.

He found End Bill Waddail in the open at the Tech 20 and pitched a strike. Waddail sprinted into the end zone after the gun had sounded. The play covered 60 yards.

Fine punting by little Jimmy Bres and the slippery running of Joe Rabb had kept the Tigers fairly well bottled for most of the game.

Tech was deep in Auburn territory twice early in the game, once on Bres' long pass to Jim Gilbert, good for 41 yards to the Tiger 12, and again on Odelle Rigdon's recovery of a fumble at the Tiger 17.

On both occasions the Auburn line dug in and stopped the Tech attack, with Center Hal Herring figuring prominently each time.

After the Auburn score in the third, the Tech men managed to work the ball into Tiger territory only once, and that effort was stalled when Freddie Gafford intercepted a last-hope pass at his 24.

Auburn had a wide edge in the statistics, running up 285 yards total to 81.

The lineups:

Louisiana Tech	Pos.	Auburn
Newman	LE	Pyburn
Rigdon	LT	Adcock
Salvaggio	LG	Poundstone
Hay	C	Herring
Reed	RG	Fulmer
Kelley	RT	Lannon

TAG TEAM BRAWL TOPS WRESTLING SHOW AT KALLIO'S

Curtis, Rodriquez Renew Feud With Craig, Achiu As Partners

Burly Carlos Rodriquez, the rowdy Mexican light heavyweight who missed his chance at the world's light-heavy mat crown here last week when he was disqualified in a brawl with Champion Jack Curtis, gets another whack at Curtis here Tuesday night when they renew their rivalry as leaders of opposing tag teams at Gus Kallio's Arena.

Promoter Gus Kallio last night announced Rodriquez, whose specialty is tag team brawls, challenged for the match on the condition that he be permitted to select his own partner. The Mexican then declared that Walter Achiu, the temperamental Chinese matman from Hawaii, would be in his corner.

Curtis in turn chose George Craig, Louisiana state light heavyweight kingpin from Tulsa, Okla.

Rodriquez was "fighting mad" last Tuesday night when he was disqualified in his title scramble, causing him to lose his $50 forfeit for using illegal tactics, and also his bid for the crown. He wasted no time complaining to Promoter Kallio and asking for a rematch, but the best he could get was the tag show in which no title is at stake.

Kallio said Rodriquez agreed to the tag bout only if he was successful in obtaining the aid of Achiu, and with the promise that they would be furnished with police protection.

The promoter, remembering what happened the last time the China boy appeared here, readily agreed to furnish the necessary police protection to escort the wrestlers to and from the ring and also to keep the fans from taking a hand in the proceedings.

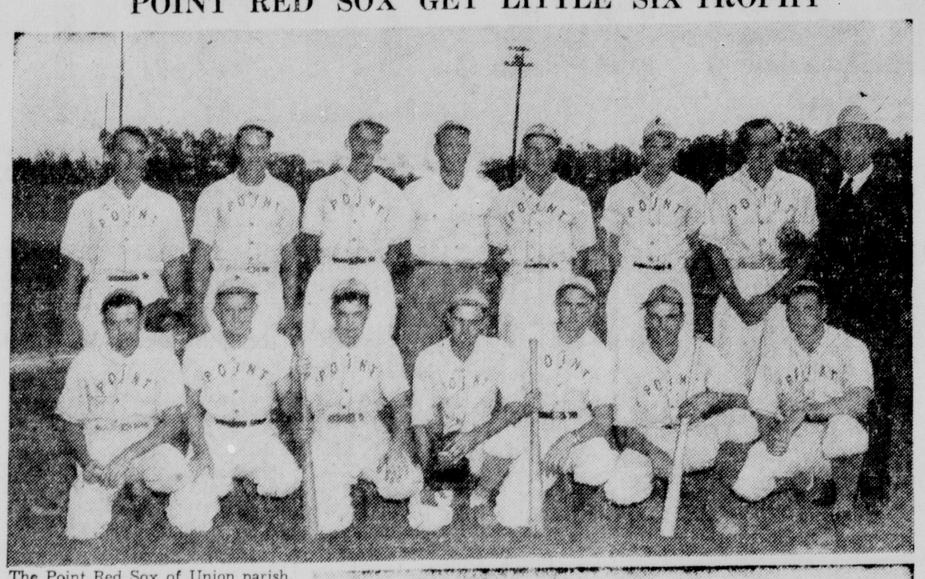

Achieu, on his last visit here several weeks ago, caused one of the worst riots ever to develop at Kallio's Walnut street arena when angered fans chased the Chinese to his dressing room swinging chairs and fists. Achieu was paired at that time with Rodriquez against Craig and Allen Parker, and while Achieu was busy defending himself from the wrath of the customers, Rodriquez took a bad beating from the Craig team.

Curtis, who readily agreed to meet Rodriquez and Achieu, wanted to keep the name of his partner as a secret and surprise for the Mexican-Chinese opposition Tuesday, but Promoter Kallio said that under Louisiana law it would be necessary to announce the name of the wrestler if he had been decided on.

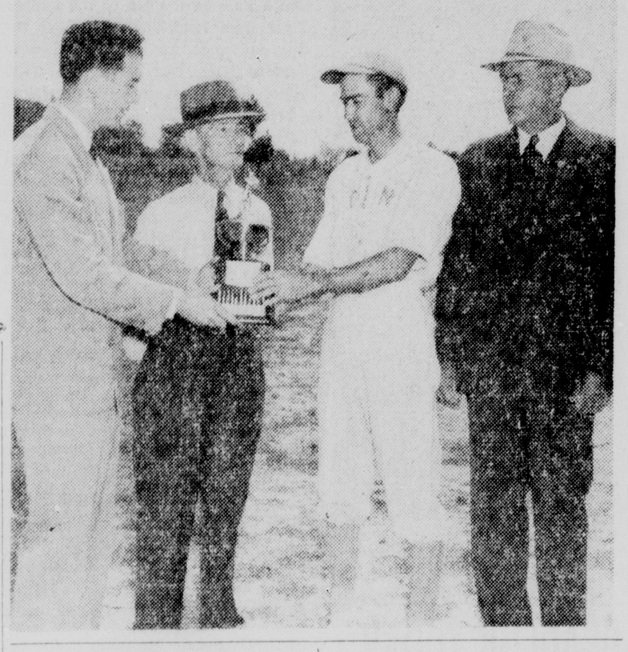

"Then you can tell them they'll have to watch out for Craig," Curtis declared. "I consider Craig one of the finest light heavyweights operating in this section at the present, and we'll be more than a match for those two despite their free use of tactics frowned upon by followers of catch-as-catch-can."

The tag scramble will be over a 90-minute time limit route with two falls to win. Two one-fall ten-minute time limit matches will open the night's card at 8:30 o'clock.

VANDERBILT CONQUERS ALABAMA

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Vanderbilt heaved a 61-yard touchdown pass in the first period and scored again in the final period to defeat Alabama 14 to 7 today in a Southeastern Conference contest before a capacity audience of 22,500. Alabama scored late in the game after both Commodore touchdwons. It was Vanderbilt's second win of the season and Alabama's second loss.

VANDERBILT, OLE MISS RENEW FUSS SATURDAY

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Oct. 4.—(Special)—One of the most ancient of Dixie's football rivalries—Ole Miss and Vanderbilt—will be renewed next Saturday in Nashville with the invading Rebels facing what probably will be a favored Commodore team.

Precedent, if nothing else, would furnish Vandy with a working margin for the Commodores, a 7-0 winner last fall, hold 22 decisions to a slim three for the Rebs, who took their first win in 1939.

The series began in 1894—score 50-0—and Vanderbilt took 19 victories before Ole Miss turned up a winner. Since '38, in Southeastern competition, the two teams have broken even.

This time out, the Commodores will show with a solid defensive framework built around what is probably the best line in the conference. Guards Tex Robertson and Ken Cooper, End John North and Center Charlie Hoover, all stickout performers, anchor the Vandy wall.

Hoover, faced a week ahead of his leg break, was rated the best linesman the Rebs faced in '46.

Additional answers to the figuring were turned up over the week-end with Vandy facing Alabama at Nashville and Ole Miss going against South Carolina in Memphis.

The Rebels, with more than one ace in their own backyard, may have the answers in Charley Conerly, the hard-running passing specialist; an agile tackle in Bill Erickson and a great end in Barney Poole.

It's doubtful, however, if they can match the Vanderbilt arsenal man for man. The Commodores, as the Rebs know full well, are always tough.

Recovered Maroon Fumble Sets Up Chance For 7-0 Victory

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Michigan State bounced back from a crushing 55-0 defeat by Michigan last week to squeak out a 7-0 win over Mississippi State today before 22,562 partisan fans.

Although most of the game was played in Spartan territory, the State men managed to beat off successive scoring threats and grounded the passing attack that was expected to give the favored Maroons the victory.

The game went scoreless until the last half of the third quarter when a recovered fumble set up the Spartan scoring chance. Lynn Chandnois intercepted one of the many passes thrown by Tom "Shorty" McWilliams on the Sparton 36 and carried it to the enemy 31.

The advantage showed up when Michigan State took over on their own 46 after an exchange of punts. Bob Krestel, a third string quarterback tossed to Ken Balge on the Maroon 41 for a first down and two plays later Krestel connected again to John Gilman on the 27 for a first down on the 23.

After a line buck and an incomplete pass Krestel flipped a short pass cross the line to Warren Huey who went over standing up for the game's only touchdown. George E. Smith converted the extra point.

The Maroons dominated the play in the statistics, gaining 13 through rushing and 59 through pases against 78 yards rushing and 43 yards on forwards for the Spartans.

But Michigan State bottled up the passing attack that won their first game for the Maroons as only four of 19 tossed were successful. Michigan State completed three out of five forwards and these three accounted for the score.

Mississippi State's biggest scoring threat came in the second period when they intercepted a pass on the M. S. C. 44. The visitors' attack carried them to the winners' five-yard line. After two rushing plays were stopped for losses, Matulich tossed two passes but both were grounded and the Spartans took over on their own 10.

SPORTS ROUND UP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—"We've been winning them like that all season. Now I wouldn't be much surprised if we'd win four that way." . . . The speaker was Branch Rickey, Jr., after the Dodgers staggered through to their first world series triumph Thursday and he referred, of course, to the way the Bums clung desperately but successfully to their one-run lead. . . . Even in his wildest dreams Branch couldn't have foreseen yesterday's finish—the end of a game that was won with a single pitch and a single hit. . . . Not many of the 33,000 spectators who saw Hugh Casey sniff out a Yankee rally the first time he threw the ball and Cookie Lavagetto drive in the winning runs with the first hit off Bill Bevens would be surprised at anything that may happen from now on.

Anyway, Casey got even . . . up to yesterday, the most exciting finish of a world series game in Ebbets Field was in that celebrated 1941 contest when Casey threw what would have been the winning strike and the ball got away from Mickey Owen . . . The Yanks went on to win then, and big Hughie was the victim . . . Yesterday he came in with the bases full and the Yanks starting what looked like a scoring spree. He pitched once, fielded Tommy Henrich's topped drive and threw home to start a double play. . . . No wonder Organist Gladys Goodding serenaded departing fans with "Casey Waltzed with the Strawberry Blonde."

Flatbush Frolic

Naturally, a fan swiped Lavagetto's cap while the Dodgers were mobbing him but a couple of ushers pursued the culprit and got it back. . . . Bevens still owes a few votes of thanks to his outfielders for his 8 2/3 innings of hitless ball. Johnny Lindell dashed over beyond the foul line in the second to make a tumbling catch of Jackie Robinson's drive in the third and he backed up against the wall to snatch Bruce Edwards' smash in the ninth. Joe DiMaggio, who was caught trying to score from first on Edwards' heave into right field in the third, made up for that with a running one-hand catch of Gene Hermanski's fly in the fourth. And Tommy Henrich averted a hit in the eighth by leaping up in front of the scoreboard for a one-hand stab of another Hermanski drive. . . . The autograph seekers mobbed Commissioner Happy Chandler after the game and he signed everything. Probably, like everyone else, he was feeling too weak to run.

Pressroom Pickups

Jimmy Dykes, who probably is the highest salaried minor league manager, is reported flying east for a conference with Cleveland's Bill Veeck. . . . Popular rumor has the Yanks' Frank Crosetti joining his old boss, Joe McCarthy, as a Red Sox coach. . . . Some southern scribes here for the series are certain Notre Dame will receive and accept the Sugar Bowl bid if the Irish have a good season. . . . Brooklyn Boss Branch Rickey maintains his Dodgers could set a record for stealing bases against Bill Bevens—and Yogi Berra wouldn't handicap them much. . . . Hard luck guy of the series is the operator of the elevator going to the Ebbets Field press box. He flew to St. Louis to see that "important" late season series, but when the big doings took place in his home park yesterday he was standing in his cage and couldn't see a thing.

RAZORBACKS ROOT UP TEXAS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Arkansas' Razorbacks opened defense of their Southwest Conference football co-championship by nosing out Texas Christian University, 6 to 0, before 16,000 sweltering fans here today. Arkansas scored on a pass in the first quarter and held onto its margin by staving off a barrage of Horned Frog passes.

KILGORE RANGERS SHADE N. J. C. INDIANS, 14-7

Tech Yellow Jackets Outclass Tulane To Tune Of 20-0

FAVORED TEXANS FIND TRIBESMEN HARD TO HANDLE

Intercepted Pass, Pass Interference Set Up Ranger TD's

A powerful Kilgore Junior College eleven, two-deep in topnotch junior college talent, came through as expected with victory last night over the Northeast Junior College of L. S. U. Indians, but the Rangers found their opposition more potent than anticipated as the embattled Redskins fought them on even terms throughout most of the ball game.

Kilgore won, 14 to 7, on the strength of a pass interception and a pass that was ruled complete for interference, both setting up Ranger touchdowns after the Indians had jumped into a surprise lead, 7-0, early in the first quarter.

Actually, the Tribesmen might have been playing over their heads as they turned in the finest game of football they have played here this season and matched the Rangers in the first down department with eleven each.

Approximately 6,000 fans, largest crowd ever to turn out for an N. J. C. game here, was on hand for the contest that was a thriller from start to finish, and a magnificent goal-line stand by the Tribe in the last quarter brought the mob to its feet as the Redskins stopped the Rangers cold on the N. J. C. one and ruined their final threat to score a third time.

N. J. C. got the jump on the Rangers in the first period when Alan Neveau fumbled and Claude Brawner recovered for the Tribe on the Texans' 26. On the very next play Woody Boyles rifled a pass to Thomas Moncrief in the end zone for the touchdown that put the Indians out in front, and Boyles kicked the point.

But a few minutes later, with the ball on their own 18, the Indians lost the ball when a Boyles' pass was intercepted on the 30 by P. L. Milam who raced the ball back to the N. J. C. two where he was hauled down by Brawner. It was an easy matter for Fred Blair, 235-pound Ranger fullback, to plow the rest of the way through the middle of the line, and Leroy Southerland kicked the point that tied the score.

There was no more scoring until late in the third quarter when the Rangers opened up with three straight pass completions, one ruled so for interference, to sew up the game.

A fumble gave Kilgore the ball on the Ranger 44 as Rex Bullock recovered. Johnny Powers fired a 14-yard pass to Ed Staggs, and passed again to Max Clark for nine. Neveux slipped through the middle for ten on the Indian 23. Powers got four at right guard, and then Kilgore was penalized five for offsides. Powers cocked back with another pass to Clark near the goal lines and Elwood Blakewood, Indian back, was charged with interference, and the pass ruled complete on the Tribe four. The Rangers fumbled but managed to gain two yards, and then Blair railroaded the ball the rest of the way through the middle. Keith Hightower kicked the point.

The Rangers came hammering right back late in the final period, driving from their own 39 to the Indian one where the Redskins put on a desperate stand and finally stopped Mr. Blair cold. With first and goal to go on the Indian ten, Clark was held to one yard at right tackle. Blair got four through the middle, and hit the same spot for four more, then on fourth down and a yard to go, the Indian defense finally plugged the middle to hold Blair to no gain, and the Redskins took the ball over on downs and kicked out of danger.

The line making the goal line stand included Bob Lively, a tackle who had been shifted to end, Martin Biddy and Charles Dillon at tackles, Brawner and Rudy Broussard at guards, J. M. McBeth in the middle of the line, and Moncrief at end.

Every Indian participating in the game gave a good account of himself, and the Texans earned everything they got. Jerry Gregg, Olan Silk, and Woody Boyles handled most of the Tribes ball carrying chores, getting off good runs, while Clark, Blair, Neveau, and Powers stood out in the Kilgore backfield.

"I've got no complaints," Coach James L. Malone declared after the game. "My boys gave all they had, and we couldn't ask for more. We don't feel so bad about losing the game, especially when we were rated to take a bad beating. In a way the game was a moral triumph, and if we can just keep on playing the same kind of ball I'll be satisfied this season."

The Indians outgained the Rangers with their running attack, rolling up 397 yards rushing against 186 the same way for Kilgore. N. J. C. lost 48 yards rushing, and the Rangers lost 41. But Kilgore took the edge in

RICE OWLS IN 7-7 TIE WITH MIGHTY TROJANS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Rice Owls of the Southwest Conference and Southern California on the Pacific Coast waged furious grid combat for four quarters today and both were lucky to leave the field with a 7-7 tie in the first meeting of the two schools.

A crowd of 64,231 saw the big blue and grey eleven from Texas outplayed in the first half, come back in the third quarter and score seven points.

The vaunted Trojans traveled 81 yards in 13 plays to tie the count as the clock ticked into the final two minutes of the contest.

Georgia Tech Fumbles Away Opportunities For Wider Margin

By Kris Kreeger

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets scored three touchdowns with arrogant ease, then held on throughout a dull second half to beat the Tulane Green Wave 20 to 0, today before 48,000.

Tech looked so good in the first half that the Jackets could lose the ball five times on fumbles and still thoroughly outclass the Wave.

Frank Ziegler bulled his way 29 yards for the first Tech touchdown and Jim Still's passing brought the others. Dinky Bowen placekicked the extra points.

Tech's line manhandled the Tulane forwards mercilessly, stopping Wave plays at the source and opening wide holes for Ziegler and Bowen. In that first half Tulane made only two first downs, both on the Tech second line.

Tech's display of class was confined to the first eleven.

The Jacket subs could do no better than hold their own.

Bennie Ellender's passing, a potent weapon for Tulane against Alabama last week, was useless today. He missed several tosses, badly, receivers dropped a few others, and Tech intercepted one to start a scoring drive.

Tech went 51 yards in four plays for its first touchdown, after five minutes time had elapsed, Ziegler drove 29 yards, for the score, twisting and stiff-arming his way right down the middle.

The Jackets fumbled away two more scoring chances, then made another four-play scoring drive for 53 yards. Still opened the push by passing to

INDIAN-ST. LOUIS TRADE POSTPONED

Cleveland President Says Boudreau To Stay With Club

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Bill Veeck of the Cleveland Indians intimated today that a projected deal that would have sent Indian Manager Lou Boudreau to the St. Louis Browns in return for Vernon Stephens and two other players had fallen through.

"At the moment there is nothing pending concerning Boudreau," said Veeck. "Or rather, there was something pending but it didn't develop. That doesn't mean he might be traded some time in the future."

Veeck did not specifically identify the nature of the trade that had been pending, but said "the proposition was made by the other fellows, and nothing came of it."

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—(AP)—A bombardment of telephone calls and telegrams from Cleveland fans had Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, hesitating today in plans to trade away Lou Boudreau, Tribe manager since 1942.

At the world series yesterday Veeck told Gordon Cobbledick, Cleveland Plain Dealer sports editor, he would fly here today to see for himself how fans are reacting to reports of a deal to send Boudreau to the St. Louis Browns.

After the telegrams and phone calls started coming in, Veeck called a temporary halt to a deal that would have sent the flying Frenchman along with Pitchers Red Embree and Bryan Stephens to the Browns for Shortstop Vernon Stephens, Outfielder Paul Lehner and Pitcher Jack Kramer, Cobbledick reported.

"I don't want to do anything to alienate our customers," the writer quoted Veeck as saying. "They're the people who keep us in business. On the other hand, I have to be guided in the long run by my best judgment and the best advice I can get."

Boudreau, smooth-fielding Tribe shortstop and an Indian since 1939, had no comment from his home at Harvey, Ill. "Any announcement or comment must come from Veeck," he said and added he "possibly may see Veeck after the world series."

The fiery 30-year-old pilot had wide popularity here.

In the Chicago Tribune this morning, Sports Editor Arch Ward said in a dispatch from Brooklyn that Jimmy Dykes, manager of the Hollywood Stars "is flying to New York to confer with Harry Grabiner (Indians vice-president and treasurer) and Veeck, Cleveland Indians bosses, regarding a job as 1948 pilot."

Veeck denied other rumors that Boudreau and Third Baseman Ken Keltner might be traded to the New York Yankees for Shortstop Phil Rizzuto.

TEXANS ROLL OVER N. CAROLINA, 34-0

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 4. —(AP)— The University of Texas turned on the heat to smash North Carolina 34-0 today.

A crowd of 47,000 saw the Longhorns combine the accurate passing of Quarterback Bobby Layne with the power and speed of Fullback Tommy Landry, Right Halfback Randall Clay and Left Halfback Byron Gillory to win their third victory of the season.

Texas' first tally came on a 44-yard pass from Layne to Gillory, who got in behind the Tarheels' Johnny Clements to grab the ball on the 30 and go across standing up.

The Longhorns hit again early in the second quarter when Raymond Jones, a substitute fullback, passed to Substitute Right End Peppy Blount on the two-yard line. Blount dived across for the touchdown.

TORNADO, 'JACKS, BULLDOGS LEAD CLASS 'AA' RACE

Fair Park Falls Before Haynesville; Champion Jays Held To Tie

(By Associated Press)

Haynesville, Bogalusa and Jennings emerged as victors Friday night as districts outside New Orleans began league play in the Louisiana Class AA prep football race.

In New Orleans, St. Aloysius fought to a 7-7 tie with the Jesuit Blue Jays, defending state champions.

The Haynesville Golden Tornado, which bothered Shreveport fans last week by beating Bossier City, annoyed them even more Friday night by drubbing their own Fair Park Indians, 14 to 0. The Tornado swirled 97 yards for its first touchdown.

Bogalusa, with its strongest team in years, opened the southeast district play by trouncing Catholic High of Baton Rouge, 52 to 12. The Lumberjacks' star Halfback Albert Burr made three touchdowns, running 68 yards for one of them, and Lynn Wilson passed to a pair of others.

Jennings ruined Sulphur's debut as a Class AA team by beating the newcomers 38 to 6. Chub Bujol scored twice for the winners, and Jenning's touchdowns were made also by D'Armand Navarre, Jasper Fontenot, Chub Bujol and Richard Young. Sulphur's lone score was made by James Guillotte on a pass.

St. Aloysius outfought the champion Jesuits before 23,000 spectators. John Petitbon, the Jesuit ace halfback, scored his team's touchdown and extra point, after Mire Thomas had run back an intercepted pass 38 yards to set things up. The Crusaders took the ensuing kickoff and marched back all the way, with Adolph La Place scoring. Huey Bridges swept end for the extra point.

Ouachita High School of Monroe defeated Bolton of Alexandria 20 to 7 in an inter-district game. E. J. Sievers went 42 yards for the first Ouachita touchdown and 18 yards for the last, with Ernest King racing 63 yards for one in between.

The Bolton touchdown came on a forward-lateral from David Walker to Sonny Pharis to W. A. Rush, good for 45 yards.

Lake Charles made three touchdowns in the last half to beat an eleven from Orange, Tex., 21 to 13. Ellsworth Kingery scored twice for Lake Charles on runs of 35 to 11 yards and Woody Watson went 48 with an intercepted pass. Orange went 75 and 70 yards on touchdown drives.

Baton Rouge High traveled over to Hattiesburg, Miss., to win 7 to 0 from that city's high school. An 18-yard pass from J. C. Rhed to Ted Jones brought the only touchdown, ending a 42-yard push which began with a fumble recovery.

Drenching Rain No Handicap As Conerly Hurls 3 Touchdown Passes

By Will Grimsley

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—University of Mississippi hatched touchdowns in clusters today to overwhelm South Carolina, 33 to 0, for its third straight victory in a contest played in a drenching rain before 12,000.

The slippery football was no deterrent to rifle-armed Charlie Conerly, who passed for three of the markers. A sub-end, Jack Odom, sprinted 87 yards for another and the final counter came in the fourth period through the sweat of eager third-stringers.

The Gamecocks of the rival Southern Conference were able to muster only one first down while Mississippi, already victorious over Kentucky and Florida, racked up 14.

Mississippi received the kickoff and drove 91 yards by air—with Conerly and big Barney Poole in featured roles—to the first touchdown. Conerly connected with Fullback Eulas (Red) Jenkins in a 21-yard play for the score.

The second counter, the most spectacular of the day, punctuated South Carolina's only menacing gesture.

The Gamecocks' Red Ozburn recovered an Ole Miss fumble mid-way of the opening period on the Ole Miss 21. South Carolina lunged up to the 13 but on the second play the ball squirted from Harold Hagan's hands. Mississippi's Jack Odom caught it on the fly, and in privacy raced 87 yards to a touchdown.

The third score came late in the opening period after Mississippi had blocked a Hagan punt on the South Carolina five-yard line. On the first play, Conerly passed into the end zone to Poole.

Big, sure-handed Poole also grabbed a seven-yarder from Conerly for the fourth marker after a 29-yard drive late in the second period.

Third and fourth stringers finished the contest for Ole Miss and contributed a touchdown late in the fourth when Billy Mustin passed 15 yards to Buddy Taylor in the end zone.

South Carolina drew one large ovation from the drenched crowd. That came at the end of the third period and beginning of the fourth when they held Mississippi for downs on their own one-foot line., and Hagan booted out to the 45.

Bobby Oswalt, who specializes in placements, made three of his tries good.

ISTROUMA INDIANS WHIP BRIMINGHAM TEAM, 20-0

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Indians of Istrouma High School rounded out a methodical 20-0 triumphy over the Green Wave of Woodlawn High from Birmingham here tonight before an estimated crowd of 5,500 fans.

Hard-hitting Indian Fullback Jimmy Roshto led the Tribe in its attack, scoring one touchdown and making long drives to set up the other two.

Woodlawn's backfield of Earl Langer, George Pappas, David Booker and Tommy Cutcliff, aided by young Gilmer, showed excellent spirit and several times almost broke away for a touchdown. Only one sustained drive by the Woodlawn eleven actually threatened Istrouma, and that came in the fourth quarter when the Green Wave backfield drove steadily until finally stopped on the Istrouma 19.

In virgin forests the wood lost in dying trees about equals the yearly volume of growth.

CENTENARY GENTS LOSE CLOSE ONE

Shreveport Team Defeated, 20-12 By McMurry Indians In Final Stanza

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Centenary College Gentlemen found themselves out in front of an opponent for the first time this season tonight at the Fair Grounds, but the comforting experience was short-lived as the McMurry College Indians of Abilene, Texas, stormed back to overtake the local eleven and gain a 20-12 verdict.

The contest, witnessed by some 7,500 fans, was by far the best exhibition the Gents have given this year and if the local gridders could have capitalized on an opportunity presented late in the second quarter when they lost the ball on downs on the McMurry one-foot line, it might have been a different story.

As it was, it was a thrill-packed contest that kept the crowd on their toes throughout the biggest part of the game. The outcome was never really certain until the closing minutes of the game when the Indians scored their final tally.

Centenary in the statistics held an advantage over the visitors in both first downs and total yardage gained, piling up 252 yards on both passing and rushing while making 15 first downs compared to 217 and five first downs for McMurry.

The maroon and white visitors pranced to their first score with the game barely two minutes old, driving to pay dirt in eight plays on a swift drive that began on their own 27-yard line, the point where they had returned the Gent kick-off. Floyd Simpson climaxed the spree with a 44-yard run on the eighth play for the first tally. Royce Smith converted to give McMurry a 7-0 lead.

Centenary got back in the ball game after receiving the second-half kick-off, scoring on Jerry Potter's three yard plunge after Centenary had driven down on passes and wide end runs. Jewell Humphries failed to convert after the gents scored.

Centenary went ahead early in the fourth quarter when Eck Hunter faded back to his own 40-yard line and tossed a beautiful aerial which Jess Walton took on the one yard line after darting behind the McCurry defenders. The Gent left end stepped across the goal line to give Centenary a 12-7 lead. Humphries' kick was low. The scoring march began when McMurry kicked out of bounds on the midstripe and was given impetus after Humphries' pass to Walton, who was downed on the 36-yard stripe.

McMurry roared right back to score, with Freshman Brad Rowland's magnificent 81-yard gallop on the kick-off highlighting the drive. Rowland was in the clear and was headed for pay dirt but Merle Harrel came up fast on the outside to overtake him and pull the Texan down from behind. Smith converted again for his second straight placement.

McMurry scored its final marker shortly before the game ended, with Troy Kegans passing to E. C. Barry in the end zone from nine yards out. Smith failed to convert.

Centenary ran only one play after the kick-off before the game ended. The Gents were a greatly improved team, with blocking and tackling showing finesse that was lacking in the Gents' two previous tilts.

MIGHTY BULLDOG

bulled over from the three and then added the extra point.

Georgia drove 55 yards to the Tiger ten as the quarter ended, and after a penalty put the ball on the 16, Rauch hit Edwards with a scoring pass from there. Geri, who connected on all five attempts at conversion, made it 21-19.

Nestorak and Reid conducted the clincher tour through Tiger territory with the latter going over from the 15 on a near bit of broken field plunging.

The final score came in the last five minutes as McCall stepped into Tittle's toss at the Georgia 36 and broke away down the side line. He was pulled down at the Tiger 16 and a penalty moved it back to the 21. Rauch replaced McCall and on the first play tossed to Brunson—the freshman hope as Charlie Trippi's replacement—and the rookie scooted through the Tiger secondary.

Rauch completed 11 of 15 passes he threw for a total of 129 yards:

SHEA'S FOUR-HIT

dezvous with fate was set when Bruce Edwards, Dodger catcher, opened the ninth with a line single into left. Vic Lombardi, little Brooklyn pitcher, went in to run for the backstop, and was sacrificed down to second by Carl Furillo.

Johnny Jorgensen, the next Brooklyn clubber, laid into a Shea fast ball and drove it deep into right center field into Tommy Henrich's waiting glove for the second out. That brought up Cookie, and the crowd greeted him in a manner suitable to his heroic stature.

The count went to three and two against the swarthy coast veteran, and then he took a mighty swipe at a ball somewhat high and inside, missing it by close to a foot. Everybody started breathing again.

The loss was a tough one for Manager Burt Shotton of the Dodgers as he gambled heavily in starting Barney, who had not pitched a complete game this year, and nearly brought it off. The youngster really did some amazing pitching.

The first three Yankees to face him at the outset of the game got on base by virtue of two walks and Henrich's double. With activity at a furious pitch, Barney bore down to strikeout DiMaggio and Bill Johnson and get George McQuinn on an infield tap.

Again in the third Barney walked a pair, and this time DiMaggio hit into a double play to end the threat. It was not until the unbridled Brooklyn thrower got around to issuing three walks in an inning that the Yanks managed to count. With two down in the fourth, Aaron Robinson and Phil Rizzuto strolled and the former raced in on Shea's single.

One Yank was out in the fifth when DiMaggio connected for the fourth home run of his World Series career, and the most important of the lot. Barney pitched to two more batters after that, and when he walked the second of them, Lefty Joe Hatten relieved him.

The remainder of the way, off Hatten, Hank Behrman and Casey, the Yankees collected only two hits, a harmless single by Henrich to open the seventh, and Shea's two-out double in the next inning. The first two Yankees up in the ninth reached base on an error by Eddie Miksis, substitute Dodger second baseman, and a hit batsman, but Casey served up another double play ball to DiMaggio, and Henrich was out trying to score later on a passed ball.

As the playoff moves back across the East river to Yankee Stadium tomorrow, the Dodgers will be in position neither to gamble on any Barneys of their mound staff, nor to make any mistakes. One more loss and Flatbush still will go on yearning for its first world championship.

It was considered certain that Shotton would send Lombardi after the vital game. The southpaw was treated harshly by the Yanks in the second series game, but he is a stout-hearted little performer and might easily come back with a brilliant effort. In any event, he appeared to be Shotton's only real hope.

Manager Bucky Harirs of the Yanks was in no doubt whatever that Allis Reynolds, the Oklahoman who downed the Dodgers in the weird second game at the stadium, would go after his second victory. Reynolds allowed nine hits and three runs in his other appearance, but his teammates gave him such an abundance of runs to work on that he was never forced to bear down.

Bob Jordan for 26 yards and ended it by tossing 18 to the same receiver in the end zone.

George Mathews started Tech to its third touchdown by intercepting a pass from Bennie Ellender on the Jacket four and running it to the Tulane 41.

Still immediately passed to Dinky Bowen for 30 yards and then to George Brodnax in the end zone.

The teams dispiritedly exchanged punts and fumbles during a scoreless third period, which ended as Tulane was starting its first offensive threat. The Wave rolled to the Tech six and lost the ball on downs.

The clubs spent the rest of the afternoon tossing the ball and each other around midfield.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Assorted stocks continued to make headway for the sixth straight session today, as Saturday market sessions were resumed, but light profit cashing on the recent swing restrained many leaders.

Professionals still bought more or less cautiously on the hope that the rally would be extended.

Railway bonds stiffened. Grain futures retreated.

New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Trading in cotton futures was quiet today. Hedge selling and week-end taking were absorbed by trade dealers.

Many traders attributed the quietness to a desire to await publication of the government crop report next Wednesday. The report is expected to give some idea of the amount of cotton damaged by the September hurricane.

Futures closed 35 cents a bale lower to 70 cents higher than the previous close.

LONG PROMISES HOMESTEAD AID

Former Governor Pledges To Use Property Tax Fund To Increase Exemptions

CROWLEY, La., Oct. 4.—(Special)—The pledge that we will use the surplus in the property tax relief fund to further increase the homestead exemptions was made here today by Earl K. Long, candidate for governor.

Speaking on the courthouse square, former Governor Long said that it was the original intention to make the homestead exemption $5,000 instead of the existing $2,000 exemption.

"I believe the money will be available to give the people $5,000 homestead exemption," Mr. Long said, "and I pledge myself to work to this end."

Former Governor Long discussed his plans to improve the institutions housing the insane and feeble minded.

"The unsanitary and unscientific operation of the institutions housing our unfortunate insane and feeble minded citizens," Mr. Long said, "has been criticized very severely by the newspapers, which have failed to otherwise mention many faults of the present state administration.

"I propose to triple the capacity of the feeble minded institutions and to improve their method of operation along more humane and efficient lines."

"My administration will provide accommodations for the proper housing medical care and comfort of our insane only the best qualified men and women available will be put in charge of these institutions."

Mr. Long reiterated his pledge to give all qualified citizens who have reached the age of sixty years a $50 a month old age pension.

Former Governor Long dwelt upon his program of public education in his addresses today at Crowley, Ragne, Gueydan, Abbeville and Kaplan.

"I realize," Mr. Long said, "that our whole program of public education needs to be revised and strengthened. It was during my term of office as lieutenant governor that the teachers of Louisiana were given a professional and a social security program. The retirement programs needs to be enlarged and dignified. I shall enact legislation to pay teachers a minimum salary of $2,400 a year."

Former Governor Long was introduced at Crowley by Denis Canan, who has served as city judge of this city since 1912.

Appearing with former Governor Long at his meeting today in Acadia and Vermillion parishes were William J. (Bill) Bodd, candidate for lieutenant governor, Dudley J. Leblanc, former State Senator Ernest Clements and Russell Long, son of the late Senator Huey P. Long. Their itinerary for Sunday follows:

Chup Point 10:30 a. m., Eunice 1:30 p. m., Opelousas 3:30 p. m. and New Iberia 6:30 p. m.

CHURCH ZONE OFFICIALS NAMED

At a zone meeting held in the Downsville Methodist Church Friday night, the following officers were elected: Dorochy Brewster, president; Melba Jean Fluitt, vice-president; Sybil Farmer, secretary and treasurer; Ida Sue Emory, publicity chairman; Bech Holstead, chairman of worship; Bobby Kelly, chairman of world friendship; Jenese Henderson, chairman of community service, and W. A. Brewster, chairman of recreation.

39—Business Opportunities

A NATIONAL MANUFACTURER offers to a responsible person in this territory the opportunity to acquire an exclusive operating franchise and be independent by getting into the only business of its kind; the Automatic Merchandising Business that made net profits of over $80,000,000 in a year. Years of study, endless experimenting and now success—success in providing the perfect HOT COFFEE from a vending machine. The machine serves piping Hot Coffee at any hour of the day or night, and through the perfection of a dehydrating process, there is no opportunity for the coffee to turn rancid, yet you have four selections: Black coffee, coffee with cream, coffee with sugar and coffee with cream and sugar. Each cup of coffee made fresh upon insertion of 5 cents and 5 seconds to serve. Ideally located in theatres, office buildings, bus depots, factories and many others. The richest profit maker in vending machine history. If it is your desire to obtain the most successful and attractive business known, this is your opportunity to acquire it. Write, wire or phone for complete information today—to: PARKER PRODUCTS COMPANY, INCORPORATED, Department C, Memphis, Tennessee Branch. Phone 8-2615 P. O. Box 4501.

DEALER'S franchise open in this territory for Pontiac Coach. Call or write Hutchinson Trailer Sales, 4615 Dixie Highway, Pontiac, Michigan, Route 10. 10-5-

NEW RESIDENTIAL BOOM IN MONROE

Permits Issued For 10 New Dwellings; First Of 80 To Be Built By Firm

Monroe newest development in residential building was announced yesterday by Allen West, owner of West Pontiac Company, who will operate in the real estate business as the State Furniture Company, Inc. Permits were issued to West to begin work on ten dwellings in the Parkview addition, north side Monroe, costing approximately $50,000.

West said that a majority of the houses would be either five-room or six-room, frame buildings. After completion of the present program West said that his company would erect several brick buildings in the same area.

The ten dwellings are, according to West the first in eighty that he expects to raise in the Parkview addition. He estimates the total expenditures planned will easily exceed $250,000.

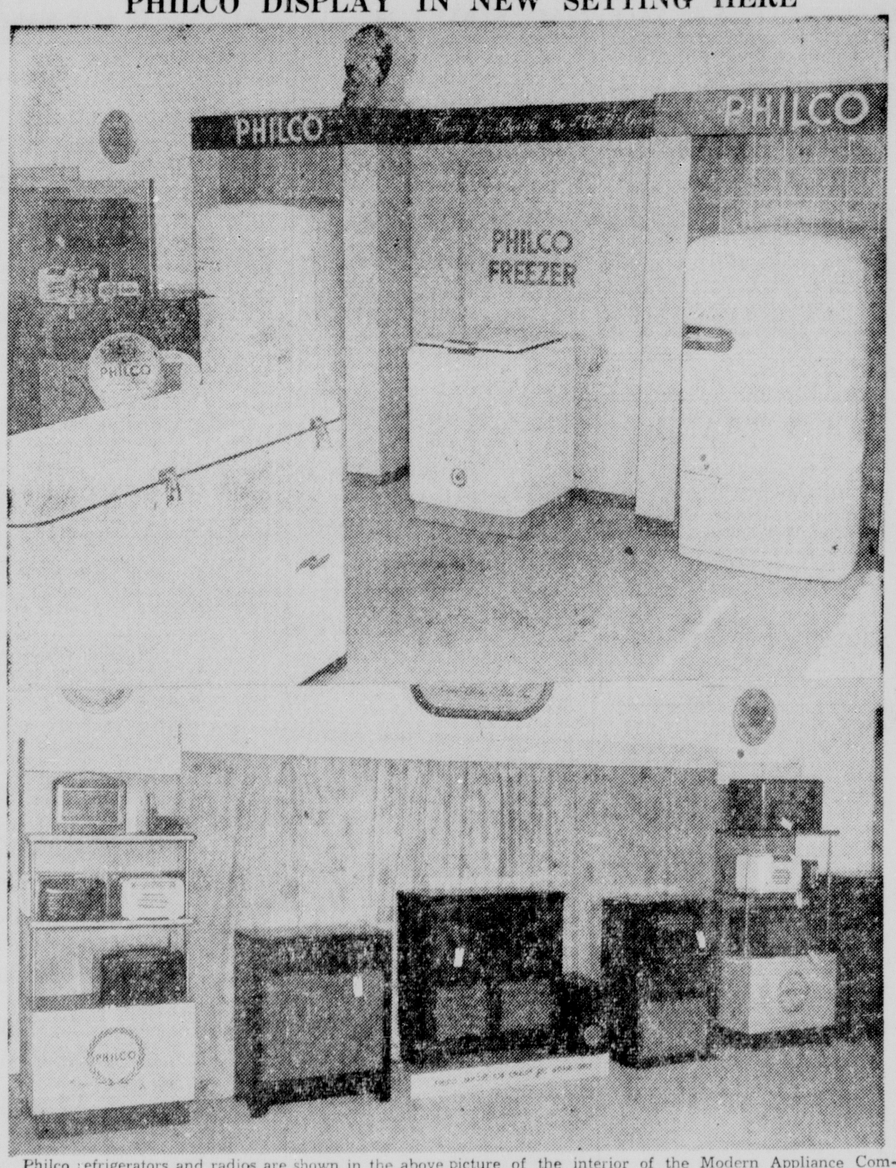

Committments have been made by West to the Federal Housing Administration who will be in charge of the selling and financing. Two houses have already been built in the project by West.

West said that city power lines have already been strung in the development, water pipes have been purchased for laying, and streets are expected to be laid out next week. Septic tanks will be required for the dwellings until sewer lines can be extended to take care of the increase in homes.

Construction of the first ten buildings, under Johnny Usrey as superintendent, is expected to be completed by Christmas. Work will then begin on the next ten.

Annual U. S. fire losses of timber and lumber are enough to build 200,000 houses.

LOUISIANA URGED TO GET SHARE OF BIG INDUSTRIES

Numerous Advantages In Fuel, Transportation, Labor Shown

Asserting that $10,000,000,000 in industry is moving southward and is looking for a place to locate, Dr. E. S. Richardson, field representative of the Louisiana Department of Commerce and Industry, Saturday told a Monroe Morning World reporter "it is up to the people of Louisiana to let the world know what this state has to offer."

"These facilities," he said, "include cheap power and fuel, unusual transportation opportunities, happier labor and 10-year exemption for new industries.

He also listed "mountains of peanuts, tick-free cattle and big potato, soy bean and cotton crops."

Louisiana, greatest state in the union in many respects, has scarcely begun to let the rest of the nation and the world know of its many advantages, stated Dr. Richardson.

What this state needs, he continued, is the sort of spirit that gave other states such slogans as "Georgia Is Great," "Texas is Terrific" and Tennessee is tremendous."

Pointing out that Louisiana produces more fur than the entire Dominion of Canada, as much shrimp as the rest of the world combined and has salt mines capable to supply all civilization for practically all time to come, and that this state stands high in the production of timber, pulpwood, petroleum and agricultural products, Dr. Richardson said: "God gave us 98 per cent of what we need to make Louisiana one of the greatest commercial and industrial states in the union and we should be able to supply the other two per cent."

Supplying the other two per cent is what Dr. Richardson and the Department of Commerce and Industry are trying to get the people of Louisiana to do. If the people of this state will put the idea of "Sell Louisiana" in everything they say and do, Dr. Richardson said, they will contribute the needed two per cent in a big way.

Formerly, Dr. Richardson said, Louisiana had only three principal kinds of mills, namely cotton gins, sugar mills and saw mills. Now this list of three has been increased to about 20 major manufacturing and processing industries and the number is rapidly increasing. Among the more important of these are petroleum and pulp and paper mills and various plants producing wood and paper products, vegetable oil plants and glass manufacturing plants.

Some of these products, although developed and produced entirely in Louisiana, from Louisiana raw materials, are scarcely known of even to Louisiana residents and carry trademarks and addresses of firms operating in distant states.

One such product, Dr. Richardson said, is known as Craveneer and is sold under the trademark and address of a Chicago firm, although it was perfected by a Louisiana man and is produced entirely at a big plant at Tallulah. Craveneer is composed of a sheet of wood veneer covered on each side by brown paper. It is thin and light and has the durable qualities of plywood and for many purposes can be used instead of Masonite. The manufacturer of this product produces its own wood by operating a veneer mill and it plans to produce its own paper by utilizing the tops of limbs of trees from which the wood veneer is cut.

Another important growing industry in Louisiana is that of chemical manufacture, which was hastened by the recent war, plants constructed during the war having been converted into private-owned chemical plants and other industries.

So many new plants have been coming into this state recently that tax exemptions on new industries valued at $130,000,000 have been granted in the last three and one-half months.

Dr. Richardson described Louisiana not only as the heart of the south but the gateway to the entire world, as its great port at New Orleans is rated second only to New York as the mightiest port in the United States. Louisiana's transportation and shipping facilities are unusually advantageous, Dr. Richardson said, because the state is well equipped to ship by water, rail or air, its rivers and sea coast making shipment to the outside world an easy matter.

A little trick for letting cookies frost themselves while they bake. Drop the dough from a spoon on a greased sheet. Dip a finger-tip first in flour, then press it into the top of each cookie to make a little hollow. Break a bar of semi-sweet chocolate into small pieces. Put a piece into the hollow in each cookie. While the cookies bake, the chocolate melts. When the cookies are done, the chocolate becomes firm enough so the cookies may be easily handled.

GIDEONS PLACE BIBLES IN HOTEL

Hold Dedication Exercises At Majestic; Plans For Wide Program

The Monroe Gideon Camp held a dedication service at the Majestic Hotel Sunday afternoon, September 28, at 2:30 p.m., at which time 28 Bibles were placed in the hotel. Gideon H. K. Litton, Bible secretary, conducted the service which opened with singing led by Gideon Rodney Cline, followed by testimonies of three members of the camp, concluding with presentation of Bibles by Gideon Litton to Mrs. Williams of the hotel.

After the dedication service, the members gathered at Hotel Frances for their regular monthly meeting. The largest attendance of recent date was present, numbering 13. President Dawson called the meeting to order and the usual reports were given.

President Dawson gave a report on the district meeting of Gideons International, held in Jackson, Miss., September 19-21. Those from Monroe attending the meeting were: Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Ringwald, Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Cadwallader, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones, Jr.

Following the report of the district meeting, President Dawson presented to the Monroe Camp, a challenging program which will extend the Gideon missionary activities throughout northeast Louisiana. The program was unanimously adopted and plans were immediately formulated to put the project into progress.

OPTIMISTS HAVE MONTHLY MEET

Plan Broad Program For Fall; Barbecue On Tuesday Night

The Optimist held its regular monthly business meeting Friday at which they completed plans for celebration of National Optimist Week, October 5-11.

R. F. Graves and Edwin Ryals, the two junior Optimists who went to the Junior Optimist camp at Fort Worth, Tex., were present and told the club of their experiences and how they enjoyed their stay there. They said the only thing that was not completely satisfactory was the K. P. duty they had to do at times.

The Optimist softball team was advised that there would be a barbecue at Silverstein's place on the bayou on Tuesday, beginning at 6 p.m., for the entire Civic Softball League and to be paid for by the losers. Everyone is to meet at the Recreation Center on Catalpa Street at 6 p.m. before going to the bayou. The Exchange Club was the winner.

Guests were D. P. Guillory, of Colgate Palmolive-Peet and Johnnie Bayles, of Ritchie Grocery.

Al Newburn reported to the club that a Boy Scout troop, under the sponsorship of the Optimist Club, was being organized. Al Newburn is scoutmaster, O. J. Williams, assistant scoutmaster, and the committeemen are C. R. Tillman, Tom Agnew, Merlin Millstead, W. L. Dean, Sylvian Masur, and Jimmy Newburn. The Scouts will be selected from the Junior Optimists.

L. B. FAULK POST MEETS ON MONDAY

The L. B. Faulk post of the American Legion will meet Monday night at the post home on Forsythe.

James D. Sparks, chairman of the American Legion Americanism committee, will have charge of the program. Mr. Sparks states:

"In times such as these, where on every hand one hears Fascism, Socialism and Communism—there is one ism that all America loves and that is Americanism. We, of the American, are taking a foremost stand to promote amongst all our citizens that one grand word, Americanism."

As an added feature at the Monday night meeting Mr. Sparks advises that he will present Allen, the man with the miracle mind. Mr. Allen will perform mental and hypnotic tricks in a forty-minute performance.

All Legionnaries are urged to come out to the Monday night meeting and get the winter program off to a flying start.

MONROE GIRL NAMED

Miss Jo Ann Kyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Kyle, of 104 Rochelle avenue, has been elected president of the high school freshman class at All Saints' Episcopal college in Vicksburg, Miss. She is shown in the extreme left in the picture. Shown with her are Miss Martha Judin, fo Houston, Tex., sophomore class president; Miss Margaret Mills, of Jackson, Miss., junior class president and Miss Caroline Sartwelle, of Houston, Tex., senior class president.

THE NATION TODAY
By JAMES MARLOW

By Jerry Korn
(Substituting for James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The United States is hoping to supply about half of all the wheat imported by the world's hungry nations this year.

But the government is having a hard time scraping together that much wheat—about 14,000,000 tons, or 570,000,000 bushels. So far it is almost 100,000,000 bushels short of this goal.

And even if it succeeds in exporting that much, the people of those nations will eat between 10 and 20 per cent less bread than they did last year. And they didn't eat much then.

During the war, wheat harvests fell far below normal. Farmers were fighting instead of farming. Many farmlands became battlefields. Little farming equipment was manufactured.

Last year, when the wheat-growing countries were starting to rebuild their agriculture, grain crops were only about 75 per cent as large as before the war.

And this year, when they were expected to increase, they were hit by the worst weather in years. As a result, the 1947 European wheat crop was about 18 per cent smaller than the 1946 crop.

That meant that countries like the United States, which raise more wheat than they can use, had to try to make up the difference.

American farmers harvested more wheat this year than ever before in the country's history: About 1,400,000,000 bushels. In addition, there were about 100,000,000 bushels left over from last year.

But that still wasn't enough. This is why:

1. About 510,000,000 bushels are needed to feed people in this country.

2. Another 87,000,000 bushels are needed as seed for next year's crop.

3. Although only 180,000,000 bushels of wheat were used to feed livestock last year, this year it has been estimated that the total may reach between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000.

That's because the hot, dry summer burned up a large part of the corn crop, much of which usually is used for feed. So farmers substituted wheat for some of the corn.

4. Most of the 100,000,000 bushels carried over from last year are scattered over the country. Officials say it would be too expensive and too difficult to collect them.

That leaves less than 500,000,000 bushels of wheat to send overseas.

President Truman wants to increase that amount to about 570,000,000 bushels. That can be done in two ways, officials say:

1. If the American people use less wheat. Mr. Truman has asked Americans to "waste less" as one way to do that.

2. If farmers sell some of the wheat to the government that they had planned to feed livestock.

Latest figures show that there are 1,924 Indians in the United States navy.

FLOWER JUDGING SCHOOL AT FRANCES HOTEL ATTRACTS MANY FROM OUT OF TOWN

The Flower Judging School held on the terrace of the Frances hotel Wednesday and Thursday came to a grand climax Friday morning for final examination.

Fifty-one garden lovers from all sections of north Louisiana were in attendance for part or all time. Garden club members from Baton Rouge, Delhi, St. Joseph, Oak ove, Ruston, Bastrop, Rayville, Sterlington, Vidalia and Ferriday were registered.

Mrs. Joe G. Richard, Louisiana Judging School Chairman, Baton Rouge, announces that the following sixteen Garden Club members took the examination: Mrs. Raymond Heard, Mrs. R. S. Wynn, Mrs. E. R. Hays, Mrs. J. M. Pirkle and Mrs. B. H. Talbot, all of Ruston, La. Mrs. Magruder Smith and Mrs. John Reddit, both of St. Joseph, La.; Mrs. Ed Conger of Arcadia, La., Miss Bertha Lee Ferguson of Baton Rouge, La.; Mrs. H. P. Warden, Delhi, La., and Mrs. J. A. Reid, Mrs. C. C. Lucky and Mrs. V. S. Garrett, Monroe, La., and Mrs. A. L. Dickerson, Mrs. Norman Jardine and Mrs. D. L. Nicol of West Monroe, La.

This is the first Flower Judging School to be held in north Louisiana and is the first of a series of five such schools which are conducted throughout the state and is fully authorized by the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. Course No. 2 is to be held in Ruston, Louisiana, November 4th, 5th and 6th, 1947. The requirements for becoming an accredited judge is to attend and pass examinations of the five judging schools and in addition must win three blue ribbons at flower shows and must have taken part as judge in five flower shows, plus a final examination on required reading of garden books.

The purpose of judging schools was discussed by Professor H. K. Riley of Southwestern Louisiana Tech who was the instructor for the first day. He said that the purpose was two-fold. To improve local flower shows and to train flower show judges.

A community flower show must be beautiful and should also be educational. Briefly, according to Professor Riley, a beautiful show must have suitable background, must have good lighting, must have attractive containers for specimens, uncrowded tables, plenty of aisle space and coordinating grouping of classes in orderly fashion.

To be of educational value the show must have attractive cards showing number and name of class. Ribbons should be prominently displayed. The shows should attract the novice—one who has never won a ribbon in a show. Standards of shows should be improved from year to year.

Prof. Riley said there are two kinds of shows—Indoor and Outdoor.

A good show requires many committees and much work—briefly committees are staging committee, responsible for the place, lighting and physical background, tables, containers, etc Schedule committee—this committee makes or breaks a flower show. They must prepare the schedule in detail as to classes for entry, when they are to be entered, time, also must state how long entry should remain in place. All details must be in the printed schedule long in advance so that publicity and judges may know what kind of show it is to be. Entry committee assists exhibitors to enter exhibits, takes name and gives number. This should be a large active committee who can handle the rush of entries at the last hour. Classification committee is an advisory group, small but expert and must have one or more recognized horticulturist on it. They settle questions as to proper placing of exhibits in proper classes. Judging committee invites judges and sees to it they are made comfortable, entertaining them before time for judging. hospitality committee is valuable to the public part of the show and should be on hand constantly during all open hours of the show to answer questions and make visitors feel at home. Publicity committee is very important in getting information about the show to the public and interested persons and when the show is over it is important to make comments of the judges and give names of ribbon winners.

The second day of the course was devoted to flower arranging and the elements of such. Mrs. Anna Rutt, of the Faculty Club, Baton Rouge, intrigued her listeners with the history of flower arrangements and her demonstration of various kinds of Japanese, Modern, Victorian, Christmas, and numerous other types of arrangements.

Mrs. Rutt said that there are five benefits of flower arrangements---self, family, community, nation, and world citizenship. Art is a universal arrangement and by it we can learn to understand our world neighbors. The same principles are true in arrangements all over the world. It is a great factor in creating harmonious feeling among nations. Within the nation, the knowledge of flower arrangements holds the different sections of the country together. As benefitting the community, flower lovers who can make lovely arrangements are in demand for community gatherings, church decorations, teas and other functions. A home is made more beautiful with beautiful arrangements and children used to this beauty will in turn set up beautiful homes of their own. Last or first as the case may be, the study of flower arrangements develops one personally and gives one a chance to express oneself. The principles learned in flower arranging helps in planning a new house and its furnishings.

Mrs. Rutt also touched on the history of flower arrangements and said the Egyptian tombs had definite cut flowers in them.

The wearing of flowers is a custom common to many countries in variations. Flowers on millinery is the outcome of this practice.

Each country has its own expression. For instance Mexico has many lovely flowers, and for this reason are lush in their display of blooms. On the other hand Japan has been poor and flowers and foliage has been sparse and for this reason they artfully get the most out of a few leaves. Their arrangements also have a religious observance.

The important thing we have learned from the Japanese is their line arrangements as contrasted to line.

Period furniture is tied up with period arrangements and one should have authentic containers. I Early American—simple arrangements in glass, pewter or wood. II Colonial period—Williamsburg period—silver containers—bulky rounded and generous arrangements. III French Classic or Georgian period—these arrangements are symetrical, restrained and delicate, furnishings are graceful and gay, refined with much white and pale colors. IV Victorian period—19th Century—arrangements in bad taste typical of the time. The term "buxom" or stuffy looking describes arrangements of this era. V Modern Machine Age—color line and mass arrangements which must fit into the room—simple geometric form. Lastly VI Contemporary American as we make arrangements today. Types now used in flower shows are line arrangements, mass arrangements, period arrangements, shadow boxes, dish gardens, special places, special occasions, special locations, mantel buffet, displays, and junior gardener division.

There are three different types of plant material stated Mrs. Rutt:

1. Target, spike and background. The contribution the plant material makes to the arrangement is weight, line and color.

Steps in making an arrangement for home (1) select plant material considering container, design and location. It is best to make the arrangement where it is to stand. (2) Place tallest member first, then widest member and then back and front. (3) fill in the skelton or framework (4) check arrangement for weight, line and color, and (5) make corrections.

Containers are to be considered in five different ways, 1, texture, 2, form, 3 style, 4, scale and 5, color. Containers must be simple so that they do not compete with the flowers. Artistic containers detract from the arrangement.

The afternoon was spent by Mrs. Rutt arranging many different types of arrangements and at the close of the demonstrations, students judged several arrangements which had been prepared in an anteroom as the first part of their examination.

Mrs. J. A. Reid, president of the Welcome Garden Club of the Twin Cities, again wished to thank the many members responsible for making this flower show judging school possible.

Open House At The Y. W. C. A. This Afternoon

An interesting program, brimming with worth-while activities, has been outlined for members of the Business and Professional Girl's Club of the Y. W. C. A. Members of the various committees met last week at the home of Miss Freeda Mickel who is acting as general chairman of the "Fall Frolics" now being observed.

The first event of interest will take place this afternoon during the tea hour, 4 to 6, with Miss Mickel, Miss Bess Sharp, Miss Ella Pearl Sutton and Miss Elaine Windham, hostesses. All friends of the Y. W. C. A. have been extended an invitation to call during the receiving hours.

An al fresco affair will be enjoyed Monday night in the garden of Mr, and Mrs. Haywood Phillips' home where a weiner roast will be featured. Miss Marion Simmons and Miss Doris Roe will have charge of the entertainment. On Tuesday, Oct. 7, a coffee hour will be held in the Cameo Room of the Virginia Hotel from 5 to 7 p.m. All club women in Monroe are invited to drop in during the receiving hours. On Wednesday the club will enjoy a supper meeting and book review by Mrs. George Austin on "The Miracle of the Bells" by Russell Janey. The program is in charge of Miss Myrtle Johnson and Miss Allie Marie Coates.

Climaxing the week's program is t dance to be held at the Y. W. C. from 8 to 12 p.m. on Thursday, Oct The dance is formal and invitatio have been issued. The Business a Professional Girl's Club of the Y. C. A. is composed of energetic you business women who are constant striving to better themselves throu their constructive programs.

YOUR PARTY problems are now over. I discovered, while shopping 'round town, a snack bar that rivals anything I saw in New York. It's operated by STERN BROTHERS in their A & A PACKAGE STORE NO. 2, 108 Harrison Street. I wanted to buy everything I saw but compromised on a box of snappy cocktail crackers, a box of beaten biscuits, a can of tea cakes, tiny cocktail sausages, a bottle of cocktail cherries with stems and two bottles of Welsh rarebit (it only requires heating and is delicious). Women are elbowing their way into this novel store operated by the STERN BROTHERS.

THIS MORNING IT'S my good pleasure to tell you why BROGAN'S SUREBEST BREAD makes better toast than any other bread. . . . It's because SUREBEST is the finer texture, makes it toast an even golden-brown all over. SUREBEST makes better sandwiches because there's no crumbling. . . . Each slice is firm and compact. SUREBEST has a better flavor because the finest ingredients are used plus perfect baking. . . . That's why it melts in the mouth. SUREBEST is fresher because it's rushed warm and fragrant from the ovens to you every day.

FROM THE DAY you begin housekeeping and for the rest of your married life, it's so nice to have the best solid silver. Generations of brides have been glad they selected their silver from Monroe's oldest and most reliable shop. . . . The R & A. You'll find your favorite pattern at the R & A. If you have a yen for antique silver, then you'll go wild over the amazing collection Mr. Rubin has gathered from every section of the globe for your approval. You are extended a cordial invitation by Mr. Rubin to inspect the antique silver and jewelry he is now showing at the R & A.

GOING PLACES? Then count on your smart suit impeccably tailored by FINK. For the fall days ahead your suit in the new autumn colors and made of gorgeous, wrinkle-proof material now being shown at FINK'S beautiful new shop, will be the best friend you ever had. The new fashion according to FINK THE TAILOR is extremely flattering; long, slender lines, hugging your hips and buttoning high to the neckline. I saw a suit FINK was putting the finishes to and it was a beauty.

CHILDREN GO THEIR own merry way, perfectly at ease, when they are wearing BUSTER BROWN SHOES. Only at the YORK SHOP can you find these wonderful shoes designed especially for tender little feet. BUSTER BROWN SHOES never get that "scuffed" look—they outlast any other shoe on the market today. Mothers are simply delighted that at last they have found the perfect shoe for their growing children. Children never experience foot fatigue when they wear BUSTER BROWN shoes from the YORK SHOP.

LA CASA! What pleasant memories come trooping whenever the name is mentioned. When you say LA CASA visions of luscious fried chicken, hot home-made rolls, molded salads and mouth-watering pastries, dance in the head The rooms at the LA CASA must be elastic, else there wouldn't be room for the number of luncheons taking place there daily. It is indeed the preference of fashionable Monroe and the business woman.

GOODNESS KNOWS a girl needs all the help she can get in keeping fit these days. The best friend a girl ever had in her search for beauty is MARIE WAMSLEY, who can change an "ugly duckling" into a perfect beauty. First she recommends a course of NORMATONE FIGURE NORMALIZING treatments. . . . All excess fat disappears. Even if you aren't overweight, these treatments are health restoring and recommended by physicians. Sign up with MARIE WAMSLEY tomorrow for a course of reducing treatments.

ALMOST BEAUTIFUL enough for a gift are those Christmas cards FERD LEVI is now showing. There is a card for every taste and for every pocketbook. FERD LEVI'S patrons are already selecting their Christmas cards and laying away their gifts. FERD LEVI'S shop is one of surprises. . . . You'll find the latest novels, colorful bric-a-brac, toys for children. . . . Big beautiful dolls that little girls adore and the most distinctive leather goods in the city.

THERE WOULDN'T BE a "middle-aged" looking figure in all Monroe, if all women wore a CHARMODE GIRDLE. They are sold only at SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. A CHARMODE GIRDLE never gives that "corseted" look all women dread. It flattens the stomach, smoothes away bulges and makes the waist inches smaller, yet it never binds or never pushes the flesh up. It is divinely comfortable and permits freedom of action. I suggest that you go to SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. tomorrow and be fitted to a CHARMODE.

WHAT DID WE do for a perfect evening of entertainment before the RAINBOW INN came into being? . . . Sat at home and twiddled our thumbs, I guess. RAINBOW INN, with it's beautiful Empire Room and cocktail lounge, attracts entertainment-seeking patrons night after night. The food is incomparable. . . . Don't look for this type of food elsewhere. . . . It can't be found. The prices, however, are surprisingly low. Why dine elsewhere when you have beautiful RAINBOW INN and a divine orchestra at your disposal?

MEL-O-TOAST BREAD! The name instantly conjures up memories of the most delicious bit of something you ever put in your mouth. Monroe wives keep their husbands and children happy by serving, nothing, but, MEL-O-TOAST. . . . When everything else fails there's always MEL-O-TOAST to fall back on. . . . It makes crunchy toast, appetizing sandwiches and is scrumptuous with marmalade. THE CITY BAKERY is the home of MEL-O-TOAST and delicious home-made cakes, pies and cookies.

THE FESTIVE SEASON is at hand and to make every occasion memorable I suggest that you order your flowers from the WEST SIDE FLOWER AND GIFT SHOP. Just tell them what kind of flowers you prefer and you can take my word for it, they'll be fresh and beautiful. THE WEST SIDE FLOWER SHOP specializes in corsages that are different. The wedding bouquets they have designed have caused a furore of talk. . . . They are so distinctive and so amazingly beautiful.

WOMEN IN TWIN CITIES WHO ARE ELIGIBLE ARE ASKED TO JOIN A. A. U. W.

The Monroe Branch of the American Association of University Women has designated October as "membership month," and it is hoped that all women of the Twin Cities eligible for membership in the branch will affiliate early in the season, as the influence of thoughtful women is desperately needed in today's confusion and turmoil.

The American Association of University Women are working more than 70,000 strong for the objectives that college women have in common, and the local branch is asking women eligible for membership to join their strength with that of these other 70,000 to attain these objectives.

The national organization as well as the local branch needs the support of every eligible college graduate in the local area, and every eligible graduate will gain much from A. A. U. W. membership.

National membership in A. A. U. W. enables one to support a constructive program based on a belief in intelligence and education, while membership in the local branch gives one a part in a program that is stimulating to the individual and helpful to the community; it offers the satisfaction of working with others of similar purposes and ideals. This kindred mind and spirit becomes a source of strength and courage to meet the demands of these desperately trying times. Again, nationally, the association is a spokesman for higher educational standards, wider opportunities for women, and international understanding. It brings to the community a strong influence for wider educational and cultural opportunities and for a well-informed public opinion on national and international questions. A. A. U. W. is able to make a unique and important contribution to American life because it brings together a homogeneous group of women who have profited by the best that American education has to offer.

Degrees from 244 American colleges and universities are accepted as a basis for membership in the American Association of University Women—(the policy of limiting membership to alumnae whose degrees are approved by the association is part of A. A. U. W.'s long-established program to raise standards in higher education for women)—and it is felt by the local branch that there are a large number of women in the Twin Cities and environs who are eligible for membership in A. A. U. W. It is hoped that these women will be present at the meeting on October 9. The membership chairman of the local branch is Miss Carrie Dee Drew, 101 Ludwig avenue, West Monroe, who will gladly check one's degree with the list issued by the association, or the individual may write directly to the national headquarters, stating the college and degree, if she is in doubt as to her eligibility for membership.

The A. A. U. W. is devoted to "practical work in education". Its purpose is to enhance the role of education in American life, and particularly to help college women to make vital use of their education. A. A. U. W. groups are concerned with intelligent, informed opinion. In study groups, public meetings, open forums, and round table discussions, local branches are studying critical problems of foreign and domestic policy, and they are leading and promoting vitally needed public discussion of these problems. Just such is the Monroe Branch doing, and it is making an appeal to all old members, former members, transfer members, and others eligible for membership, particularly the recent graduates of the Twin Cities and surrounding towns where a local branch is not maintained, to affiliate with the branch now so that they may use their influence in the giant tasks ahead.

The local branch holds its regular meetings the second Thursday night in each month at 7:30 o'clock. The October meeting will be held in the home of Miss Carrie Dee Drew, 101 Ludwig avenue, West Monroe.

The branch boasted of a membership of 49 last year with members from Tallulah and Farmerville. It is hoped that this number will be much greater this year and that the number of recent graduates will be such that a recent graduates' division may be maintained.

Miss Frances Flanders, Ouachita Parish Librarian, will be in charge of the program Thursday night.

Something new will be added to the schedule of activities of the Y. W. C. A. when the new club is organized for young matrons of the Twin Cities. The club will be called "The Y-Y'VES". The members will decide just what their program shall be and what activities they want to have during the year. Homemaking, interior decorating, a clothes clinic, music, crafts of various kinds and just getting together for fun will probably be some of the things that will be the program. Mrs. E. B. Ellison will assist in the organization of this club. A cordial invitation is extended to any young matron who is interested to "come on to the "Y" and be a "Y-Y'ye" on Wednesday morning, October 8, at 10:00 a.m.

WILL BE OCTOBER BRIDE

Miss Julia Ann Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Roberts of Alto, La., whose engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. James Oliver Adcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Adcock, of Rayville, La., is formally announced today. The wedding will take place on Thursday, October 23, at 6 p. m. in the Alto Baptist Church.

SPLENDID WORK IS BEING ACCOMPLISHED BY MEMBERS OF ST. MATTHEW'S P.-T. A.

Members of St. Matthew's P. T. A. found work aplenty awaiting them when they met for the first meeting of the new school year with the President, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, presiding.

The meeting was opened with a prayer led by Sister Elizabeth. The minutes were read by Mrs. Charles Brogan and Mrs. John Spatafora gave the treasurer's report. Committee chairmen, Mrs. Leo Ritter, room mothers; Mrs. Joe Maggio, magazines; Mrs. Tom Mulhearn, membership, also reported at this time.

The president's message was read by Mrs. Vincent Marsala in part "The simplest and most direct way to bring about the better world is to protect our children, who will be the citizens of the future, to give them security, health, education, and spiritual strength. This is the primary objective for which the Parent-Teacher organi ation exists."

Monsignor Marsh in his talk to the P. T. A. group stressed the importance of spiritual instruction and asked the parents to cooperate with the sisters in helping the children with the practice of family prayers and the family rosary, and not to take the attitude that these teachings are too pious. The parents too, he said, could make their work in the P. T. A., along with their other duties, a motivation toward the spiritual end and not just a chore, as any performance of a duty offered up to God will please God just as much as a prayer.

Monsignor Marsh also congratulated the P. T. A. members on their good attendance and their work.

Mrs. Hodge announced that on Tuesday, October 7th, at 9:30 a. m. Dr Mary Mims will talk to the members of St. Matthew's P.-T. A., in the auditorium of the school.

It was announced that the District P.-T. A. meeting will be held on October 13th, in Lake Providence and all committee chairmen were urged to attend.

Volunteers for work on the Community Chest drive were called for.

St. Matthew's P.-T. A. received an attendance certificate at the Twin City P. T. A. School of Instruction for having as many as eleven members present and also the attendance certificate for having the largest number of members present.

Fluorescent lights have been installed in all the class rooms of the school by the P.-T. A. The project for this year is the improvement of the Cafeteria and Domestic Science room.

The room count awards went to the fifth grade in grammar school and the seniors of the high school.

The following committee chairmen were appointed to serve for this year; Membership, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn; Program, Mrs. Vincent Marsala; Hospitality, Mrs. M. J. Renaud, Mrs. R. J. Duran, Mrs. J. P. McDonald, Mrs. L. McCarthy; Publicity, Mrs. Burl Hollis; School Lunch, Sister Loretta; Room Mothers, Mrs. E. L. Ritter; Founders' Day, Mrs. Roy Colquette, Mrs. James Scalia; Magazines and Publications, Mrs. Joe Maggio, Mrs. R. L. Esdorn, Mrs. J. V. Jones; Welfare, Mrs. J. G. Eberts, Mrs. Nick Jungina, Mrs. A. L. Embanato; Safety, Mrs. J. B. Eaton, Mrs. Henry Crawford, Mrs. O. E. Lomineck; Goals, Mrs. Albert Theriot; Study Group, Mrs. E. P. Jenevein, Mrs. John Browne; Summer Round Up, Mrs. Hugh Biggar, Mrs. Fred Ammons; Emergency, Mrs. T. W. Hardy; Procedure and By-Laws, Sister Dorthea; Legislature, Mr. Everett Burgoyne; Cafeteria, Mrs. Della Williamson; Budget and Finance, Executive Committee; Christmas Cards, Mrs. George Tonore, Mrs. G. H. Cunningham; Red Cross, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn; Girl Scouts, Mrs. Ed Pohlman, Mrs. R. L. Esdorn, Mrs. R. J. Duran, Mrs. J. P. McDonald, Mrs. Helen Hoeffler; P.-T. A. Council Representatives, Mrs. Stanley Hodges, Mrs. Charles Brogan, Mrs. Tom Mulhearn, Mrs. Joe Maggio, Mrs. John Spatafora, Mrs. E. P. Jenevein.

Miss Pat Shaughnessy gave a report on Pelican Girls' State in Baton Rouge, which she attended this summer.

Four Girl Scouts from Troop No. 24, Patricia Danna, Kathleen Debnam, Lynne Esdorn and Carol Tonore, with the help of placards, asked the members to aid in their used clothing drive. The clothing will be presented to the welfare committee for the underprivileged children.

After the meeting a conversational hour was enjoyed during which delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Renaud and her hospitality committee.

Concert Will Be Brilliant Event

Presentation Of Three Nationally Prominent Stars Of Interest Here

"Just think of supplying milk for a hundred or more children when I find it difficult to keep a supply on hand for just one!" remarked a woman who watched members of the Junior Charity League at work among the underprivileged children they are caring for. To obtain sufficient funds to enable them to care for these children means constant vigilance.

The next project sponsored by the Junior Charity League will be one of vast cultural importance and one that will engage the interest of young and old. On October 30 they will present three nationally famous stars in concert. To be able to present three stars in one concert is indeed a triumph for league members and especially when they are such headliners as Mimi Benzell, lovely young lyric coloratura soprano; Morton Gould, brilliant young American composer and pianist, and Wilbur Evans, baritone, star of "Up in Central Park."

Miss Benzell made her debut in a Mozart role and ever since that time has scored triumphs in New York and on the road with the Metropolitan Opera Company as Philine in "Mignon," as Gilda in "Rigoletto," Micaela in "Carmen," and Musetta in "La Boheme."

Morton Gould at the age of 17 was acclaimed as an outstanding pianist and composer. Following a period of concertizing, he entered the radio field and has since become well known to audiences in every part of the country.

Wilbur Evans, handsome baritone, took up singing and dancing because his family thought it would be a "nice avocation" for him. He's made that avocation a vocation.

Winning a scholarship at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, Mr. Evans started the study of serious music, preparing for concert, opera and oratorio. During his second year of study there, he won the first prize of five thousand dollars in the Atwater Kent radio contest. This was just the impetus that the young singer needed to launch his career for on that night the radio audience was estimated at thirty million—which isn't a bad Hooper rating for anybody! Completing his studies at Curtis, he attained his bachelor of music degree and then launched into the arduous work of being a traveling troubadour. His concert appearances have covered cities and towns in every state, except North Dakota, and four provinces in Canada.

Miss Monroe Is Bride Of H. M. Rhodes

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney James Monroe announce the marriage of their daughter Sidney Raye to Mr. Herbert M. Rhodes III of Waterproof, La., in Alexandria, La., September 5.

Mrs. Rhodes is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School and received her B. S. degree at La. Tech in Ruston. She was a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. At present she is a member of the Ouachita Parish High School faculty.

"MEET FRIENDS WHERE FRIENDS MEET"

Many years ago The Rendezvous opened its doors to the public, believing there was adequate space and facilities to take care of its growth for many years to come. Before many months we found that our building was much too small to accommodate the tremendous growth we enjoyed, and we were soon faced with the problem of finding equipment and building materials to build additional rooms and enlarge our building. Due to the national conflict this seemed impossible. Our patrons and friends who went through the ordeal of standing in line for entrance to our dining room were real soldiers and for their cooperation we are grateful. But today we have remedied this situation and now have one of the very finest restaurants and cocktail lounges to be found in the entire South. We cordially invite you to visit us Monday . . . the formal opening of the new and large Rendezvous.

WELCOME BRANCH BOOK CLUB MEMBERS HEAR MISS HAIR IN TWO VOCAL NUMBERS

An interlude of beautiful music was enjoyed by members of the Welcome Branch of the Twentieth Century Book Club when they met in the home of Mrs. T. H. Scott with Miss Sara Hair, guest artist. Her lyric soprano voice was heard to splendid advantage in "Little Star" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," with her former teacher, Mrs. Dean Selig, piano accompanist.

Mrs. A. R. Doughty was co-hostess on this occasion. The president, Mrs. A. J. Speer, introduced several guests invited to hear Miss Hair sing. They were: Mrs. Robert Dumm, Miss Joyce Payne, Mrs. D. B. Norris, Mrs. W. Carroll Summer, Mrs. Cyril Yancy, Mrs. Robert Pryor and Mrs. Ella Long.

The program was opened by Mrs. Henson Coon, the program chairman. In keeping with the program, the entire club sang "Old Folks At Home." Mrs. A. S. Gunter gave an interesting review of the book, "Letters From Lee's Army." The book is composed of letters from one of Lee's soldiers and letters from the Confederate home front. They are memories of life in and out of the army in Virginia during the War Between the States, compiled by Susan Leigh Blackford, annotated by Charles Minor Blackford, edited and abridged by Charles Minor, III. The Blackfords were, it seems, not only a gallant but a literary and history-minded family. These letters that Susan and Charles wrote each other were consciously designed to furnish a record of a later history and, so, too, the intermittent diaries that they kept. In 1894 Susan Blackford put all these together, filled gaps connecting narratives and printed them privately. It is in every way a family chronicle, no less interesting for its pictures of the impact of the war. In Mrs. Blackford's letters were read the bitterness and tragedy of war rather than its dramatics.

Mrs. Gunter urged the members to read "Letters From Lee's Army" for interesting as well as historical reading.

The second part of the program was given to Mrs. E. A. Porter, who read a paper taken from the September issue of Harper's Magazine, written by Henry Steele Commager, entitled "Who Is Loyal In America." Mr. Commager cites the recent hysterical outbursts of individuals and groups, whose reactions to speeches given by a Russian-born woman to students in Washington, D. C. It was interpreted as pro-Russian and pro-Communist. It was reprinted for us in the Congressional Record. A careful analysis of the speech failed to find anything which had not been said and written a thousand times before. Loyalty to America has not been clearly defined but now patterns of Americanism and loyalty contrary to those long traditional are constantly being formulated by patriotic groups, by state and local authorities throughout the country — where so-called disloyal employes are being weeded out. Loyalty is a tradition, an ideal and a principle. It is allegiance to the traditions that have guided our greatest statesmen and inspired our most eloquent poets.

After the program delicious refreshments were served to the guests and the following members: Mrs. F. E. Black, Mrs. John D. Calhoun, Mrs. H. V. Collins, Mrs. Henson Coon, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. F. W. Dawson, Mrs. A. R. Doughty, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. E. C. Gibson, Mrs. R. R. Griffith, Mrs. A. S. Gunter, Mrs. M. R. Hausherr, Mrs. J. G. Hicks, Mrs. H. D. Holmes, Mrs. Robert W. Irby, Mrs. Tom Jitt, Mrs. E. E. Lawson, Mrs. Harry Moore, Mrs. W. D. McGee, Jr., Mrs. J. E. McConnell, Mrs. J. D. Petty, Mrs. F. H. Peterson, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. E. A. Porter, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. Dean Selig, Mrs. Zell Smith, Mrs. A. J. Speer, Mrs. C. S. Swain, Mrs. A. C. Warner, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. J. R. White, Mrs. Richard Whitehurst and Mrs. E. J. Whitman.

STATE AND LOCAL PRESIDENTS OF B. AND P. W. CLUB

Mrs. Gladys Miles, left, of this city, will be one of the speakers at the annual dinner party on the terrace of the Frances hotel next Wednesday night when members of the local Business and Professional Women's Club will celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversary. Mrs. Miles is state president of the Louisiana Federated B. and P. W. Clubs. Miss Bessie McDonald, to the right, is president of the local club and will preside at the dinner party Wednesday night.

Purely Personal

These hectic days have their shining hours and especially for brides-to-be, two of whom have discovered that October, the golden month of the year, is the ideal time for a wedding. Miss Byrnie Handy's wedding will take place on October 11 and Miss Pauline Breard's on October 22. Both brides-to-be are attractive members of the younger set. Miss Handy has beautiful black wavy hair and Miss Breard's hair is a lovely golden color making it difficult to decide whether or not one prefers blondes or brunettes. At a recent dinner party Miss Handy wore a lime colored crepe evning model fashioned with a hood studded in gold sequins. Green, we decided, is the best color of all for brunettes.

Miss Breard, attending a recent evening affair in her honor was equally as beautiful in a gown of pomegranate silk jersey.

Miss Breard tells us that her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Bryan Pugh the third, accompanied by her three lovely children, Ann, Tommy and Elizabeth, of Amite, La., will arrive later in the week to sing at her wedding. Her beautiful voice will also be heard when she sings for the Handy-Smith nuptials next Saturday. Mrs. Pugh is the former Miss Nellie Breard, a great favorite here where she was born and reared.

Speaking of brides reminds us of a most important recipe for happiness written years ago by an anonymous writer and called "Husband Conserve." Here it is:

"Select the best man you can find and brush him carefully to rid him of any indifference. Be careful not to beat him as you would an egg or cream, for beating him will make him tough and apt to froth at the mouth.

Lift him gently into the home-preserving kettle and tie him with strong cords of affection which are not easily broken. Do not sear him with sarcasm, for that causes sputterings which may ultimately result in spontaneous combustion. Scramble when difficulties arise.

Do not soak him in liquor, for excessive draughts will make him mushy and spongy with your friends.

It is best to let him simmer tenderly at will, to blend tactfully with dressing and seasoning. Stuff him one hour before taking him out or before asking a favor of him.

Flavor him with oil of happiness, an ounce of understanding and a bushel of fun and laughter.

Should he seem weak or troubled with feminine infatuations, smother him in onions and double your charm.

Do not spoil him by over-indulgence, but serve him daily on a platter of strength and courage, garnished with clean shirts and collars."

Mr. and Mrs. John Spatafora combined business with pleasure when they flew to Los Angeles, California, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross diMaggio. Mr. diMaggio is the musical composer for the Columbia Studio and rearranged the music for the Al Jolson story. Mrs. diMaggio, whose stage name is Eda Edson is the dramatic coach for the stars. While in Los Angeles Mr. and Mrs. Spatafora were guests at Tom Brenneman's Breakfast in Hollywood. They visited the N. B. C. and Republic studios and were privileged to meet many of the stars.

Although Sara Hair was born and reared in Monroe she is now the typical New Yorker. For the past six years she has resided in New York where she is studying voice under Emelio Blozevic. Returning to Monroe last week for a short visit she delighted audiences and especially men's luncheon clubs with her beautiful lyric coloratura soprano voice. Miss Hair's love of the opera is one reason why she expects to always live in New York. She takes advantage of every oportunity presented to attend concerts and especially the Metropolitan Opera.

The encouragement Miss Hair receives from her voice teacher, Mr. Blozevic, keeps her properly inspired and creates a desire to attain the heights.

There is one date in particular on the October calendar music lovers of this city are watching with interest as it will bring to Monroe two favorites, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Anspaugh, who will be presented in concert under the auspices of the First Methodist Church on October 28. Mrs. Anspaugh, the former Eloise Temple, has made a special niche for herself in the musical world and especially in Chattanooga, Tenn., where she and Mr. Anspaugh are members of the faculty at the Conservatory of Music.

The congenial little group motoring to the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Tisdale after the Town Hall meeting last Monday night were charmed to meet the speaker, Dr. Gerald Wendt, socially, and to exchange ideas and opinions on weights subjects. Dr. Wendt, a most affable gentleman, was plied with questions and answered them with alacrity . . . he seemed to have all the answers at his fingertips. Dr. Wendt isn't an alarmist but he predicted, in case of another war, certain things that made his listeners shudder. Conversation took on a lighter vein however, when the guests gathered around the candlelit table in the dining room for refreshments. Dr. Wendt enthused over the three varieties of cake served by Mrs. Tisdale. They were her pet recipes and were truly delicious.

Doll House To Be Exhibited At The Fair

A doll house, completely furnished throughout, will add an attractive note to the exhibitions to be held at the Ouachita Valley Fair next week from Tuesday through Sunday. The house, which is being exhibited by the Girl Scouts, has a doorbell that rings, electric lights that burn and appropriate miniature furniture in every room of the structure.

The house will be used to demonstrate phases of scouting of the Brownie group, young Scouts who must demonstrate abilities at both cooking and home-making to win their merit badges. Dolls, dressed in Brownie uniforms, will be placed in the building to illustrate the Scout skills.

Mrs. A. Scott Hamilton and Mrs. George Miller are in charge of the booth.

An exhibit which will hold interest for most of the women attending the fair will be the rock garden shown by the Welcome Garden Club. The garden will illustrate the variety of plants which will grow in native soil, while an interesting collection of native rocks will complete the display. Mrs. H. E. Downing is in charge of the club project.

America's first shoemen, Thomas Beard and Isaac Rickman, arrived on the third voyage of the Mayflower in 1629.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jordan, of Downsville, were hosts to the annual family reunion of the Reddings, who gathered there recently to enjoy reminiscences of days past.

At the noon hour a sumptuous meal was served on long tables under the spreading trees on the lawn. Highlights of the meal was the excellent barbecue and fried chicken, served with all the trimmings.

Immediately following the lunch a program under the direction of Mrs Dallas Jordan opened with the singing of favorite hymns.

Rev. Herman Baggett brought a devotional entirely in keeping with the occasion. Following the devotional, W. W. Redding gave a brief talk setting forth the purpose of the annual meeting. "Bless Be the Tie That Binds" was sung by the assembly and the closing prayer was led by Mrs. W. J. Jordan.

Members of the family that were present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Redding and son, Clifford Ray; Mr. and Mrs A. F. Redding and family, Joyce, Willis, R. C., Violet, Bettye, and Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Redding and sons, Ivy and Prentice; Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Redding and daughter, Imogene; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Redding; Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Redding; Mr. and Mrs. Truett Freeman; Mr. and Mrs. Van Barret; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rogers and family, Richard, Charlotte and Sherry Ann; Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Heacock and family, Donald, Robert Andrew, Glenda Gail and Glenn Defoe; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jordan and Miss Clariece Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Willard Green and son, Willard Irvin; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jordan, Jr., and son, Ronnie; W. M. Redding, Mrs. Oma Jordan, Mrs. E. A. Richardson, Mrs. Georgia Greer, Miss Pauline Jordan, Alfred Jordan, Mrs. Jessie Atcheson and Rev. Herman Baggett.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Savage have returned from a two-week trip to California and the Hawaiian Islands via airway.

BRIDE OF RECENT DATE

Mrs. Herbert M. Rhodes the third, the former Miss Sidney Raye Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney James Monroe, whose marriage was an interesting event of recent date. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes are now at home at 305 Park avenue, this city.

People You Know--

Four charming visitors in the city on Saturday from Lake Providence, Mrs. Leon Minsky, Mrs. H. Guernard, Mrs. B. R. Burgoyne and Mrs. John Hester were entertained at luncheon at the La Casa by Mrs. Everett Burgoyne of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Oliver will return home the first of the week from New York City and Atlantic City where they were guests at the Marlborough-Blenheim during the American Banker's association convention.

Mrs. Norris Smith and three sons, Carroll, Jerry and Kenneth will leave October 9 for San Francisco, Calif., where they will board a steamer for Hawaii to join Sergeant Smith who is stationed at Hickman Field. They will make their home in Hawaii for one year.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Faulk returned home last Friday from New York City. Friends will rejoice to know that Mr. Faulk's sight has been restored following an operation on his eye. Enroute home they visited their daughter, Mrs. Monte Cone and Mr. Cone in Washington, D. C.

Sergeant and Mrs. Charles W. Edmonds announce the arrival of their first child, Larry William. Mrs. Edmonds was formerly Miss Pauline Williams of Winnsboro. Sergeant Edmondson is now stationed in Guam. He and his brother, James T. Edmonds, Jr., also stationed in Guam, saw active duty in the Pacific during the war.

"Back to School Night," Monday, October 6, is being eagerly anticipated by members of Lida Benton P. T. A. Dr. Mary Mimms, sociologist from the rural extension department at L. S. U. will be the guest speaker. Fathers are especially urged to be present to hear this brilliant speaker.

The meeting will terminate with a social hour. Parents who have not as yet enrolled with Lida Benton P. T. A. will be given the opportunity to do so at this time.

Mrs. Bernard Biedenharn, president of the board of control of the Ouachita Parish Public Library and Miss Frances Flanders, librarian are spending this week-end in Thibadeaux, where they will interview a manufacturer of Bookmobiles. The rural people of Ouachita parish are eagerly awaiting the Bookmobile service. The Board of Control is exerting every effort to secure one and have it in use soon after the first of the year.

ATTEND BREAKFAST IN HOLLYWOOD

Mrs. Jack Portman of this city is seen in the above picture in company with her son, Mr. Neil Gray, and her sister, Mrs. Albert Barr, of Hale, La., to the left and Mrs. J. W. Pistole of San Diego. Calif., to the extreme right. They formed a party attending Tom Breneman's breakfast in Hollywood. Mrs. Portman and Mrs. Barr returned recently from a visit in California.

Books To Read Now

People are often inclined to think that a library offers only late fiction and children's books as reading material. This is not true at all of the modern library. Even with it's limited funds the Ouachita Parish Public Library has always managed to buy a few non-fiction books. However, the collection was weak in many respects. After the successful passage of the library tax, Miss Flanders, the librarian began at once to buy non-fiction books to fill long felt needs. In this article you will find information about books on a variety of subjects, there may be one that you need. All of these books can be obtained at either branch of the Ouachita Parish Public Library.

One of the brides of the past summer reported that the newest book the library had about weddings, was published in 1929. Immediately the library purchased several copies of a brand new book, "Wedding Etiquette," by Marguerite Bentley. This book covers every phase of a large or small wedding. The announcement of the engagement, the wedding list, trousseau, parties, silver, wedding invitations and numerous other facts. Several of the fall brides have used the book and found it most useful. If you are planning to be married soon, don't miss "Wedding Etiquette," by Marguerite Bentley.

One of the best sellers of the period just before the war was "Berlin Diary," by William L. Shirer. Mr. Shirer has published another book, "End of a Berlin Diary." Many people will say: "I'm tired of war books." However, this is one which most thinking people will not want to miss. Mr. Shirer went back to Berlin after the war was over to find out what had happened during the time after he left there in 1940. As he puts it: "I went back to find out what happened after I left—indeed, first of all, what went on in secret during the tumultuous years I was there—and then what the physical damage has been and the moral damage and finally the state of the German spirit after defeat and collapse." Don't miss "End of a Berlin Diary."

A few years ago the home freezer unit was undreamed of. Today many people have them and others are buying them. The library has a new book that should be of vital interest to you, if you have a freezer, or want one. This is "The Home Freezer Handbook," by Gerald Stout. This book covers all phases of home freezing; the uses for freezers in the home; how much space a family needs; the cost of frozen foods, etc. The author discusses the merits of buying a freezer or building one. He tells you how to care for a freezer and finally tells how to prepare and preserve foods in a freezer. This is a book that should be interesting to men as well as women; to men from a building standpoint and to women from a preserving point of view.

Although pressure cooking has been in use for several years, there is still much to be learned about it. "Pressure Cooking," by Ida Bailey Allen. Mrs. Allen tells how to use a pressure cooker and a pressure pan; how to adapt a favorite recipe for pressure cookery; how to cook meats, game, vegetables, cereals and deserts. Anyone who owns a pressure cooker or pressure pan will get some wonderful ideas from reading "Pressure Cooking," by Ida Bailey Allen.

"Your Carriage, Madam!" by Janet Lane gives a new and practical slant to the idea of grace and posture. "Whether you spend your life in a limousine or a kitchen, a swivel chair or a ditch, you are shaping your body every minute," says Miss Lane. In this book she tells how to make every breath you take, every step you make, every push or every pull an exercise which, when properly done, will enable you to move through life smoothly and gracefully.

Other new non-fiction books that are worth your consideration are: "The Great Challenge," by Louis Fischer; "Calabashes and Kings," by Stanley Porteus; "The Hidden Weapon," by David L. Gordon; "The Aluminum Cartel," by Louis Marlio; "Dark December," by Robert Merriam, and "Trams," by Robert S. Henry. Each of these books should appeal to someone. Call at the library and look them over.

CENTRAL GRAMMAR P.-T. A. TO MEET

The Central Grammar P.-T. A. will have its regular meeting on Wednesday.

Dr. Mary Mimms, from the L. S. U. extension department, will speak at this meeting.

October is membership month, so all members are urged to attend and all others interested are cordially invited.

MRS. DURWOOD GRIFFIN IS NAMED HONOR GUEST AT DINNER AT THE LA CASA

A charming courtesy was extended Mrs. Durwood Griffin, bride of recent date, when Mrs. Arthur Tidwell, Mrs. Arthur Tidwell, Jr., and Mrs. Vernon LaCour entertained in her honor at dinner at the La Casa.

The dinner table, of beautiful appointment, reflected a bridal theme. White gladioli were arranged in the shape of a wedding ring fluted around with white tulle and loops of white satin ribbon. A four-course chicken dinner was served. Unusually appetizing and artistic was the fruit salad molded in the form of a white rose.

A conversational hour was enjoyed later over the coffee cups in the living room. Mrs. Griffin was wearing a stunning black crepe dinner model.

Those present, in addition to the hostesses and Mrs. Griffin, were: Mrs. J. E. Griffin, Miss June Griffin, Miss Hazel Mitchell, Mrs. Fred Mitchell, Mrs. Harry Lemert, Mrs. Louis Turner, Mrs. William Green Haynes, Miss Cora Stovall, Miss Ada Bess Hart, Miss Frances Kelso, Mrs. Frank Breese, Miss Josephine McCranie, Mrs. Clayton Stanhope, Mrs. J. W. DeArman.

Winnsboro

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist Church entertained the faculty of Winnsboro High and Grammar School and the Wesleyan Service Guild, business and professional women's organization of the church, in a chicken and spaghetti supper Wednesday night in the basement of the church.

Mrs. C. W. Berry, president of the Woman's Society, welcomed the guests and served as toastmaster. Miss Marguerite Landis responded for the teachers and Miss Roxie Killian for the Wesleyan Service Guild.

After the meal, Mr. W. B. Glover, recently elected superintendent of education but principal of the Winnsboro High School last year, was called on for a few remarks. Mrs. Lois Lay rendered two numbers on the piano. The Woman's Society seemed pleased with the fine response to their invitation as guests included most of the teachers and Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Price. Mr. Price recently succeeded Mr. Glover as principal of the school. The invocation and benediction were offered by the Rev. Minns S. Robertson, pastor.

School Faculty Honor Guests At Afternoon Tea

The Lionette Pep Squad honored members of the Ouachita Parish High School faculty with a tea on the afternoon of Saturday, September 27, at the home of the president, Miss Jo Chisholm. Receiving the guests were Miss Chisholm, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, and Miss Anna Lois Sackett, the vice-president. Miss Jane Moore and Miss Louise Harris presided over the guest book.

The dining room table reflected the school colors with a beautiful centerpiece of red gladioli, white aster, and tuberoses. The guests were served by candlelight furnished by long, white tapers on either side of the centerpiece. Adorning the living room, were lovely arrangements of peach gladioli on the mantlepiece and the coffee table.

Miss Ellen Fontenot and Mrs. Helen LeFevre, club sponsors, were presented with corsages by the Lionettes.

From four to six refreshments, consisting of hot tea, coffee, variously shaped sandwiches and red and white iced cookies, were served to approximately eighty guests.

Performing the courtesies were: Mrs. Sybil Lee and Misses Patsy Lee, Pat Ann Rector, Helen Prothro, Sharon Anderson, Mary Coates, Beryl De Loach, Elizabeth Tillman and Martha Boyd.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Francis Julian Brondum, 26, and Vivian Walker Boyte, 22, both of Monroe.

V. C. Tucker, 46, Monroe, and Gladys Fisher, 37, Robeline.

Earl E. Roush, 19, and Ann Rona Lovett, 22, both of Monroe.

Micheal Robert Devereaux, 26, and Marie Oler Peterson, 24, both of Monroe.

Secretaries Hold Meeting

"Savings and Investment" was the theme of the program featuring the last meeting of the Monroe chapter of Secretaries International in the home of Mrs. Johnetta Willhite.

Miss Edyth Gunby of the Ouachita National Bank gave an interesting explanation of savings bonds, including Series E, F, and G, and coupon bonds. She stated that the Series E bond had more advantages and was a better investment for the average secretary. She also described various other methods of saving, such as Christmas savings funds.

Mrs. Ed Harper, real estate agent, listed a number of the more important features to look for when buying real estate for either investment or as a home, such as the locality, the foundation of the house, transportation facilities, et cetera. She gave some interesting examples of present day difficulties in buying and selling homes, bringing out the scarcity and high prices of homes in the Monroe area as compared with the surrounding country.

The talks given by these two guests were enjoyed so much and so many questions asked them that no time was left for the regular business session. A special meeting took place later at the home of Mrs. Lena Wallace, first vice president of the chapter.

A beautiful salad plate was presented to the hostess by the chapter members as a wedding gift.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members and their guests: Miss Gunby and Mrs. Harper, Grace King, Alice Chilton, Mary Frances Griffin, Mrs. Newport, Vicci Bennett, Helen Youngblood, Lena Wallace, Lois Hollingsworth, and Helen McDaniel.

"Unreality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, October 5, 1947.

The Golden Text is: "The hills melted like wax at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth. The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory" (Ps. 97:5,6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high-minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy" (I Tim. 6:17).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Of a man it has been said, 'As he thinketh in his heart, so is he;' hence as a man spiritually understandeth, so is he in truth" (p. 213).

Miss Smelser Weds Mr. Ware

The Interest Of Friends Centered In The Marriage Of Young Couple

Announcement is made today of the marriage of Miss Carolyn Smelser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smelser of West Monroe, and Mr. Alfred Omar Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Ware of this city, Saturday, September 20, at the First Christian Church with the pastor, Rev. R. T. Watson, officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with white gladioli overflowing from tall garden baskets and white urns placed at vantage points. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch entwined with southern smilax.

While the guests were being seated, the organist, Mr. Max Kulcke, rendered a nuptial concert and accompanied the soloist, Mr. E. M. Wooten, who sang in beautiful tenor voice, "I Love You Truly" and "Because." He also sang, during the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer."

The matron of honor, Mrs. W. V. Everritt, the bride's sister, wore a lovely model of aqua crepe trimmed in gold nailheads. Her accessories were of black and she wore a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mr. Max Kulcke, Jr., served as best man.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful advanced fall model of Madonna blue light weight wool trimmed in silver nailheads. Her hat of navy blue was trimmed with a Madonna blue ostrich feather. Her accessories were of navy blue and she wore a corsage of orchids and tuberoses.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held at the Ware home on Pargoud drive. Beautiful flowers adorned the living room and dining room, en suite.

The bride and groom, before departing for their honeymoon in New Orleans, cut their wedding cake. It was a luscious confection, beautifully embossed and placed at one end of the bride's table.

A variety of confections were served.

The guests were privileged at this time to view the handsome wedding gifts on display.

The bride is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School. She is cashier at Field's Ready-to-Wear shop.

Mr. Ware is a graduate of the Ouachita Parish High School and Northeast Junior College. He is also a graduate of the University of Arkansas and is a member of Sigma Phi Omega and Alpha Chi Sigma fraternities. He is associated with the Louisiana Power and Light Company, Sterlington, La., as a chemical engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ware are now at home at number 8 Fox Court.

BAPTIST GROUP TO MEET

MARION, Oct. 4. — (Special) — The Everett Baptist Association will hold its annual meeting at Marion on Thursday and Friday, October 9 and 10. The association is composed of some 25 or 30 Baptist churches in this section.

MISS MARY NORMANSELL

Miss Normansell's engagement to Herbert G. Cooper, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert G. Cooper, of Monroe, La., is announced by her mother, Mrs. C. Normansell, Collinsville, Ill.

MARRIAGE OF MISS SNOW AND MR. BABER OF INTEREST TO WIDE CIRCLE OF FRIENDS

The interest of a wide circle of friends is centered in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Fannie Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Snow, of Sulphur Springs, Tex., and Mr. Bill Baber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baber, of this city.

The ceremony took place in the beautiful gardens of the Snow home at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, September 3, with Dr. C. Wade Freeman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performing the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. Prenuptial music was rendered by Mrs. Prue Teer Poole, pianist, and Miss Jerry Lemon, vocalist, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Candles were lighted by Charles Teague, of Mt. Vernon, and Ralph Randolph, of Winnsboro, who also served as ushers.

The improvised altar of greenery was arranged in an archway in the garden. Flanking the altar arrangement were tall, white floor baskets filled with white gladioli and tied with white satin ribbon bows. Branched candelabra held lighted cathedral tapers which cast the only illumination for the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a period gown of white marquisette, designed with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves which came to petal points over her hands, and closely fitted bodice. A full ruffle of the marquisette at the waistline which also extended down either side of the frock formed a slight bustle effect. Her very full hoop-skirt extended into a slight train, and her finger-tip length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a bandeau of orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, and her shower bouquet was fashioned of white carnations and tuberoses.

Mrs. Ivie L. Coppedge attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a gown of yellow marquesette, designed with sweetheart neckline, closely fitted bodice, full hoop-skirt and short sleeves. She wore a bandeau of yellow marquisette and her arm bonquet was of deep pink carnations and chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gus Joliff, of Wichita Falls, sister of the groom, and Miss Sarah McDonald, of Sulphur Springs, wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor of sea-green marquisette. Their bandeau were of marquisette and their arm bouquets of vari-colored daisies and dahlias.

Johnny Folmar of Pickton attended Mr. Baber as best man.

At the reception immediately following the wedding ceremony the bride's table was overlaid with white satin damask and centered with a crystal bowl of white daisies and chrysanthemums on a mirror plaque. White satin ribbons caught with sprays of white blossoms radiated from the centerpiece, which was flanked by crystal candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

The three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully embossed, was surmounted with bride and groom figurines and placed at one end of the table. At the other end was placed the crystal punch bowl, presided over by Mrs. Johnny Folmar and Miss Lucille Shamburger. They were assisted by Miss Gladine Ray and Mrs. Lewis Jones. Miss Mary Alice McDonald was in charge of the bride's book.

Mrs. Snow, the bride's mother, wearing a lovely aqua crepe model and Mrs. Baber, the groom's mother, wearing a becoming navy blue model with navy accessories, assisted in receiving. They both wore a corsage of carnations.

Miss McIntosh Is The Bride Of Mr. Edwards

The home of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. McIntosh of Darnell was the scene of a beautiful wedding when their daughter, Bertha Lou, became the bride of John Miller Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards of Farmerville.

The Rev. R. L. Clayton of the iFrst Methodist church, Oak Grove, officiated.

A large mirror over the mantel reflected the improvised altar banked with white gladioli and flanked by candelabra supporting tall white tapers.

The traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Jack Willis of Monroe as Fred Lee Barnes lighted the candles. She also accompanied Miss Bettie Rinehart, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of pale pink mousseline fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a bouffant skirt. A veil of illusion was caught to the hair with a chaplet of orange blossoms. She carried a white lether Bible surmounted with a spray of white carnations.

Mrs. Wayne McNutt was her sister's only attendant. She wore a floor-length gown of blue and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses, gladioli and carnations.

Cloyd Edwards of Monroe attended his brother as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held.

The bride's table was overlaid with white lace. A central floral arrangement of pink carnations, heather and fern was flanked by slender pink candles burning in crystal holders.

The three-tiered brides cake was topped with bride and groom figurines. Miss Lillian Edwards of Baton Rouge, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Fred Lee Barnes of Monroe presided at the cake service.

The guest book was presided over by Mrs. Wiley Heath.

Following the reception the couple left on a wedding trip. For traveling Mrs. Edwards chose a gray suit of wool gabardine with green accessories. Her hat was gray with green scarf.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwards are both graduates of La. Tech, Ruston.

Out of town guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnes, Mrs. Jack Willis, Miss Bettie Rinehart, Boyd Gauthier of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blackstock of Sterlington; Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Lancaster, St. Joseph; Mr. and Mrs. Joh. Hester and Carol, of Lake Providence; Mrs. Edgar McNutt, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McNutt, Cheneyville; Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meeks and Mrs. Poncare Rabun of Farmerville; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Mack McIntosh, Mrs. Clyde Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hope and David McIntosh of Oak Grove; Miss Lillian Edwards, Baton Rouge; Mrs. Iva K. Bain and Mrs. Barbara Jane Johnson of Pioneer.

AFTER HE'S 66, GLASS WINS SUCCESS IN LOCAL BUSINESS

Oldest Watch Repairman Hereabouts, Gives Wife Full Credit

The seemingly impossible has been accomplished by Barney Gibbs Glass, of 109 Adams Street, Monroe, who married a Ruston woman when he was 66 years of age, and when $10 represented their combined savings. Now, 18 years later, he has a sizeable bank account, well up in four figures, $3,000 in war bonds, a home paid for in full and owes no man a penny. Furthermore, he has a well-established jewelry business which has been the source of his financial success.

However, he attributes his improved financial condition to the well-directed and sound business frugality of his wife who has worked right at his side now for the near two decades of married life. At the present time, nearing the age of 84, Mr. Glass believes he is the oldest active jewelry repair man in Louisiana and perhaps in the United States.

The life history of Mr. Glass has recorded many ups and downs. He was born in Bellview, Ark., December 7, 1863, and his early education was neglected. In fact he admits he never attended school a day in his life, his mother dying when he was five years of age and his stepmother imparted to him all the early education he ever received. A sorrow that entered his early life was when a sister was burned to death at their home.

Of adventuresome nature, at 14 years of age, he ran away from home, lured by tales of the great golden west. Out in far western Texas, he worked for a man named Colonel Dean, owner of an extensive range and 10,000 head of cattle. The life of cowboy was alluring and young Glass followed this line for about seven years. He can relate tales of warfare with the Indians and many hair-breath escapes.

About the age of 22, Glass wandered to McKinney, Tex. There he was thrown in contact with Henry Duland, a skilled watch repair man, who instantly took a liking to the youth and taught him his trade, the line which he has followed now for 62 years.

As the years have passed over his head, he has at times lived in cities and towns and plied his trade in no less than half of the states of the Union in satisfying his roving nature. By an early marriage, he has still living today, three daughters, who live in Laurel, Miss., San Diego, Calif., and Los Angeles, Calif., An only son lives in West Monroe today. He is Samuel Preston Glass. Through the years he made good money many times but failed to pile up any considerable reserve.

He landed in Monroe in March, 1926, and has followed his line as watchrepairer continuously to the present time.

At the age of 66, when most men think of retiring, he met, by accident, when in a hospital, Miss Addie Goolsby, of Lincoln parish, who was at the time a patient in the same hospital. A hospital romance followed and they were married. She was a former Lincoln parish school teacher and her entry into Glass' career resulted in the turning of a new and more substantial financial condition. From then on, he accorded her the credit for all subsequent successes.

Four years ago he purchased a modest little home at 109 Adams Street and erected a small frame building in the yard as his place of business.

Throughout the war he was able to repair watches when most Monroe jewelers were handicapped by lack of materials. He had forseen the coming clouds of war and had purchased fully $4,000 worth of parts for watches of all standard makes and was able to carry on his business with little or no interruption, and in this way he was able to pay for his home, buy bonds and establish a goodly bank account.

Mr. Glass has as yet no thought of retiring, although he is financially able to do so. He is of modest nature and his business is his chief entertainment. Once he belonged to the Woodmen of the World and Odd Fellows, but he has dropped out of these affiliations. In religion he is, as is his wife, a "Hardshelled Baptist." They used to attend services quite regularly but he sold his car when he was offered a tempting price and now, without transportation, they attend church with less regularity.

"If you write me up," he told a World reporter, "give all credit to my wife, for she is the one who has put me on my feet. I owe everything to her conscientious and constant foresight and industry."

'LOUISIANA' TO BE SHOWN HERE

Famous Southern Drama Will Be Seen At Paramount All This Week

The premiere of the great southern drama, "Louisiana," which is the life story of Governor Jimmie Davis, will be given in Shreveport today, before large and enthusiastic audiences, it is assured, and the same play will be presented at the Paramount in Monroe on Monday to run here for a solid week.

The story tells of the rise of a share-cropper's son to a position as a college professor and later to the governorship of a great state.

In the life story Governor Davis, the song-writing, song-singing chief executive of the state portrays himself in the leading role and Margaret Lindsay co-stars as his wife.

Jimmie Davis as a boy (Ralph Freeto) is a music-loving son of a Louisiana sharecropper. By the time he is 14, he is filled with a desire to obtain a good education. Encouraged by his parents (Eddy Waller and Mary Field) he works his way through high school and college. He becomes a member of the faculty at Dodd College in Shreveport and in this city he meets Charlie Mitchell (John Gallaudet), a band leader, who is destined to become Davis' executive assistant when the latter is elected governor of Louisiana.

Through Mitchell, Davis meets Alvern Adams (Margaret Lindsay) and marries her. He gives up teaching, becomes a city court clerk and spends his spare time composing ballads and hillbilly songs.

Despite the financial success he meets in song writing, his wife persuades him to launch upon a political career and he campaigns for and wins the office of Shreveport police commissioner. He is later offered the support of a powerful political machine in a campaign for governor, but refuses it.

Without that machine backing, he does not believe he can be elected, although his wife has a different opinion. At her insistence he makes the race and wins election.

BUSY SCOUTING MONTH SLATED

All Troops And Packs Active In Closing Days Of Roundup

J. W. Webster, chairman of the Central District Boy Scout committee stated today that the Scouts and leaders of Central District had planned a busy month of service, activities and meetings.

Scouts of troops 28, 32 and 67 are assisting with ushering at N. J. C football games. Scouts of troops 28, 32, 34, 31, 10 and 13 will assist in the current Community Chest campaign by placing posters on telephone poles over the Twin Cities.

All troops and packs are active in the closing days of the second annual Scout and Cub Scout roundup, Mr. Webster stated, and many new members have been added.

Members of the Central District Scouting committee have been asked to meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. on the second floor of the courthouse for an important meeting.

A court of honor for Scouts of the Twin Cities will be held on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Central Grammar School. Advancement Chairman Judge Jesse Heard will preside. One Eagle Scout award will be presented. The recipient of Scouting's highest award will be Scout Tom D. Wafer, Jr., son of Veteran Scoutmaster Tom D. Wafer, of troop 67, at Sterlington. Judge W. M. Harper will make the presentation.

A scoutmasters roundtable meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 14, at the Boy Scout office in the courthouse.

Chairman Webster called to the attention of all friends of scouting that the work of scouting in Ouachita parish is supported by the Twin City Community Chest. "We are most grateful to the Twin City Community Chest for this generous support of our work," Mr. Webster said, in urging all citizens to give liberally to the Community Chest in its current campaign.

Louis Bleriot made the first crossing of the English channel in a powered airplane in 1909.

TECH HOMECOMING QUEEN IS CHOSEN

RUSTON, La., Oct. 4.—(Special)—Joan Bevill, Haynesville, has been selected as homecoming queen at Louisiana Tech, where she will be presented, with members of her royal court, at the Tech-Mississippi Southern football game Saturday, October 11.

Miss Bevill and a court of nine maids were selected by members of the T-club, Louisiana Tech student organization composed of athletic lettermen. Following her presentation at the football game, the queen, along with her royal escort and their court of followers, will preside at the annual homecoming dance, sponsored by the T-club.

Maids selected to accompany the queen include Bernice Anthony, Calion, Ark.; Maxie Billingsly, Homer; Elaine Burgess, Ruston; Ann Butler, Bunkie; Zippy Connella, Ruston; Jerelyn Garrett, Ruston; Jean Gray, Logansport; Jean Hewitt, Oakdale, and Rosemary McKellar, Plain Dealing.

Homecoming day highlights will include an assembly and pep meeting at 10 a. m., annual business meeting and election of officers of the Tech Alumni Association at 1:45 p. m., parade through downtown Ruston at 4 p. m., and a barbecue on the campus at 5:30 p. m.

The football game will begin at 8 p. m., and the dance will start at 10:15 p. m.

DELTA FAIR TO OPEN TUESDAY

Many Attractions, Horse Show And Rodeo Are Planned

TALLULAH, La., Oct. 4.—(Special)—W. F. Patton, chairman of the horse show, to be held in connection with the Louisiana Delta Fair, which opens October 7 and ends October 10, states that all details are being completed for the big attraction.

There will be a midway with many unusual acts and entertainments. Fine exhibits of corn and many other vegetables are to be displayed and there will be home canned foods, fine needlework and many prizes are to be awarded successful exhibitors.

The 4-H club members will have many activities and a 4-H club sale will be held Thursday afternoon from the 4-H booth.

Fine livestock will be on display. The horse show will be held October 7, and besides the horse show there will be a rodeo. Some of the best entertainers of the far west are to participate.

The brand new stadium and grandstand, all of steel, will be used for the first time. The officers of the fair, of which Jim G. Gilfoil is secretary-treasurer, cordially invite the public to attend.

E. A. PORTER, JR., HEAD BOOSTER

Missouri Pacific Club Names Local Man President

E. A. Porter, Jr., has been elected president of The Missouri Pacific Booster Club of Monroe. Mr. Porter is a machinist in the Missouri Pacific shops at Monroe, and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Porter, Sr.

He was born in Monroe February 1, 1918, and graduated from Menard Memorial School for Boys at Alexandria, later attending the University of Hawaii at Honolulu.

He entered the service of The Missouri Pacific in 1936 and left in 1941 to enter the navy at Honolulu, being present on the eventful Sunday morning, December 7, 1941, when Pearl Harbor was bombed by the Japanese. He left Hawaii in 1945 returning to Monroe as machinist. His father was the first chief Booster at Monroe and it is with great pride that young Porter follows in his father's footsteps.

He is married to former Navy Lieutenant (jg) Elizabeth Jones and lives at 412 Glenmar with his wife and daughter, Patricia Ann.

Mr. Porter is president of the International Association of Machinists, a member of the American Legion, Masons and the Presbyterian Church.

Shortly after his election as chief Booster, Mr. Porter called members of the executive committee to his father's home at 1014 North Second, where a delicious barbecue supper was served. At the special meeting, Mr. Porter appointed P. J. Newman in charge of publicity, R. O. Rogers in charge of entertainment and Joe Sanders, Jr., in charge of refreshments. The committee voted to hold regular meetings on the third Thursday of each month, but that the October meeting would be held on the fourth Thursday due to conflict with a meeting of the Missouri Pacific Woman's Club to be held on October 17.

Division Officials R. H. Dollar and A. J. Spear were present and promised to cooperate with the new chief Booster in every way possible to make his term of office a success.

It is the intention of the chief Booster and executive committee to make Monroe "Missouri Pacific" conscious in the future, letting the people of the city know that The Missouri Pacific has nearly 800 employes, with the greatest payroll in the city. Also that they have a modern railroad to serve them, and that they are fortunate in being the short line haul to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis, New Orleans and Houston. In addition to the freight and passenger business of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, the Boosters have the Missouri Pacific bus and trucks on the highways to augment the service.

Walter L. Wilson, dispatcher, was elected assistant chief Booster, and C. G. Alexander, depot ticket agent was elected secretary-treasurer.

HO-HO! OH, YOU'RE PERFECTLY RIGHT, OF COURSE! BUT THAT··· ···THAT JOE CHRISTMAS CHARACTER···

EXACTLY! HE HAS CHARACTER! HE JUST LIVES AND PRACTICES WHAT MOST OF US ONLY PREACH! I RECKON THAT CAN BE PRE'TTY BAD···TO LOTS O' PEOPLE···

AR-RUH! YOU HAVE VERY DISAGEABLE ATTITIE, IF I MAY SO!

YOU CAN SAY ANY DANG THING YOU PLEASE, SO LONG AS IT'S CIVIL! I GOT MY IDEAS!

WHY, HELLO, JOE! JUST TALKIN' ABOUT YOU···HEY···WHERE'S YER COAT?

JOE JUST GAVE IT TO A POOR BLIND MAN WHO DIDN'T HAVE ANY···

IS THAT A FACT? "IF THOU HAVE BUT A LITTLE, BE NOT AFRAID TO GIVE ACCORDING TO THAT LITTLE"··· HM-M··· YOU KNOW, JOE, PIETY TOLD ME TO BRING YOU HOME TO SUPPER···

THANK YOU! THAT IS A VERY WELCOME INVITATION···

HAROLD GRAY

WELL, JACK··· SUPERSONIC FLYING IS FOR KIDS IN THEIR EARLY TWENTIES, BUT SINCE YOU ARE THE ONLY PILOT···

···YOUNG OR OLD WHO HAS BEEN FOOLISH ENOUGH TO OFFER TO FLY THE XS-S-S-S, I'VE DECIDED TO LET YOU TEST IT!

SMILIN' JACK

LATER AS THE XS-S-S-S IS CARRIED ALOFT, FITTED UNDER THE BELLY OF A B-29, JACK MEDITATES:

I MAY BE A FOOL TO TRY TO TEST AN AIR-CRAFT OF SUCH RADICAL DESIGN!

···IT MAY DISINTEGRATE LIKE A HAND GRENADE WHEN I SET OFF THE FIRST SMALL ROCKET CHARGE!

···HOWEVER, IF I SURVIVE ALL OF THE REQUIRED ROCKET TESTS, I'LL RECEIVE $200,000!

···BUT I'LL ONLY HAVE A FEW THOUSAND LEFT AFTER I PAY THE INCOME TAX ON IT!

THE XS-S-S-S IS RELEASED AT 30,000 FT AND JACK DIVES IT TO TERMINAL VELOCITY SO THAT THE FAST MOMENTUM WILL HELP CUSHION THE SHOCK OF THE ROCKET CHARGE!

THE MONEY THAT I'LL CLEAR, IF I LIVE··· WILL BE ENOUGH SO THAT I CAN ASSUME AN AIR OF INDEPENDENCE AROUND SUPERSONIC SABLE!

···I'LL PROVE TO HER AND EVERY-BODY ELSE THAT I'M ON MY OWN AND NOT AFTER HER DOUGH!

AS JACK FIRED THE FIRST ROCKET HE FELT AS THOUGH EVERYBONE IN HIS BODY WAS BEING SHOVED BACK THROUGH THE SEAT BY THE TERRIFIC ACCELERATION!

···BUT THE PLANE HELD TOGETHER AND LATER JACK LANDED IT SAFELY!

LATR AT THE RESORT WHRE JACK SPENDS HIS VEEKENDS···

THE NERVE OF "THE HEAD" TO SEID ONE OF HIS AGENTS TOTHREATEN ME, BECAUSE I HAVEN'T MADE ANY PR@GRESS WITH SMILIN' JACK!

···"THE HEAD" HAS LEARNED THAT JACK HAS FLOWN THE XS-S-S-S AND IS NOW A WALKING VAULT OF VALUABLE SCIENTIFIC DATA!

···AND "THE HEAD" SAYS THAT IF I DON'T DELIVER JACK TO HIM WITHIN THE NEXT FEW DAYS, UNFORTUNATE THINGS WILL HAPPEN TO ME!

···I'M SICK OF BEING PUSHED AROUND BY THAT LITTLE REPULSIVE RAT··· SOMEDAY I'M GOING TO GET EVEN WITH HIM!

LATER AT DINNER MISS MISSILE SENDS JACK A NOTE···

Smilin' Jack Martin.
I'm the Blonde at the window table. Meet me on the terrace. I'm in desperate danger, and you are the only person who can help me. — Miss Missile

MY STARS, ALLEY! WHAT ON EARTH HAPPENED TO YOU?

AW, I TOOK A PEEK THROUGH THAT KEYHOLE TO SEE WHAT KIND OF A GAG OSCAR WAS RIGGIN' UP T'PULL ON ME! BUT, SHUCKS, A LITTLE WATER NEVER HURT NOBODY!

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

WATER? ARE YOU KIDDING? JUST TAKE A LOOK AT YOURSELF!

HOLY COW! INK! WHY, THAT DIRTY, LOW DOWN!!*3!

BY GADFRY, I'LL GET EVEN WITH THAT BEWHISKERED OL' STINKER! JUST WAIT!

NOBODY SQUIRTS INK IN MY EYE AN' GETS AWAY WITH IT-- NO, SIR!

I'LL THINK UP SUMPIN T'PULL ON HIM HE'LL NEVER FORGET--NOT TO HIS DYIN' DAY HE WON'T!

IF I COULD JUST GET OSCAR TO--NO, THAT WOULDN'T DO EITHER--- LESSEE NOW...

OSCAR, I'D THINK YOU'D BE ASHAMED OF YOURSELF--TORTURING OOP THE WAY YOU ARE!

I'D HARDLY DESCRIBE ANY OF THE ACTS OF MY LITTLE FEUD WITH OOP AS TORTURING HIM!

DAILY SO N SO

ANYWAY, IF THE DOPE HADN'T COME SNOOPING AROUND THAT KEYHOLE, HE WOULDN'T HAVE GOT A SNOOTFUL OF INK!

IT'S NOT THE INK AFFAIR I'M TALKING ABOUT...YOU'VE GOT THE POOR GUY TRYING TO THINK...

Captain Easy

ANOTHER WOLF ANGLING FOR AN INTRODUCTION!

I'LL RETURN THE SCARF TO MISS O'HARA MYSELF!

EH? OH--ER--

REALLY, CLYMENE VUMLEY! MUST YOU CREATE A SCENE?

EVEN THE RETURN OF A SCARF DROPPED ON SHIPBOARD IS A SUSPICIOUS ACT TO MRS. VUMLEY, WHO GUARDS HEIRESS ORCHID O'HARA FROM FORTUNE HUNTERS

T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

HE WAS JUST TRYING TO BE POLITE! THE NEXT TIME I SEE HIM I'LL APOLOGIZE-- IF HE'LL SPEAK TO ME!

HE MAY HAVE SEEMED POLITE TO YOU, MY DEAR, BUT HE DIDN'T FOOL ME!

ALSO REBUFFED BY MRS. VUMLEY, COL. McHOOLEY, A CONFIDENCE MAN, DECIDES TO MAKE A SECOND TRY

McHOOLEY STRATEGY IS THE ANSWER! I'LL PENETRATE THE DEFENSES SURROUNDING THE HEIRESS TO THE O'HARA MILLIONS!

STEWARD

SEAT ME BESIDE THE OLD BATTLE-AX AND FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTIONS I GAVE YOU!

OKAY, COLONEL, BUT IF THE CAPTAIN FINDS OUT I DID THIS, HE'LL MAROON ME ON A DESERT ISLAND!

WILL THERE BE ANYTHING ELSE, YOUR LORDSHIP?

HOW MANY TIMES MUST I TELL YOU NOT TO USE MY TITLE, MY GOOD MAN? CALL ME COLONEL McHOOLEY! I AM TRAVELING INCOGNITO!

LORDSHIP! GOOD HEAVENS!

I COULDN'T HELP BUT OVERHEAR, SIR! BUT YOUR SECRET IS SAFE! AND YOU MUST FORGIVE MY RUDENESS WHEN WE CAME ABOARD!

FORGIVENESS IS EASY, MADAM, WHEN IT CONCERNS SO CHARMING A LADY!

MAY I PRESENT YOU TO MY FRIEND, MISS O'HARA, COLONEL--

GOOD HEAVENS! SHE'S SLIPPED AWAY FROM ME!

DON'T MIND MRS, VUMLEY, CAPTAIN EASY! SHE'S MY CHAPERONE AND SHE'S SUSPICIOUS OF EVERYBODY-- THAT'S WHY I'VE BEEN SO LONESOME!

ORCHID!

10-5 COPR. 1946 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

I'VE TOLD YOU NEVER TO PICK UP STRANGE MEN!

CAPTAIN EASY ISN'T EXACTLY A STRANGER! HE'S A GOOD FRIEND OF J.P. McKEE--ONE OF FATHER'S BUSINESS PALS!

HMM! I MUST FIND A WAY TO FIT THIS FELLOW INTO MY PLANS!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

EGAD! WONDER IF I'LL BE LUCKY TODAY--- I'LL FLIP THIS COIN!

OOPS!

T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

DRAT! DOWN THE CHUTE WITH THAT COAL--- AND MY LAST QUARTER!

HEAVENS! THIS DARKNESS IS STYGIAN!

EUREKA! I'VE FOUND IT!--ON SECOND THOUGHT THIS FEELS LIKE A HALF DOLLAR!

IT IS A HALF DOLLAR --- A CLEAR PROFIT OF 100 PER CENT!--- AND TOMORROW WHY SHOULDN'T I COME BACK AND LOOK FOR THE QUARTER?

MAJOR HOOPLE

HM! I'LL ASK THE OWNER IF I CAN SEARCH HIS COAL BIN!

SIR, I DROPPED A PRICELESS RING DOWN YOUR COAL CHUTE --- MAY I GO DOWN AND LOOK FOR IT?

YEAH, IF YOU PROMISE NOT TO TAKE ANY COAL!

THIS MAY BE THE BEGINNING OF A VAST HOOPLE FORTUNE!

IF THAT'S HOOPLE, HE REALLY HAS SPRUNG A SEAM BETWEEN THE EARS, THIS TIME!

TARZAN

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

DISTANT RUMBLINGS OF THE SPENT VOLCANOES ECHOED AND RE-ECHOED AS THE SWIFT CURRENT CARRIED THE UNCONSCIOUS APE-MAN FAR FROM THE FIERY ISLAND OF KA-GOR.

SOON THE LIMP FORM OF TARZAN CAME TO REST IN THE SHALLOW WATERS OF A TIDAL INLET.

NEAR BY, IN A TREE-TOP, NKIMA, THE MONKEY, FORAGING WITH HIS TRIBE, HALTED--- AND PEERED DOWNWARD.

"TARZAN--THE TARMANGANI!" NKIMA CHATTERED EXCITEDLY. "TARZAN--- FRIEND!"

HOGARTH

THE HEADSMAN'S SWORD IS POISED. JIM SHOUTS, "STOP! I APPEAL TO THE SHAH! I HAVE A LETTER TO HIM!"

"THE SHAH IS WAITING FOR THIS MESSAGE! HE'LL PUNISH YOU!" JIM TRIES TO WORRY THE MULLAH. HAJ ALI EXPLODES: "INSOLENT WORM!"

"SEARCH THE LIAR! IF THERE'S A MESSAGE, GIVE IT TO ME!" HAJ ALI GROWLS. JIM LICKS HIS LIPS--THE MULLAH'S DRINKING WATER BURNS LIKE ALCOHOL!

Copr. 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

THE SHAH OF LOKISTAN ENTERS. "HAIL TO THEE, HAJ ALI. WHAT'S THIS ABOUT A MESSAGE?" THE MULLAH'S GUARD, CONFUSED, HANDS HIM JIM'S PASSPORT.

NEXT WEEK: JIM'S DOOM.

FLASH GORDON

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

FLASH IS SHOCKED WHEN KANG SLIPS THROUGH THE ROCKET-PATROL--AND ITS RAY-FIRE REDOUBLES. "QUICK, SULTRA GET UNDERGROUND!"

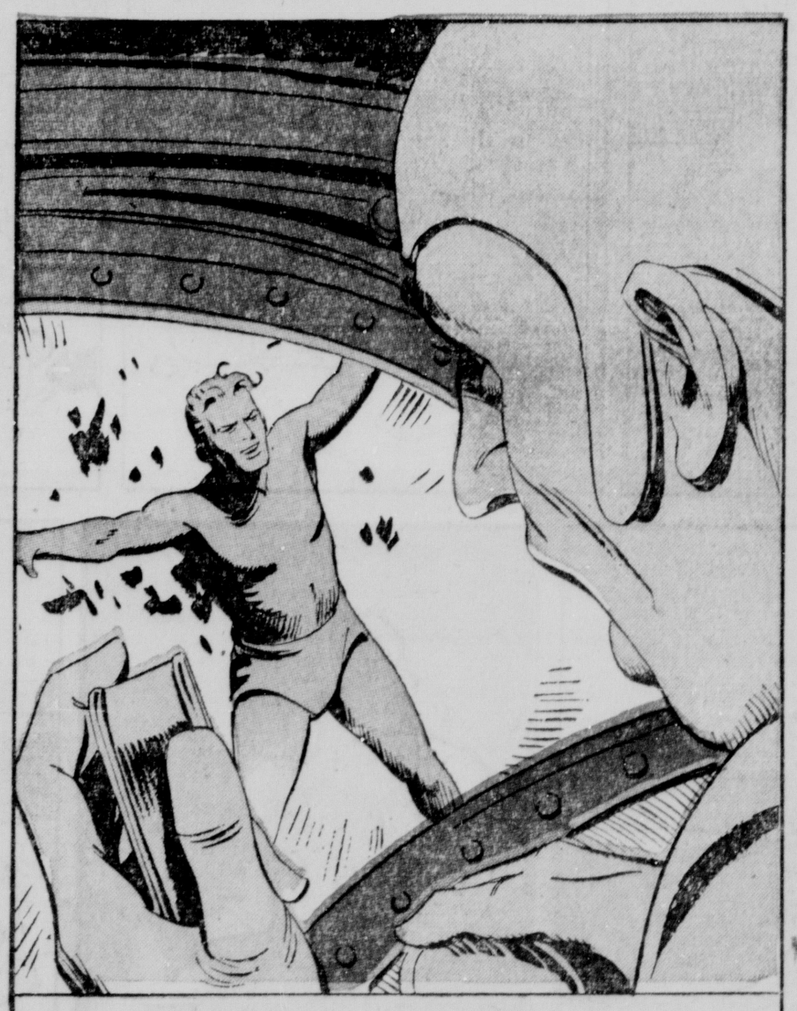

A RAY-BLAST WOUNDS DEFTO AS HE LETS THEM IN. HE EXPLAINS, "I'M REALLY A MONGO BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION AGENT, SENT TO GET INSIDE KANG'S GANG."

FLASH RUNS INTO THE RAY-ACTIVE HORROR-LAND THAT HAD BEEN A FOREST. THE RAY-BEAMS SWEEP TOWARD HIM TO KILL THIS FUGITIVE FROM KANG'S HIDE-OUT.

THE ROCKET-FLEET COMMANDER, CURIOUS, FOCUSES HIS TELESCREEN ON THE DOOMED MAN'S FACE. "BY TAO, IT'S FLASH GORDON! CEASE FIRE! LAND THE SHIP!"

"NEVER MIND ME," FLASH TELLS THE CONTRITE OFFICER. "YOU LET KANG GET AWAY IN THAT M.B.I. JETCAR. GO AFTER HIM!"
